SUDDEN BUYING OF NEW HAVEN MAKES RAILROADS STRONGER

Announcement That Director General McAdoo Favored Action on Maturing Notes Responsible—Advances Follow Nervously

High Points in Today's Financial News. Railroad stocks became strong on New York Stock Exchange due to buying of New Haven.

New York, March 11. After a moderate amount of wavering in stock market movements during the first half of the day, there was a development of pronounced strength after midday in the railroad issues.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit was directly affected by prospects of the Government arranging for the payment of the notes due July 1, and advanced 2 points.

Railroad bonds continued to show a strong tone, with heavy trading in Chesapeake and Ohio 5s, which rose from 80 to 81.

Liberty 4s were heavily traded in at prices ranging from 95.40 to 96.21.
