

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Tells of Baldwin Nursery Benefit—Isaac Mar-crossan to Talk This Afternoon at 608 Chestnut Street—The Tale of a Wedding

THE managers of the Baldwin Day Nursery are planning a benefit for the nursery. They have taken over "Penn Cottage" at Wynnewood for May 10 and 11 and will hold a sale there, tea to be served in the afternoon and a chicken and hot waffle supper for the evening's attraction.

I've told you of Penn Cottage; it is a delightful old house on Montgomery avenue between Wynnewood and Ardmore, where William Penn is said to have lived. A group of women including Mrs. Rodman Grissom, Miss Sophie Trassel, Miss Gertrude Fetterman, Miss Eleanor Gamble and Mrs. John Gibbons took over this house last fall and furnished it throughout with the most bewitching old-fashioned mahogany and other old furniture and draperies. Everything in the house is for sale, you know, and the empty corner is filled with some other beautiful thing the minute one is taken away. The house is run as a sort of co-operative exchange for the benefit of war relief, or for women whose husbands have gone to war and who are strapped for money now and again, who can bake delicious cakes, make children's dresses, trim hats, paint china or do any kind of work to help support themselves or augment their incomes.

The Baldwin Day Nursery will have charge of the sales for those two days, that is, next Friday and Saturday. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Frank Moss, Mrs. Thomas Baird, Jr., Mrs. Winthrop Coffin, Mrs. William A. Wiederseiner, 2d, Mrs. Van Horn Ely, Mrs. Donald Leas and Mrs. E. Waring Wilson.

I HEAR that Drexel Steel has been transferred from Kelley Field with nine other cadets of the flying corps to College Park for further instruction. He is to complete the studies already done in Texas and then on to Mineola and thence—

In a recent letter received from him, he tells that Charles Wells, a cousin of President Wilson, is studying in Texas, and that Craig Biddle had Junior High are at the same camp in San Antonio. Drexel Steel is the son of William T. Steel, of the Wood Norton Apartments, Germantown. He won quite a little reputation here for his ability in his connection with the Plays and Players, of which organization he was a very active member. Mr. Steel, in speaking of his hope to sail soon for the other side, remarked, "I assure you it cannot be too soon."

IT WAS very interesting this afternoon at the Independence Square Auxiliary of the American Red Cross, for Mr. Isaac Marcrossan spoke again to the women who work in those rooms at 608 Chestnut street, and it had been pretty generally agreed by the listeners that his talk was about the best given there all winter. So you know that that back room was well filled. Mr. Marcrossan has been in Washington for some little time and expects soon to go back to Europe.

THE Presbyterian Orphanage, at Fifty-eighth street and Chester avenue, is going to celebrate its fortieth anniversary on Thursday, May 9, by holding a Donation Day on the premises, when the public is invited to attend and visit the institution. This orphanage, which is now housing one hundred and sixty-eight children, like many other home charities, is suffering from lack of funds and has been compelled to reject many applications on this account. Run almost entirely on voluntary contributions, which, owing to present conditions, have been considerably decreased, it is necessary that additional funds be raised and for this purpose the board of managers has designated Thursday as Donation Day. The institution is divided into cottages, each one accommodating twenty children and a "house mother," as she is termed, to care for them. Among these cottages are the Wanamaker, the Colton and the Thomas cottage, which have been donated by the families of these names.

Donations of all kinds, such as children's clothing, bed linen, toys, provisions and household supplies, are earnestly requested by the board of managers. At a recent meeting of the board, Mrs. Richard Norris was elected president on the retirement of Mrs. David Craven, who filled this post for many years. The vice presidents are Mrs. W. J. Elliott, Miss Mary Wharton, Mrs. R. G. Wood, Mrs. Benjamin Wells and Mrs. Charles Hodge. The recording secretary is Mrs. David Crozer and the corresponding secretary Mrs. Frederick V. Graves. The treasurer is Mrs. Abner Mershon, assisted by Miss Alvira Plummer.

Other members of the board include Mrs. Norman McLeod, Mrs. Tillingshat Collins and Miss Elva Porter.

