te directed to the advantages of our Dry Cold Air Vaults for the preservation of Furs.

The annual loss arising from the destruction of Furs by moths and warm temperature runs into millions of dollars.

The U. S. Government enthusiastically recommends a 20-degree Fahrenheit vault as the only tested method of killing the moth larva and preserving the lustre and life of the pelt itself.

The modern Wenger Vaults are the only Dry Cold Air Storage of their kind maintained in this city by any furrier. Non-progressive firms who do not adout the up-to-date method and use so-called "electric fau" "low" temperature and tor camphor facilities display a woeful lack of knowledge of the subject of Fur-Preservation.

We ask you, a layman, to accept our invitation to call and inspect our Fur Storage Facilities, and then mak to visit other storage premises; the outcome of your investigation, we feel assured, will be manifested in your instructions for us to call for your furs.

The Grandmother of Russia

Katherine Breshkovsky-or "Babushka" as she is affectionately termed in Russia-is one of the unique, outstanding personalities in the revolt which changed the government.

Simple, unassuming, plainly-clad, this old woman held court in a tiny room in the Winter Palace, whence she directed the energies of countless thousands who fought for freedom.

It was there that Louise Bryant met and interviewed her. What she observed is recorded in her personal narrative, "Six Red Months in Russia."
