Purchase of Railroad Securities Amid Prevailing Dullness Regarded as Good Business—Gossip of the Street

WITH a rubber stamp to change the date, the condition of the market and the general atmosphere of Monday last in brokers' offices and other financial circles in this city could be substituted without other change for the conditions prevailing yesterday.

On the curb it was said that extensive inquiries were coming to brokers' offices about United States Steamship Company stock. This is the company that was organized some time in 1915 by Charles W. Morse.

Next Liberty Loan Subject of Prime Interest
The manager of a well-known banking and investment house on his return from Baltimore yesterday said that the main topic in financial circles down there was the forthcoming Liberty Loan.

One man, he said, who professes to be very close to the "powers that be" in Washington, expressed the opinion that the loan would be for $10,000,000,000 and the interest rate would be 4 1/2 per cent.

The statement attributed to Representative Rainey, of Illinois, ranking Democratic member of the House Ways and Means Committee, in which he said that "the conservation of income is inevitable if the next Liberty Loan is not a success."

"What Is the Russian Situation?" Broker Asks
Asked what effect, in his opinion, the present Russian situation was having on the market, or if it was likely to influence it in any way in the near future, a well-known banker smilingly replied:

"What do you mean by the present Russian situation?" The one which existed ten minutes ago and the one which may be existing now? If some one," he continued, "will unravel the situation as we have it from the latest newspaper reports I might give an intelligent reply, but I don't know what principles the 'White Guards' or the 'Red Guards' or the 'Finnish Guards' or the 'Polish' or the 'Cossacks' or 'Ukrainians' or the 'Councils of Soldiers and Workmen' or the 'Soviets' stand for."

Favors Restrictions on Municipal Issues
The principal member of a large banking house that does a very extensive business in municipal issues remarked yesterday that with the restrictions which will be placed on nonessentials by the capital-issues committee he expects they will live very closely in the consideration of municipals.

Believes Fear of Credit Inflation Unfounded
The discussion on inflation, especially credit inflation, still goes on among bankers with diametrically opposite opinions on the subject. This discussion originated in the differences of opinions expressed by leading financiers of the country on the war-finance corporation bill now under consideration by Congress.
