4 DEAD, 7 HURT, IN DAY'S ACCIDENTS

Baby Dies in Auto Crash. Motors and Trolleys Injure Several Others

Three dead and seven more or less seriously injured in highway accidents in the record for Philadelphia and vicinity for the last twenty-four hours.

While driving her car near Middle-town, Del. Mrs. William L. Tyrens, 2041 Mutter street, tried to avoid a collision with another automobile, and as a result drove into the abutment of the Cattail bridge. The car was overturned and Mrs. Tyrens' fourteen-month-old son, William L. Jr., was instantly killed.

Mrs. Alice Woods, thirty-eight years old, died in the Presbyterian Hospital early today as the result of injuries sustained when she was struck by a trolley car at Forty-eighth street and Lancaster avenue.

Six-year-old John Smith, Jr., of South Media, died in the Methodist Hospital today as a result of injuries received by being run down by an automobile driven by Mrs. Maurice B. Saul, of Moylan, wife of Maurice B. Saul, in the divorce proceedings brought by the latter's wife.

The accident occurred Saturday evening. Mrs. Saul, accompanied by one of her little children, promptly picked her up and rushed it to the hospital. The case has been reported to coroner Charles F. Brown, in Fairbury, but it is not believed that Mrs. Saul will be prosecuted, because witnesses said Mrs. Saul was driving the car at a moderate speed and the child ran in front of the machine.

Francis and Elizabeth Broad, sisters, eighteen and twenty years old, respectively, 2529 East Venango street, were injured when the automobile in which they were riding last night with Lawrence Kowalski, 2572 Orthodox street, and Joseph Barinski, 2612 Milnor street, collided with a car driven by William Hazard, of Trenton, N. J. The boys were taken to Frankford Hospital. Hazard surrendered to the police.

Howard Aaronson, five years old, 1150 Baring street, and Melvin Birchall, three years old, Kaighn and Mount Ephraim avenues, Camden, were struck by cars in that city and suffered serious injuries. The left leg of the older boy was broken, while the younger was fired about the body. Young Birchall was struck by a trolley belonging to Martin Campbell, 1016 South Tenth street, and Aaronson by a car belonging to George Hiett, 127 North Twenty-seventh street, Camden.

Michael Anaka, thirty-nine years old, of 2622 Erie street, was hurt so badly he died when he was caught and crushed in a coal conveyor at the United Gas Improvement Company's plant at Thirty-second street and Passunk avenue.

RAILROAD HELD LIABLE

At Fault for Injury to Pullman Passenger, Justice Brown Rules

A railroad company may be held liable for negligence in sleeping cars in its trains, according to an opinion handed down today by Chief Justice Brown, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, who reversed the judgment of the Court of Common Pleas No. 1 that non-suited a case of Joseph N. Rogers against the Philadelphia and Reading Railway.

Rogers, alighting from a Pullman sleeping car, fell and was injured. It is testified that the porter failed to put a stool under the step. The lower court decided that his action was against the Pullman Palace Car Company and not the railroad.

The well-settled and universally recognized rule as to the liability of the railroad company for the negligence of its porter or conductor on a Pullman car is stated in "Moore on Carriers," reads the opinion of Justice Brown, which further points out that a jury should settle the railroad's contention that Rogers did not exercise due care in alighting.

U. S. ORDNANCE BASE BUILDING IN FRANCE

Huge Plant Costing $25,000,000 Will Include Great Repair Shops

WASHINGTON, March 4.—An ordnance base costing approximately $25,000,000 is under construction in France and is well under way, the War Department announced today.

It will include about twenty large storehouses, twelve shop buildings, 100 smaller shops and magazines and machine and tool equipment costing about $2,000,000.

Approximately 150 officers and 16,000 men will be required for the maintenance of the base. Eight thousand of these men had been enlisted by January 1.

More than 800 guns may be repaired each month at this base. Besides this gun-repair plant, the base will include a large carriage repair and motor-vehicle repair plant, capable of overhauling more than 1200 vehicles a month.

The main repair plant will have a capacity for repairing about 25,000 small arms and machine guns a month and there will be a large shop for the repair of infantry equipment and a loading plant capable of reloading about 100,000 artillery cases a day.

In addition to these there will be forge, carpenter, shop and other auxiliary buildings. Priority orders from the war industries board have placed much of the construction material and equipment in France. Actual construction of the base was begun several weeks ago.

The British army learned in the war that much valuable military equipment which was left on the battlefield and along the roads, where it was thrown away becoming damaged, could be saved.