OF COURSE you can't play the "Star Spangled Banner" too often these days, but there is a time and place for everything. For instance, I heard the other day of a time and place when and where it was played, and it almost spoiled the whole party. It was at the reception after the wedding of a terribly pretty girl and a great, big, tall lieutenant. They had gone up to get ready to go away; the lieutenant just had to get his hat, but still he disappeared, and everybody was waiting for him to come down to the car. Incidentally the car was also waiting, done up in much decoration. There was no confetti, because that's wasteful in wartime, and of course rice wasn't even thought of, but one silly wedding guest who knew the house sneaked into the kitchen and came triumphantly back with a box of rice that I know they were counting on for the next day's war luncheon. So everybody felt that they had something on the bride and groom. The usual scurry sounded at last in the hall above, and they all took a firm grip on the slippery rice and got ready. The bride was ready, too, and being naturally feet-footed, thought that she could get away with it all right. But just as they turned the corner from the second story hall, the patriotic orchestra struck up the "Star Spangled Banner," and the man, turned in a second from a at attention until the last chord was played—and by that time the car had a few more ribbons on it and the house looked as if a young snowstorm had been let in—to say nothing of the condition of the bride.

NANCY WYNNE.

Social Activities

The marriage of Miss Margaret Smith, daughter of Mrs. Harry C. Adams, of 1713 Pine street, and Mr. Thomas Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Hart, of 335 South Twenty-first street, will take place on Wednesday, May 15.

Mr. Hart has been recently transferred from Camp Hancock to the aviation corps.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers Maxwell, of Villanova, have issued invitations for a small dinner-dance to be given on May 29 in honor of Miss Caroline Maxwell Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Whitney, of New York, and niece of Mr. Maxwell.

The Philadelphia Auxiliary of the Southern Industrial Educational Association will give a card party and tea today at 2 o'clock in the Junior Ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford. The proceeds will be given to war relief and the philanthropic work of the association. There will be about 150 tables. The members of the committee are Mrs. Robert W. Dandel, chairman; Mrs. E. Waring Wilson, Mrs. George E. Stone, Mrs. John Tillotson, Mrs. Marion Truitt, Mrs. H. G. Tull, Mrs. Charles Welton, Mrs. Otto Reymann and Mrs. Louis Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Paltman, of 1926 Spruce street, will close their town house and occupy their country home at Waterville, New York, on June 1.

Dr. and Mrs. William Lee, of Lancaster have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Frances Butler Lee, to Mr. Emory Freeman, of the 14th Aero Squadron.

Mrs. Henry MacNeill, of 321 South Thirteenth street, entertained at her home on Friday afternoon in honor of her sister, Miss Teresa Gruber, whose engagement to Mr. Philip Francis Nowlan was announced this winter.

The date of the wedding, which will be very quiet, has been set for June 6.

A patriotic touch was given to the card party Friday afternoon by the prizes, which were small knitting needle cases in the form of soldiers, sailors and Red Cross nurses.

The guests included Miss Agnes Hagersty, Miss Gertrude Buehler, Miss Helen McNichol, Miss Agnes Kelly, Miss Eleanor Crosby, Miss Gladys Crosby, Miss Isabel Gallagher, Miss Eleanor Tompkins, Miss Marie Huber, Miss Olga Leas, Miss Marie Brogley, Miss Marie Creamer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. Strouse, of 1892 Diamond street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ada May Strouse, to Mr. Gerald D. Grosner, of Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Strouse, their daughter and Mr. Grosner will receive informally on May 12 from 2 to 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Norman H. Stevens, of 1728 North Seventh street, will entertain at luncheon on Friday at her home. Her guests will include Mrs. M. D. Becker, Mrs. John H. Craven, Mrs. George Estabrook, Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. Strouse, of 1892 Diamond street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ada May Strouse, to Mr. Gerald D. Grosner, of Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Strouse, their daughter and Mr. Grosner will receive informally on May 12 from 2 to 6 o'clock.

Hunting a Husband
By MARY DOUGLAS
(Copyright)

CHAPTER I
The Lesson

TOM would not come down to my studio.

"I had enough of that pink ink stuff in my clerking days," he said. "You come with me, and we'll have a jolly little dinner together."

It will be nice to see Tom. I had searched around to show my studies to some one. I thought Tom would be the most impressed. If I cannot show him my studio, at least I shall give him some of my new ideas.

"Why don't you stop by for me? We were to meet in the lounge. There was Tom, waiting for me. He is rather nice and big. Tom, he has a hearty way of taking your hand. No one else but Tom."

