

CALL TO HOE ISSUED TO 2,000,000 BOYS

Enrollment for Farm Work in Behalf of Uncle Sam to Begin March 18

The two million boys of the age of sixteen years and over now employed in unessential industries or pursuing courses of study constitute the largest single hitherto untapped available source of labor supply in this country.

In the opinion of the United States Government the time has come when these boys should be "put to work," and that nowhere are their services so sorely needed as in farm work and allied activities.

The United States Boys' Working Reserves have assumed the stupendous task of perfecting this enrollment. On Monday, March 18, National Enrollment Week will begin, and it is expected that by the end of a seven-day period every boy affected will be duly recorded on the roster of the big farm-labor army.

This organization has the indorsement of President Wilson and is the logical and properly constituted medium through which this enrollment should and is to be effected.

Some of the ablest cartoonists and illustrators of the country have pledged their services to make posters for this great drive, including such names as Charles Dana Gibson, Rogers, Treidler and Welch.

War conditions have created a shortage of farm labor. Food and ships are the mediums through which the war will be won or lost. Men will be required to produce both. The farm labor shortage is the more acute of the two. Government investigations show, and the need for more help on the farm this summer will be desperate. It is because of this need and this alone that the government has issued a "call to the hoe."

Philadelphia stands pledged to do its best in this big drive for a nation-wide enrollment of its boyhood and within the next few days plans will be perfected whereby this city will show a perfect registration of its "boy farmers."

NOTWITHSTANDING the fact that the food conservation regime, as outlined by the food administrators, tends greatly to improve the American dietary, it is possible that some serious dietetic errors may occur, particularly in the feeding of children.

stance from that source, in which case the butter substitutes may be used. If the diet is lacking in milk, then it is highly important that butter—good, pure dairy butter—shall be used in the children's diet.

Since the present war is being waged chiefly for the benefit of future generations, it would be very unwise to handicap our children by impoverishing their diet. Since the brain and brain of manhood is dependent very largely upon the physique gained in childhood, it therefore behooves our women's clubs and other organizations to make investigations to determine whether or not the children of their community are securing the necessary amount of milk or other wholesome foods.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Foreign Bodies Swallowed

The foreign bodies do much harm in the stomach and may they be safely removed? JOHN S. D.

THE need for a pure oil from an edible, vegetable source for cooking and salad dressings, was responsible for Mazola.

And today the home cooks who use this carefully and scientifically prepared product of Indian Corn have found the secret of the most savory, the most wholesome fried and sautéed dishes and pastry, the smoothest salad dressings.