So the British instituted a plan of "battlefield salvage," which has been the means of saving millions of dollars. They built repair factories to replace this equipment, and even went to the extent of salvaging badly torn uniforms.

The Americans have adopted this salvage plan, so far as ordnance is concerned. Through this method it will be possible to cut down to a very great extent the shipment of ordnance to replace that which is lost in the field.

JACK-O-ALL TRADES AND EXPERTS WANTED

General Pershing Calls for Mechanics, Typists, Cooks and Wireless Men

NEW YORK, March 4.—General Pershing wants men with special technical knowledge. He has put in a request for hundreds of men, trained to do a great number of things most urgently in need of being done, and the office of the adjutant general has undertaken to supply the men asked for.

As part of the contract it has assumed the adjutant general's office wants 450 general mechanics or repair men, 158 gunsmiths, typewriting machine makers or repairers, 100 electricians, 200 cooks and 108 wireless constructors.

It is expected that New York city alone will supply one-half of these particular quotas. The call for volunteers has been sent broadcast through the country.

"MELTING POT" DRIVE OPENS FOR "SMOKES"

Rich and Poor Alike Eagerly Give Jewelry That Sammees May Have Tobacco

"The Melting-Pot" campaign opened with a rush today, when society rubed elbows with the workman and their children in order to contribute their very all that the American soldier and his Allied fighting men, from the front-line trenches, might get their "fags" regularly.

All came for the same purpose. Some brought little articles of discarded jewelry, others brought out flasks, hat pins and silver thimbles, while still others took their rings from their fingers and cast them into the huge copper melting pots which have been distributed throughout the city.

Long before the melting-pot campaign headquarters opened, in the office of the overseas committee of the Emergency Aid, 1328 Walnut street, quite a group of persons lined the door. The first one to gain admittance was Mrs. Pers. William, 2108 West 101st street. Without asking any questions she walked up to the pot and cast into it three heavily studded rings.

"These were taken from my table, and I only hope they will be useful to give some legal soldier a much-needed smoke," she remarked. "I made up my mind that I would be the first one to start this campaign along and hope that I have succeeded."

Mrs. Stanley Flagg, Villanova, had the honor of being the first one to start the pot in the Caldwell ward going. Shortly after 10 o'clock she placed some antique jewelry in it, closely followed by a little girl, no more than thirteen years of age. The young girl, kneeling in working clothes, took three thimbles and an odd piece of jewelry from her handbag and cast them into the pot.

The campaign, started today, will last until March 28, when all the jewelry collected will be taken to the mint and coined into United States currency. This will be used to purchase "smokes" for the fighters in France.

Mrs. William G. Warden, chairman of the tobacco fund committee of the overseas Emergency Aid, characterized the opening of the campaign as "auspicious."

"Philadelphia has never yet failed to lend a helping hand," Mrs. Warden said, "and do not doubt but that our ambition of raising several thousand dollars for the benefit of this tobacco fund will be realized.

DOG TO FIGHT KAISER

Patriotic Animals May Be Enlisted, No Dachshunds Need Apply

Dogs are being enlisted in the fight against the Kaiser. The society for the prevention of cruelty to animals has worked out a plan to use them as dispatch carriers, sentries, convays to small vehicles, ammunition guards and destroyers of camp rodents.

The dogs first undergo an examination and then are sent to centers for instruction, preparation and training for their new war duties. The Blue Cross has founded kennels at army headquarters and the front. Philadelphia with patriotic dogs desiring to enlist should inform Mrs. E. H. Johnson, 1212 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, or the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Lynch, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Henry Fraughtland, the Rev. Robert E. Johnson and the Rev. Dr. George W. Babcock, former pastors.

U. S. BUILDING GREAT WAR PLANT IN JERSEY

$10,000,000 Shell-Loading Factory Just Started at Elwood, Near Hammonton

HAMMONTON, N. J., March 4.—More than a score of United States ordnance department trucks have arrived with supplies for the new government plant to be built at Elwood, about five miles from here. It is stated that $200 acres of land have been acquired and that a $10,000,000 shell-loading plant will be erected.

Residents of the hamlet were astounded yesterday by the appearance of a small army of workmen and a half hundred freight cars. They learned that their town had been chosen as the directing center of a great industrial project, the construction of which will begin at once. They learned that the strangers were made up of real estate men, whose work in securing the huge tract on which the plant will stand has been virtually completed.

The government representatives, they found, had come to talk business, and an hour after they had located Arthur Walker, proprietor of the Grosvenor Garden Tea Room, a favorite haunt for automobilists, they had bought the building and had begun the work of transferring it into a central office.