Soon we were sitting together at a little table by the windows. It was nice to look out on the bright avenues, to see the motors flashing by.

I was afraid that our first moments would be awkward. For I had not seen him since his broken engagement. I thought vividly the scene in which Tom took the amethyst ring from Jeanne. But he did not speak of himself. Nor his affairs about me. "How was it that I was in Washington Square?" I told him of John Carew and Norma, his sister. The Norma had found me.

"What are you doing there?" I knew very well that I could not tell Tom that I was hunting for a husband.

"I finished."

"Getting atmosphere—I see," said Tom fitting in the awkward pause.

We spoke of Mother and Aunt Emily. Yes, I missed Mother dreadfully.

"Next time you run out and see your Aunt Em?" Tom asked.

But I am on more important business bent than running out to see my relatives.

As we sat drinking our demi-tasse, Tom said, "Do you mind, Sara?" And he opened his cigarette case. It lay on the table. Under cover of the rose I reached over and extracted one. With awkward fingers I was attempting to light it.

Tom was glancing over the room. He looked at me now. He saw the cigarette in my trembling fingers.

"Tom," he said, "put that down!" I held it still. He leaned over, took the cigarette in his hand. Extinguished it. Then he looked at me.

"I never thought, Sara."

"Oh, Tom," I said, "those old foggy ideas."

"Old foggy nothing." Tom's voice had a quality in it I had never heard before. "I know women smoke nowadays. I know all those arguments. But, Sara Lane, smoking does not go with your type. You are not that kind of a girl. What would your mother say if she could see you?"

In spite of my unarticulated ideas, I flushed. We rose from the table. As we made our way out to the lighted avenue, Tom said, "You must promise me, Sara, that this is the last time."

I heard a faint voice, which I hardly recognized as my own, saying, "I will."

MISS LILIAN LIPKIN
Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pinchus Lipkin, of 3924 Wyalusing avenue, whose engagement to Mr. Joseph H. Weiss is announced today

Helen Morton, Mrs. Milton H. Nichols, Mrs. H. P. Cornell, Miss Harriet Craven, Mrs. Susan G. Hurluck, Mrs. Kenton Warne, Miss Virginia Currie and Mrs. Elmer D. Smythe.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Bassett, of 4312 Orange avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marjorie Bassett, to Sergeant George Canfield, Jr., U. S. M. C., of Cynwld.

Mrs. Horace Phillips Austin, of 4516 Chester avenue, West Philadelphia, will be at home on Tuesday afternoons in May. No cards have been sent out.

Mrs. Edwin Schenck, Jr., has returned to her home in Baltimore, from a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Smucker, 3227 Overbrook avenue, Overbrook. Mrs. Schenck will be remembered as Miss Grace Smucker.

Mrs. A. Lincoln Jacoby entertained the Narberth Portnightly Club at her home in Narberth on Friday afternoon. Among those present were Miss Bird Roberts, Mrs. A. P. Redfer, Mrs. Augustus Loos, Miss Ida Buckman, Mrs. John Gilroy, Mrs. Edward Schranth, Mrs. Lester Holkman, Mrs. John Van Ness, Miss Anna McKeag, Miss Barbara Shand, Miss Camella Woodie and Mr. Frederick A. Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Loucheim, of 1893 Spring Garden street, will spend the summer at Chelsea.

Mr. John MacDonald was the guest of honor at a dinner given on Wednesday evening at the Bellevue-Stratford by the members of the Produce Exchange of this city. The occasion of this dinner was the recent retirement of Mr. MacDonald from business to become vice president of the Beneficial Saving Fund.

Mrs. Eugene Caselman will give a card party tomorrow afternoon at her home in the Lionshead Apartments, Thirteenth and Locust streets, for the benefit of the Misericordist Hospital.

Tomorrow—Contrasting Ideas

TROOPS IN FRANCE LACK SOAP

Scarcity of soap on the battlefield in France has inspired Polish residents of Philadelphia to designate this week as "Soap Week," during which voluntary contributions will be collected by children of parochial schools for the benefit of Polish troops.

Next week they will devote to raising a tobacco fund for their soldiers. John B. Kliniecki is chairman of the local committee, which has sent 2500 recruits to France and which is planning a flag day to raise an insurance fund of $10,000,000 to provide a $2000 policy for each enlisted man.

