"MUST I PUT MY RENT MONEY IN WAR STAMPS? OH, NO!"

Then the Woman Objector to the Cry of "Give! Give! Give!" Herself Gave a Luncheon for Eighteen at a Fashionable Hotel

Washington, March 30.

Washington, March 30.

Washington, March 30.

Washington, March 30.

What had been sent her. She ended somewhat as follows:

"It's nothing but give, give, give, national capital would request the ejection of an atlantage." tion from an apartment house of an authorized canvasser for the war-savings stamps campaign. Yet this actually happened a day or two ago, and the manager compiled without the slightest "What are you writing?" was the next question.

"Hefused." was the answer. "I must ompunction.

Two Washington women, one of them the wife of an army officer, were visiting keep my records straight." And the Northwest Washington apartment houses volunteer worker gladly made her

The vite of an army officer, were visiting Northwest Washington apartment houses lying in the ninth of those districts into which the city has been subdivided for the purpose of pledging citizens to purchase within the year a certain amount in these stamps. Gilbert H. Grosvenor, editor of the National Geographic Maggine, is in charge of this district.

Knowing the strict rules in force in some houses concerning canvassers, one of the women, after some vexatious depay, on her first visit tossithe building found it necessary to enlist Mr. Grosvenor's co-operation in calling to the attention of the manager, the fact that these calls could not be considered in the light of ordinary canvassing and in obtaining permission for the designated representative, who is in reality a temporary employe of the United States Tressury Department, to make the necessary calls.

Equipped with printed forms and wearing on her arm the authorized badge, she reached an apartment on one of the lower floors of a structure which shall be nameless, but which commands an especially sood view of the General McClellan statue.

She rang the bell, was met by the mistress of the apartments."

Who let you in here? Canvassers and peartment waxed highly indigmant at being approached on such a matter, referred feelingly to Liberty Loan burdens and pointed to a pile of benefit tickets.

FINN REREIS REATEN
Washington apartment nouse of the louse manager and what she was doing was proced by the first that he had the or searching for her.

"This limit manager that he had was talking was stamps with his wife ene searching for her.

"Yes, and I know why. I think," was sailing the made in a manager the fact had her reply. "A complaint has been manager informed in the light of ordinary canvassing and in obtaining permission for the estant provention. "This is the first I have heard of any such provise," said the executive. The you, but before I go cannot I get your pledge for the purchase of some of the hard provise, will doubtless be glid to tell you. Th

FINN REBELS BEATEN; KAISER IS PLOTTING 10,000 ARE PRISONERS FOR FLEMISH BELGIUM

Government Forces Win Bat- Lays Lines for Another Plun- lecture

The American consul at Moseow has informed the Government that the informed the Government that the informed the Government that the informed that the informed the informed that it is informed the informed that it is informed the informed that it is informed that informed that it is informed that infor

Another profest to the Bolshevik government against the declaration last week of David R. Francis, the American No Sunday Rum and No ambassador, that Russia will become a German province if it submits to the peace terms of the Central Powers has been made by Germany. According to the German contention, this was a viola-tion of the peace treaty. The Government replied that the ambassador's statement was merely a re-production of the telegram which he adfressed to the All-Russian congress at Moscow which ratified the peace treaty. The Government declares it maintains loward the ambassador's declaration the same attitude that was adopted in respect to the telegram sent to Moscow. Germany seat tan protest after the Russian Foreign Office had addressed a protest against occupation of Odessa by the Germans and Austrians and also against shipment by the Germans of arms to Finland after the signing of the peace treaty. The German reply erning the occupation of garding which there is the same mys-tery as exists concerning the boundary between Russia and Germany. greatest confusion is resulting from this state of affairs. The parties and fac-tions in Ukraine are taking various at-titudes as regards the boundaries. Some Germanophiles even insist that Ukraine touches, the Caspian Sea.

Boardwalk Builder Dies

Courtland Y. White pioneer lumber-man, who died of gooplexy at his home. 1898 Diamond street, late Thursday night, will be buried Tuesday. Mr. White built the Boardwalk at Atlan-tic City many years ago and was in husiness on the present site of Cramps' susiness on the present site of Cramps Shippard. For twenty years he had been as invalid, but about a year ago his liness became more serious. A son. Courtland Y. White, Jr., who is chief bacteriologic of the Philadelphia Hospital, is his only survivor.

