ASKS $10,000 FOR KISS Woman "Shocked" in Elevator, Says New York Hotel

New York, April 25.—Miss Eva Drayley Gifford is suing the Hotel Baltimore for $10,000. She said she was kissed by an intoxicated man in an elevator of the hotel, which she was a guest. This "kissing bug" her nervous system. It would not have happened, she said, if the hotel had furnished proper protection.

The hotel company applied to Justice Lehman in the Supreme Court yesterday for a judgment in its favor, without the need of a formal trial, saying it was clear that the defendant was in not providing Miss Gifford from a kiss.

Chambersburg Lineman Killed Hagerstown, Md., April 25.—Charles H. Hagerstown, lineman of Chambersburg, Pa., was killed while working on top of a telephone pole here. The clothing was set on fire and flames were called to extinguish the man. Sheriff leaves a wife and three children.