T. R. FEELING "BULLY," LEAVES N. Y. HOSPITAL

Colonel May Be Permanently Deaf in One Ear as Result of Recent Operation

NEW YORK, March 4.—Smiling broadly and declaring in vigorous tones that he felt "bully," Colonel Theodore Roosevelt this afternoon left the Roosevelt Hospital, where he has been for several weeks, and went to the Hotel Langdon. After resting at the hotel for a few days the former President will return to his home at Oyster Bay.

Colonel Roosevelt declined to make any statement to interviewers. His physicians had nothing to add to their statement of last night that the Colonel may be permanently deaf in his left ear as a result of his illness.

RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL UNDER HOT FIRE

Wisconsin Congressman Says $19,227,900 Measure "Reeks With Extravagance"

WASHINGTON, March 4.—A sharp attack on the rivers and harbors appropriation bill was submitted to the House this afternoon in a minority report written by Representative Walker, proprietor of the Grosvenor Garden Tea Room, a favorite haunt for automobilists, they had bought the building and had begun the work of transferring it into a central office.

The Government representatives, they found, had come to talk business, and an hour after they had located Arthur Walker, proprietor of the Grosvenor Garden Tea Room, a favorite haunt for automobilists, they had bought the building and had begun the work of transferring it into a central office.

"No river, canal or inland waterway carries commerce justifying many extravagant expenditures carried in the bill," he said. "For illustration, the bill appropriated $2,000,000 for the Ohio, $200,000 for the Missouri, $500,000 for the Allegheny, $500,000 for the Potomac, $342,000 for the Tennessee and $2,112,000 for the Mississippi, at a time when the government is straining every nerve to raise money by direct taxation for war purposes."

Walker pointed out that twenty times as much money was appropriated for the rivers carrying 1,000,000 tons of commerce, hauled an average of thirty-eight miles, as for deep-water projects over which 70,000,000 tons are floated 800 miles.

"What possible defense can be offered for such expenditures in wartime, or any other times?" he asked.

Walker took up the various river projects in detail and showed that while the government has spent hundreds of millions of dollars improving the great rivers, commerce upon them has dropped off from 20 to 25 per cent. He insisted that theoretical army engineers, whose advice was taken by the committee, are not competent to judge the value of the projects undertaken.

WOMAN RECALLS DISLOYALTY CHARGE

Admits Mistaken Identity in Accusing Doctor Scheidt, of F. and M. College

LANCASTER, Pa., March 4.—Severe criticism of Dr. Richard Conrad Scheidt's alleged disloyalty, which followed his resignation from the faculty of Franklin and Marshall College, had a sensational climax this morning when Miss Helen J. Hubschener publicly apologized to Doctor Scheidt for mistaken identity on a railroad train, and admitted having spread reports that caused Doctor Scheidt public condemnation.

Doctor Scheidt in his first comment on the case said: "I am neither a coward nor a hypocrite, but an American unafraid, and as such I stand by my allegiance to the United States government without reservation and restriction more than twenty-five years ago. In a personal letter to President Wilson, written immediately before our entrance into war, I stated that all Americans of German birth would stand by his ultimate decision, with broken hearts and crushed spirits though it be. Today America's war aims and purposes include as outlined in Mr. Wilson's messages have my whole-hearted indorsement and support.

"I trust to God that the time may soon come when the unselfish and self-sacrificing efforts of the American nation toward establishment of the long-looked-for human brotherhood may be fully and triumphantly realized and racial hatred and suspicion disappear off the face of the earth."

Miss Hubschener made a special trip from Boston to make sure of identifying "the man she heard talk on the train."

"FIVE-MINUTE WOMAN" HERE

She and Her Sisters Will Explain Patriotic Topics

The "five-minute woman" began her career today. The uprooting of sedition and repatriation of patriots in her work and she's right on schedule time with her spiel. Hants' she been rehearsing it, watch in hand, for the last ten weeks at the College Club, not to mention "trying it" on the home circle? She knows it now so thoroughly that not even a minute or a Tenino army of mis-turned loose on the stage, can fluster her.

She made her debut this afternoon at Wannamakers, and she, or several of her, will tell you all you ought to know about the work, the patriotic fund and other kindred topics in a span of time not exceeding five minutes. Among the orators listed are Mrs. Owen Phillips, Miss Elizabeth Kirkbride, Miss Mary McIntosh and Mrs. Inogen Oatley.
