JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Talks About Mass-Meeting This Afternoon-She Also Sees the Parade of Saturday From Two Points of View

ABOUT every woman in the Red Cross | her husband, Dector Smith, who is stationed Awent to the big mass-meeting held the Academy of Masic. You know Mrs. August Belmont. who has been in France doing Red Cross work for some five or six months, has resarned, and she spoke here this afterpoor and told the Red Cross workers of his city what has actually been done in grance by the Red Cross.

So the regular meetings of the day were changed and postponed, as it was felt by al libe chairman that this meeting was of importance. It is so much better to pear right from the front about things. you feel as if those who have been on the not can tell so much more than those who simply theorize on the subject.

There was no speaker this afternoon merefore, at the Intependence Square anxillary of the Red Cross, as the committee and workers felt they would also better to attend the general meeting for this day; but there will be a spenker next Monday, of whom I shall tell you amon. Like that - anou - don't you? Sounds son of Shakespearcan.

OPEAKING of the Red Cross, did you D see the parade on Paturday? It was one remarkable sight! Women who never before had appeared in the public eye purned out in throngs and marched the while length of Broad street. Mrs. Wood rew Wilson came from Washington on the was head of the parade, and reviewed the fong pageant of earnest, seriousminded women who walked to prove their interest in the great world war and that they there all "doing their bit" in so far as it was possible for them.

it was splendld to see, but a pity. thought, not to have relieved the mamotory of the parade by interjecting a few Boats and tableaux. I believe the idea was that fleats and cars move slowly and sendly hold up these demonstration of have pneumonia. They formed at hall not start into line until 2:55 o'clock. The auth division piled into the Catillac garage at Broad and Wallace streets. Then that were called out to start in a few minutes and alast it was only a false afarm. Two embers of the College Club unit began me dance on the pavement to keep weem and every one got terribly clauming.

Then they all rushed buck into the paraire again - Suffragists, Civic Club, College Club. Women Writers, Matiness Modeal Club, Century Club and W. C. T. I. There weren't hunny of the latter, but good night! Did any of you read their signs? They almost make one the D. T. realistic were the horrors of drink deafficer entered the garage door. Whether was the "Dream of Pair Women" before im or a sudden sinking in the floor know not, but fall he did bang! And right in front of the W. C. T. U.

THE Emergency Aid made a wonderful showing with all its various chairmen. I spotted Mrs. Tom Robins, Mrs. James Reed, Mrs. George Lorimer, Mrs. Dolasmi itemus, Mrs. Henry Boyer and dozens o ethers. And the various subcommittees were quite gorgeous. Weren't the Ar salans wonderful? All in drooping black and the colors of their poor little country and singing their weird airs as they walked.

The Red Cross muxiliary made a splen-.44 showing and the Parmerettes were stunning in their tan smocks and breeches A number of persons looking on remarked that the women on horselesel; who followed the mounted police, led by Mrs. Victor Mather, were all riding side-saddle is their long habits. And they did look peaches; there were nearly three full fows. The girl who led the High School fifs was astride, however,

THE Navy Auxillary of the Red Cross was led by Mrs. Stotesbury and two ther marshals. They were white shirts. kirts and shoes, and long, dark-blue duales and small blue hats. Mrs. Stotesbury carried the American flag. She cortainly is good-looking, don't you think?

The Emergency Aid Aides did nil kinds fancy steps. Mrs. Norman MacLend walked at their head, followed by Gretchen Cay and Charlotte Brown, who are the

I just can't begin to tell you all the fable and happenings, but one remarkalls aide show was a woman taking moving Schree. That took Nancy's eye!

Women are certainly in everything these Ga Question is, will it last? Our cynial "gentlemen friends" say "IT WON'T." but I, Nancy Wynne, beg to differ.

"Letter after better coming from our nurses in France tells of their treed for some startes which confers authority." Is the statement of the committee. "One nurse writes: "We have no heads to our units except the one chief nurse, but every one feels that we could do much better work if we had rank over the course the could do much belief work if we had rank over the apparenties, that is, the bospital corportion. Another says: 'I have been quartered near a Camadian hospital and have not many of the nurses. I wish we could have rank such as they have in their army it makes a great difference in the attitude of the men. The Camadians tell is so, and we know it only not well ourselves.' Still another states: 'The American nurses doing overseas duty feel the lack of military classification very keenly; any attempt loward. affication very keenly; any attempt loward giving they a military rank will be minni-mously welcomed. And a chief nurse, who mously websited. And a class base has had charge of an American bospital since the beginning of the war, says: 'We managed to get along at first, but now I believe for the sake of efficiency and discipline our army and many nurse corps must be given "In Canada," the committee states, King's regulations and orders for Canada militia gave in 1910 the relative rank of lieutemants, captains and in some instances majors to army surses.