100,000 of Smith Family Listed by War Bureau

Washington, March 30.—The proic Smith family has 100,000 of its offsprings listed in the war risk urance bureau files.

One thousand and forty of the miths are surnamed John, 1560 William, 200 John A., and 200 Wilam H., while the Miller and Wilon clans are represented by 15,000 n each. There are numerous John Browns and John Johnsons, say nothing of John O'Brien. The bureau warns that the full and postoffice address is led in any correspondence.

PREPARING TO ENTER ORATORICAL RING IN NEXT LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE

William J. Bryan, Henry Clay and Demosthenes of old will soon have to look to their laurels as lecturers. When feminine wiles are added to persuasive and forceful speech, he or she among us mortals who can resist the demands to "shell out" for the forthcoming Liberty Loan must be a flinty-hearted individual indeed. But the potential out-door women orators now being coached for the Liberty Loan drive by Mrs. Owen Phillips optimistically anticipate no flinty hearts. The instruction is given on the roof of the Peirce Business College, 1420 Pine street, and constitutes a condensed course in "mob psychology," as well a s open-air speaking.

Government Forces Win Battle at Tammersfors, North of Capital der Haul if Successful on West Front der Haul if Successful on West Front Monday 8 o'clock, Association Hall May 1 o'cross the forcement forces, and singles, by the Government forces, and the Front of the Monday 8 o'clock, Wilterspoon Hall, May 1 o'cross the Monday 8 o'clock, Wilterspoon Hall, Government forces, and the Government forces, the forcement forces, and the Government forces, and the Government forces, the forcement forces, the forcement forces, the forcement forces, and the Government forces, the forcement forces, the force of th mans of Atlantic City, March 30.

"Atlantic City is to be forbidden terin reply ritory for lawbreakers of all sorts under my administration, no matter where they may come from. If Philadelphia to treaty crooks, New York crooks or crooks from was that the city was a part of Ukraine they may come from. If Philadelphia crooks, New York crooks or crooks from anywhere else think they can come to Atlantic City and take liberties with its new decency standards, we'll give them a dose of Jersey justice they'll never forget."

Edmund C. Gaskill, Jr. Atlantic to enforce the law in this shore jurisdiction.

"I am against Sunday liquor." he said today. "After a careful study of the situation I am convinced there is no demand for Sunday rum here. There might have been years ago, when Atlantic City was a different sort of place. "People do not come here to get liquor on Sunday. The vast majority of them do not care whether liquor is available even on weekdays. Times have changed. Atlantic City has changed. For the best proof of that sound the legitimate saloonmen on the subject of Sunday rum. Most of them are glad the sale of liquor is prohibited on the Sabbath. They would not go back to Sunday boose if they had the opportunity.

even on weekdays. Times have changed. Atlantic City has changed. For the best proof of that sound the legitimate saloonmen on the subject of Sunday num. Most of them are glad the sale of liquor is prohibited on the Sabbath. They would not go back to Sunday boose if they had the opportunity.

"One reason for that, perhaps, is that it would be a boomerang, and they know it better than those of us who are not in the business. It would simply shorten just that much the days of the saloon here and elsewhere in Jersey. The liquor seller has a reason outside of the liquor seller has a reason outside of the level of the liquor seller has a reason outside of the level of the liquor seller has a reason outside of the level of the liquor seller has a reason outside of the level of the war topics features

The Yellow Dove

Street, and constitutes a condensed course in "mob psychology," as well a s open-air speaking.

War topics feature

Extension lectures

The Yellow Dove

Street, and constitutes a condensed course in "mob psychology," as well a s open-air speaking.

War topics feature

Extension lectures

The Yellow Dove

A Bonsance of the Secret service

By George Gibbs

Author of "The Harden Strucked Language of the Secret service of th

Market of the company of the company

they clasped hands.

"Good Lindberg! My friend! I had given up."

"I have waited until the beer was served. It is well. And now — "He looked around the room quickly. You shall go."

