Give Up Morning Practice for Exhibition Game at Camp Johnston

MACKMEN DOING WELL

Jacksonville, Fla., March 27. Jacksonville, Fin., March 27, For the second time since coming here the Athletics did not take morning practice today. The other time they missed their morning's work was due to rain. At 10:30 this morning the entire Athletic squad was hustled into Government automobiles and conveyed to Comp Johnston, about fifteen miles to Comp Johnston, about fifteen miles distant from this city. Manager Mack was perfectly willing to encel a morning's practice for the privilege of doing his bit toward pre-vialing some antisement for a few of the thousands to Uncle Sam's service. This is the reason he graclously agreed to have his team play an exhibition game inside the camp reservation where every roldier who so desired might see a major lengue team in action. a major lengue team in action.

Lunch With Officers

Lunch was provided for the players Lance was produced to the polyter at the camp, they taking their midday meal at an officers' mess. Manager Mack and his players were entertained and shown every courtesy by the com-mandant, Colonel Fred L. Munson, and mandant, Coloniel Fred L. Munson, and his adjutant, Captain Sterling. A gen-eral inspection was made of the caup before the players dressed for the game. General satisfaction, not to make it stronger by saying elation, prevailed among the Mack players last night after their defeat of Pittsburgh in the second game of the series between the reo clubs. The Macks are so contwo clubs. The Macks are so con-vinced of their superiority over the feam from the eastern section of the home state that they are now confident of taking a majority of the contests from the pesky Pirates. A break in the chain of defense cost the Athletics the first game, while a weakness in the at-mek was responsible for the defeat of the Corvairs in the second battle.

Not to be outdone by the generosity of Sanders in presenting the Athletics with all their runs, the latter's pitchers also were inclined to be magnatimously disposed. Both of the Pirates' tallies were sarted on passes, but were not so tainted with baseball pacifism in that they were batted across the pan. Not a hit figured in the "Mackites' four scores.

H driving qualities begins to impress you the moment the Liberty gets into action.

You see that it follows the road almost without direction from the driver.

The quickness with which it settles down after passing a rough spot is unusual and delightful.

It is as steady and sure with one passenger, on the rear seat, as with three.

This difference is most uncommon in a car of modest weight. It proves the high calibre of the engineering ability which has produced Liberty cars.
