Rome, May 10.—The Holy See advanced the sum of $1,000,000 to the Catholic Bank Credito Centrale del Lazio, and saved that institution, in which thousands of farmers were depositors, from bankruptcy through loans made to Lucca Cortese, newspaper owner and theatrical manager, since tried on charges of fraudulent financial operations.

A run was started on the bank with the arrest of Cortese, and it was represented to the Pope that unless funds were forthcoming the poor among the investors, who had dealt with the bank mainly because it was reputed to be a Catholic firm, would be ruined. When pressed to define Germany's