Items of news for the society page will be accepted for publication in the Evening Public Ledger provided they are written on one side of a card and contain name and telephone number of the author. It is requested that the writer of the article be in possession of the original copy of the article when it is submitted for publication.

SONS OF PENN WRITE FROM BATTLEFRONT

University Men in Pershing's Forces Send Cheering Messages to Provost

The Pennsylvania of Wayne and Muhlenberg is ready now to write new pages in its great record," writes John M. Clark, a private of the Fifty-first Artillery, in France, to Provost Smith, of the University of Pennsylvania.

"Clark and Wilbur Newsletter are privates in the artillery service," Clark was president of last year's senior class, Francis J. Creamer, 14, Towne Scientific School, also has written the provost from France.

"Our instructions in this artillery battery have been thorough, because it is in the regular army," says "Clark." "The old sergeants and soldiers know the business of soldiering from long experience, and their supreme delight is to whip recruits into real fighting trim."

"We often think of what you used to say about joining as privates and learning the soldier's life from the real side. We feel happy that we are privates. The drills, hikes, guard duties, fatigues, etc., test a man's real fiber. Of course, the real business 'up there' will be the supreme test. We expect it any moment now."

"I am eagerly doing my bit to end this strife and hope that I will have the strength to hold out, as it seems probable that our victory will not be gained quickly," writes Lieutenant Creamer. "On this delightful Easter day my thoughts were of my friends in the good U. S. A. It was quite natural that I should think of my alma mater and you. All is well with the A. E. F., and the sons of Pennsylvania are to be found everywhere in the personnel of our forces."

Hunting a Husband
By MARY DOUGLAS
(Copyright)

CHAPTER I
The Lesson

TOM would not come down to my studio.

"I had enough of that pink ink stuff in my clerking days," he said. "You come with me, and we'll have a jolly little dinner together."

It will be nice to see Tom. I had searched around to show my studies to some one. I thought Tom would be the most impressed. If I cannot show him my studio, at least I shall give him some of my new ideas.

"Why don't you stop by for me? We were to meet in the lounge. There was Tom, waiting for me. He is rather nice and big. Tom, he has a hearty way of taking your hand. No one else but Tom."

Soon we were sitting together at a little table by the windows. It was nice to look out on the bright avenues, to see the motors flashing by.

I was afraid that our first moments would be awkward. For I had not seen him since his broken engagement. I thought vividly the scene in which Tom took the amethyst ring from Jeanne. But he did not speak of himself. Nor his affairs about me. "How was it that I was in Washington Square?" I told him of John Carew and Norma, his sister. The Norma had found me.

"What are you doing there?" I knew very well that I could not tell Tom that I was hunting for a husband.

"I finished."

"Getting atmosphere—I see," said Tom fitting in the awkward pause.

We spoke of Mother and Aunt Emily. Yes, I missed Mother dreadfully.

"Next time you run out and see your Aunt Em?" Tom asked.

But I am on more important business bent than running out to see my relatives.

As we sat drinking our demi-tasse, Tom said, "Do you mind, Sara?" And he opened his cigarette case. It lay on the table. Under cover of the rose I reached over and extracted one. With awkward fingers I was attempting to light it.

Tom was glancing over the room. He looked at me now. He saw the cigarette in my trembling fingers.

"Tom," he said, "put that down!" I held it still. He leaned over, took the cigarette in his hand. Extinguished it. Then he looked at me.

"I never thought, Sara."

"Oh, Tom," I said, "those old foggy ideas."

"Old foggy nothing." Tom's voice had a quality in it I had never heard before. "I know women smoke nowadays. I know all those arguments. But, Sara Lane, smoking does not go with your type. You are not that kind of a girl. What would your mother say if she could see you?"

In spite of my unarticulated ideas, I flushed. We rose from the table. As we made our way out to the lighted avenue, Tom said, "You must promise me, Sara, that this is the last time."

I heard a faint voice, which I hardly recognized as my own, saying, "I will."

TROOPS IN FRANCE LACK SOAP

Scarcity of soap on the battlefield in France has inspired Polish residents of Philadelphia to designate this week as "Soap Week," during which voluntary contributions will be collected by children of parochial schools for the benefit of Polish troops.

