DOIE TENDLER and his trusty southpaw were too much for Mr. Peter Hartley, of New York, at the Olympia A. A. last night. Mr. Hartley was billed as the "Durable Dane" and lived up to his name only until the fourth round, when Referee Pop O'Brien decided he was too fragile to continue and stopped the fuest. The New Yorker was in fairly good condition, the only thing women being a bleeding cut over the g being a bleeding cut over the a bloody nose, swellen lips and inlity to escape the volley of crushing blows showered upon him by Mr. Ten-dler. Outside of that he was all right. Our fork-handed battler handed out a our fork-handed battler handed out a levely lacing while the bout lasted. After the first round he began to shoot his long right jab into the face of his opponent with reckless abandon, litting him almost at will. That was the time the Durable Dane was durable. Hartley took everything Tendier handed out and came back for more. He was a very tough person and the ringside throng believed by would last the limit.

Sam Sidman Show—Casino

The atmosphere of the big white tons pervaded the performance which was presented at the Casino by "Sam Sidman and His Show," one of the favorites of the big time burlesque circuit. The aroma of the sawdust ring angeared with the two-act musical comedy, bearing the title, "Circus in Town," which, silhough it is devoid of the three rings and other paraphernalia of the outdoor circus, nevertheless was full of those amusing elements which go to make up an entertainment of which the public never tires. Sidman and his assistant comedians produced more genuine laughs than clowns at a circus could. It is a superior show in every respect, but the comedy interest is never allowed to lag and will prove an antidote to the most obstinate cases of blues. Sidman, of course, is the comedian in chief, but he is ably supported by Jean Irwit, the prima donna with a melodious voice; Franke Niblo and Addie Carbon, vivacious and attractive soubrettes; Gene Carison, the ingenue; George Thurston who made a hit as the ringmaster of the circus; Jack Howard, who appears a waking delegate; John Quige, who amuses with his blackface antics, and albert Frank. Hebrew comedian. The show has a fascinating chorus.

The TRIUMPH of QUALITY

the SUCCESS of the YEAR

ONE YEAR AGO the Globe Rubber Tire Manufacturing Company elected a new management—on March 1, 1917. Announcement was then made of the sound policies under which the company would continue to operate.

Today, as of March 1, 1918, we report on the progress of the past year. Quietly and consistently, in the midst of business turmoil and war alarms, Globe Tires have served the pressing needs of the times at home and abroad and have found increasing favor. From Maine to California, from Washington to Florida, and on every European battlefront where the fight for Liberty is being waged Globe Tires are daily proving their right to leadership in their field of service.

The war is constantly proving that reliability is the first requisite in men and materials; that initial cost is of slight importance where assured service is obtained, and that fitness is its own reward.

Globe Quality has brought us a recognition far beyond our most sanguine expectations. Today, twice as many Globe Tires are being bought as were being sold one year ago; and we have succeeded in actually improving the quality of ourproduct-until now Globe Tires are literally the best automobile tires that any one has ever been able to build.

The past year has added quality to our product, strength to our resources, and success to our efforts.