Hammersley had a sudden thought.

"A grapain von Winden sent you?"

"No. He knows nothing. But he has not spoken. It is now after 3 o'clock. By half past 3 you must go."

"Ja doch! But you — ""

"Ja doch! But you — ""

"Ja doch! But you — ""

"So, no: I will not consent to that."

"Serve I have thought out a plan."

"No. no: I will suspect. They will shoot you."

"No, they will not. Have I not told you that I have thought out a plan."

"No, they will not have a plan."

"I will listen to it."

"I will listen to it."

Hammersley beld his breath, straining his ears for the sound that would tell him that he had not failed. In a while, which seemed interminable. It began again, he whispered.

"I think not. There is little time to lose. We will have to take the chance."

"But if they return and find me free its will only cause your death and do me its will only cause you should know by the sum of the cause of the and magazines, vacation, doctor, church and gifts. She came out even at the end of the year. In addition to doing cooking, marketing and cleaning—spending about two hours on week days and of her own laundering and altering of clothes.

"The stories of the other telephone

(CONTINUED MONDAY)

CONGRESSMEN WILL CONSIDER HUGE WAR FINANCE PROJEC

Relief for Railroads, Utilities and Other Objects, volving Expense of Billions, to Be Discussed in Washington

By J. HAMPTON MOORE

Washington, March 30.

Financing the Government in wartimes is a stupendous job. It grows in magnitude as Congress progresses with its work. Under the Constitution, on the theory that the representatives closest to the people should have direction of the revenues, financial legislation properly originates in the House. In certain cases where bills affecting revenue originated in the Senate and slipped through the House they have been held by the courts to be uncongitutional. The Senate, of course, has the power of amendment, which is, in effect, a veto power, which accounts for the customary conferences between the two houses on matters in dispute.

Financial Bills

This week, while the Ways and Means Committee of the House has been considering the new bond bill, the passage of which is sought by Secretary McAdoo before he begins the third Liberty Loan drive, the conferees of the Senate and House have been laboring with each other over the points of difference between the two houses on the war finance corporation, which, is also directly of the Treasury, who is also directly and provided in the second provided in the caliroad problem, of course, is the greatest of all domestic innection.

Liberty Loan

Thirty-one per cent lived away from theme, 45 per cent were in receipt of outside assistance, 72 per cent were in controlled to outside assistance, 72 per cent were in twenty-one years of age and over and 21 per cent had dependents.

Leaves Orphanage at Eleven
One girl lived in an orphanage until she was eleven years old the present article states. The report continues:

"She had to get a special permit to go to work and has been working in stores ever since—for ten years. She was a stock girl at $6 a week until April of 1916, when she got ptomair— Neisching in the employes' lunchroom and had to go to a hospital for thirteen weeks. The store paid her hospital bill, but did not tay her wages during that the same and the and of the fiscal year.

Relief for the Raliroads

War finance is not exclusively the railing of money for troops and ammunition. Congress makes heavy appropriation shault be speedly disposed of, and for the reason is doing all he possibly can to hasten the passage of the war industries, but will afford a free circulation of money for the present of the railing density of the railing density of the railing density of the railing of the passage of the war industries, but will affor a free circulation of money for the present of the railing density of the present of the railing and some nonessentials, come in for the passage of the war into the passage of t

"When the Father of our Country was laid to rest, were spoken words which should never die. Though Washington is dead, Jehovah Americans! This God who raised up Washington and gave you exacts from you the duty of cherishing it with a seal according to ledge. In all the perils of your country, remember Washington, freedom of reason and of right has been handed down to you point of the hero's sword. Guard with veneration the sacred deposit "Fellow Countrymen, do your full duty, less the blood of our fathers and our sons be shed in vain. The spirit of Washington and I

"The stories of the other telephone girls are similar to the one above. All but two out of twenty-three interviewed—and those two were young and beginners—paid board and lodging to their families ranging from $120 to $442. Their expenditures for clothes ranged from $45 to $193, many of them buying clothes on credit." fathers and our sons be shed in vain. The spiri must inspire our deeds if we are to preserve 'The Lam the Home of the Brave' to future generations'