Next week they will devote to raising a tobacco fund for their soldiers. John B. Kliniecki is chairman of the local committee, which has sent 2500 recruits to France and which is planning a flag day to raise an insurance fund of $10,000,000 to provide a $2000 policy for each enlisted man.

Items of news for the society page will be accepted for publication in the Evening Public Ledger provided they are written on one side of a card and contain name and telephone number of the author. It is requested that the writer of the article be in possession of the original copy of the article when it is submitted for publication.

MASTER FRANCIS POWELL

MISS CATHERINE MATHER
Members of the younger set who will take part in the Pony Show to be given in Wynnewood on May 15

MISS ANNE ASHTON

RECORD FOR SMALL BRANCH

Red Cross of Wrennah, N. J., Reports on Work Accomplished During Year

The following list of articles has been reported as having been turned out by the Red Cross of Wrennah, a little company of perhaps twenty-five women, who devote one entire day each week to the work. This list covers the work of one year, and is in addition to the various kits, boxes, etc., also sent out from the same little band of workers.

Hospital supplies—Four thousand six hundred and forty-four muslin bandages, 1426 oakum pads, 7082 gauze compresses.

Knitted articles—One thousand and forty washrags, fifty surgical sponges, seventy-two eye bandages, 107 sweaters, eighty helmed, seventy wristlets, fifty-six pairs of socks, ninety-two trench caps, three covers for cots, one Belgian shawl. For the above list of articles the Wrennah branch bought and used 2000 yards of muslin, 1000 yards of gauze and 140 pounds of wool.

In order to raise the necessary funds, a number of card parties have been given, also cake and pastry sales, and a mite-box is effectively placed in a conspicuous position at the entrance of the Red Cross Building.

RECORD FOR SMALL BRANCH

Red Cross of Wrennah, N. J., Reports on Work Accomplished During Year

The following list of articles has been reported as having been turned out by the Red Cross of Wrennah, a little company of perhaps twenty-five women, who devote one entire day each week to the work. This list covers the work of one year, and is in addition to the various kits, boxes, etc., also sent out from the same little band of workers.

Hospital supplies—Four thousand six hundred and forty-four muslin bandages, 1426 oakum pads, 7082 gauze compresses.

Knitted articles—One thousand and forty washrags, fifty surgical sponges, seventy-two eye bandages, 107 sweaters, eighty helmed, seventy wristlets, fifty-six pairs of socks, ninety-two trench caps, three covers for cots, one Belgian shawl. For the above list of articles the Wrennah branch bought and used 2000 yards of muslin, 1000 yards of gauze and 140 pounds of wool.

In order to raise the necessary funds, a number of card parties have been given, also cake and pastry sales, and a mite-box is effectively placed in a conspicuous position at the entrance of the Red Cross Building.

MISS NATALIE ELAINE WALTON

RED CROSS FACTORY HAS MADE 8316 GARMENTS

Record Production by Volunteer Workers Last Week—Other Cities Want System

During the last nine weeks the American Red Cross volunteer factory service at 1315 Market street, has completed 8316 garments for refugees in Belgium and France. A record production of 1497 garments was the output for last week. Four weeks ago only 925 garments were made by the volunteer workers in the same time.

Daily the work is being speeded up at the factory, which is the only one of its kind in the country. Arrangements are under way now in New York city, Baltimore and Cleveland, O., to copy the system which permits a worker to produce five times as many garments as she could finish in the same time by hand or on foot-power machines.

Three additions have been made to the staff of the organizer and director of the work, Mrs. Greenville Dodge Montgomery, Mrs. William T. Plummer, of Ardmore, has been made chairman of the packing department; Mrs. A. Reed McIntyre, chairman of the inspection committee, and Mrs. George Kendrick, superintendent of the Junior Red Cross receiving station.

Of the garments produced in the past nine weeks at the factory, 4608 were shirts, 420 dresses for children and 3710 undergarments for women. The children's dresses were made by the Cinderella Welfare Club of Housenon Brothers' factory at Broad and Huntington streets.

THRIFT STAMP AS TRIBUTE

Miss Jarvis Suggests Patriotic Substitute for Mother's Day

"Instead of spending twenty-five cents for a white carnation to celebrate Mother's Day this year, buy a Thrift Stamp. The stamp can be used to buy a Thrift Stamp on your coat or dress today and wear it until after May 12, Mother's Day, in honor of the mothers of our defenders," said Miss Anna Jarvis of this city, founder of Mother's Day.

