TMIL MEUSEL, color white, age twenty-three, throws with his right hand and eats with a fork, qualified for membership in the Patmorans yesterday. the busted up a ball game in the wee hours of the afternoon and sent as phils home on the long end of the score. Emil, who is known to his pais " Trish" in these turbulent days, waited until the tenth stanza of a very menuous contest to put on his act and, if we do say it ourself, it knocked an off their seats-especially those heroes who shivered in the two-bit section in left field.

R was at the critical moment, as they say at the clubhouse, when Irish n was at the critical moment, as they say at the clubhouse, when Irish fortunate if the teams line up for play supped up to the plate. Whitted had swiped first when Rawlings tried to before 2:45 and as it takes three hours before 1:45 and as it takes three hours to play a nine-inning game yesterday's ust a goal from the field with his grounder, and was eager to dash around a mes if the opportunity presented itself. No one believed that the new of darkness enter fielder would help the cause, but for once a terrible mistake was safe. Tom Hughes slipped one over the pan and Meusel busted it high is far into the left field bleachers. Both men scored, but the extra count ms not necessary. One run was enough to win the game and that's all they chalked up.