It is urged that the boys "over there" need money more than we need flowers "over here," and that the thousands of dollars annually spent on flowers to celebrate Mother's Day should be lent to the government.

JEWISH CHILDREN PARADE IN HONOR OF DELEGATES

Sing Patriotic Songs Along Line and Hear Addresses on Zionist Topics

Nearly 2000 Jewish school children paraded yesterday in honor of the 200 delegates who are in Philadelphia attending the four-day convention of the Mizrahi. Led by a band and carrying American and Jewish flags they marched from Sixth and Dickinson streets to Broad street and thence to the Walton, where they were addressed by Rabbi Moses Berlin, president of the council, which is a part of the Zionist organization; Rabbi R. L. Leventhal and Dr. Jacob Levinson. Patriotic songs were sung by the children along the line of march. They were led by Miss Elizabeth Nemirovsky.

Delegates from all over the country, representing the Orthodox Jews, members of the Jewish clubs of the United States and Canada, have gathered for the consideration of further war-work plans of their members and the measures ultimately to be adopted for the re-establishment of the Jewish race in reclaimed Palestine. After the parade the delegates were addressed by several Jewish churchmen.

WHAT'S DOING TONIGHT?

City charter revision discussion, City Club, 313 South Broad street, Members.

Reception to delegates to annual convention of clergy of Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania, home of Bishop Rhinelander, 251 South Twenty-first street.

Dr. Stephen S. Wise, New York, addresses combined meeting of Juvenile Aid Society, Orphans' Guardians, Young Women's Union and the Hebrew Sheltering Home and Day Nursery for Children, Mercantile Hall, Broad street above Market.

Entertainment William H. Horstmann Company Relief Association, Lu Lu Temple, 3 o'clock.

"Scherzerade," by Lu Lu Stage Company, Metropolitan Opera House, evening.

SCANDINAVIAN RED CROSS AUXILIARY

Wife of Norwegian Consul Organizes Women for Relief Work

A new war-work organization under the Naval Auxiliary of the Red Cross is the first of its kind among the Scandinavian population of Philadelphia.

The organizer, Mrs. Christian Moe, wife of the Norwegian and Danish consul here, is leading the members in knitting sweaters for the sailors of the American navy and in campaigning for money and more members.

During the month of its existence the new auxiliary has acquired a hundred members, who have made five sweaters, five scarfs and fifteen pairs of socks. The membership dues and all donations go to the Red Cross.

Officers of the organization are Mrs. Moe, chairman; Mrs. Peter Thompson, vice chairman; Mrs. Eric A. Brandt, Mrs. Christian Indahl, Mrs. Matthew Moe, Mrs. August Moe and Mrs. Sophie Lund. Meetings are held each Friday.

Reception for Pastor Tonight

This evening there will be a reception given by the members of the Lehigh Avenue Baptist Church to the pastor, the Rev. John V. Elson, in celebration of his second anniversary as pastor of the church. All the members received during the pastor's service will be the guests of honor. Mr. Vernon Elson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Elson, is a member of the crew of the University of Pennsylvania which defeated the navy crew at Annapolis. Young Mr. Elson is an expert swimmer as well as an oarsman and was rewarded last summer for his bravery in saving lives in Atlantic City.

Stanley
MARKET ST. BEL. 15TH
11:15 A. M. to 11:15 P. M.
ALL THIS WEEK
A GOLDWYN Picture

MARY GARDEN
In First Showing of
"THE SPLENDID SINNER"
A Modern Story Told in a Modern Way

MADGE KENNEDY
In "THE DANGER GAME"
"The Heart of the Sunset"
"The Heart of the Sunset"
EXCLUSIVE FIRST SHOWING

ARCADIA
MARKET ST. BEL. 15TH
10:15 A. M., 12:15, 2:15, 4:15, 9:30 P. M.

JACK PIERCE
In First Showing of
"Miles-Mirrored-Randall"
A PARAMOUNT Picture

VICTORIA MARKET ST. AT 9TH
ALL THIS WEEK
WM. FOX Presents
"WOMAN and the LAW"
Based on De La Salle's Tragedy
The Sensational Spectacle of the Year
Theda Bara as "Cleopatra"

GLOBE MARKET STREET AT SUTHER
11 A. M. to 11 P. M.
VAUDEVILLE
CONTINUOUS
"THE NEW PRODUCER"
MAURICE FREEMAN AND COMPANY
CROSS KEYS MARKET ST. BEL. 60TH
Daily—Twice Nightly
"The Fascinating Flirts"

FORREST EVENING AT 8 SHARP
MATS. WED. & SAT. AT 2

LAST 8 TIMES

THE GEOM. COHAN REVUE

WITH NORA BAYES AND ORIGINAL N. Y. COMPANY OF 125
LIMITED ENGAGEMENT
Commencing Monday Next
AUTHORIZED PHOTOPLAY VERSION OF Ambassador Gerard's
"MY FOUR YEARS IN GERMANY"
BLOOD-STIRRING FACTS
Twice Daily, 2:30 and 8:30
Evenings, 8:00, 8:15, 8:30, 8:45, 9:00, 9:15
Other Matinees, 2:30 to 7:00
Reserved Seats Now

BREAD WITHOUT WHEAT
Help to Win the War
MRS. M. A. WILSON
(Public Ledger Food Economist)
Lectures This Afternoon at 2:30 and Every Afternoon This Week in the Auditorium in the Curtis Building, Independence Square.

Tickets may be obtained without charge at Ledger Central, Broad and Chestnut streets, and Public Ledger Office, Independence Square.

RECI TAL
PROCEEDS FOR WAR RELIEF FUNDS
MAY 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31
EARL FROST
2817 STATE STREET, ROOM 204

BIGGEST SENSATION EVER KNOWN IN HISTORY OF PHILADELPHIA

WILLIAM BELLOTT, F. RAY CONRAD and MORRIS GIBST Present

D.W. GRIFFITH'S SUPREME TRIUMPH

HEART OF THE WORLD

The Sweetest Love Story Ever Told
A Romance of the Great War

GARRICK THEATRE

MAT. TODAY 25c
AND EVERY DAY 25c

Evgs. and Sat. Mats., 25c to 50c

Buy Seats in Advance

ADELPHI—Tonight at 8:15

LAST 8 TIMES

FINAL PERFORMANCE SAT. EVENING
POP. MAT. THURS.
BEST SEATS

THE MAN WHO CAME BACK

WITH NEW YORK CAST

CHESTNUT ST. OPERA HOUSE

DIRECTION MESSRS. SHUBERT
$1.00 MATINEES WED. AND FRIDAY
NIGHTLY $1.50, 2.00, 2.50, 3.00, 3.50, 4.00
(EXCEPT SATURDAY)

3D TRIUMPHANT WEEK

WEBER & FIELDS

IN THE SPARKLING MUSICAL COMEDY
BACK AGAIN
WITH THE DOLLY SISTERS
AND A COMPETENT CAST AND THE USUAL WEBER-FIELD CHORUS

LYRIC TONIGHT 8:15 P.

"OH, BOY!"
IS SOME SHOW AND THEN SOME
"OH, BOY!"
—Evening Ledger
POP. MATINEE WED. 25c

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE
Wednesday Evg., May 15, at 8

The American Red Cross
ANNOUNCES THE GREATEST AGGREGATE OF THEATRICAL STARS EVER SEEN IN ONE PLAY.

Clara Allen, John Arthur, James T. Powers, Leo McCarrine, Lauretta Taylor, Geo. M. Coban, Jan. E. Harcourt, Henry Mercer, Miss Elinora, Mrs. Charles E. Taylor, H. B. Warner

"OUT THERE"
The entire gross receipts of the play to be devoted to Red Cross Work.
Auction Sale of Boxes and Seats at Thelater, Thursday, May 9, at 8 P. M.
Tickets on Sale Friday, May 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31
Office, 1108 Chestnut St. Prices $2, $3, $4, $5, $10, $15, $20, $30, $50, $100, $150, $200, $300, $500, $1000

ACADEMY OF

TODAY at 2:15
Fred. G. Nixon
Offers Vital
OVER TO THE EMP
With Regt. A. ... who positively

B. F. KEITH'S THE
A MILLION-DOLLAR FABLE
LADY DUFF GRAYS
THE FASCINATING LEGEND
ROCKWELL & WOOD: COLORED
FLANAGAN & EDWARDS

CASINO MATINEE
WALTON ST. 11
TROCADERO