BISHOP BERRY ASKS VOTES FOR 'DRYS'

Methodist Ministers Urged to Ignore Party Affiliations to Support Prohibitionists

Bishop Berry asked the Methodist ministers today to ignore their party affiliations and to back up the prohibition candidates in the coming election. The ministers met in the Wesley Building.

"I find political wires are so crossed the situation is very complicated," said Bishop Berry. "Many men would rather see Republican candidates win than prohibition."

"From now on politics is even more important than revival. The men who stand for prohibition should have the Methodist support for the good of the city, State, nation and God."

Dr. Elmer Lynn Williams, "Fighting Parson" of Chicago, also addressed the ministers, speaking on "Honor, Hell and Hohenzollern, the Unholy Trinity."

Dr. Williams has served on the staff of the Chicago chief of police for the last six years. He has come to Philadelphia to urge the ministers to do all in their power to defeat the liquor forces in the coming election.

"The only institutions sacred to the Hun in the invaded lands were the breweries, demolished cathedrals, murdered old men and butchered children, but spared breweries. In our night on the sabbath we are in danger of losing the tail of some politician's kite."

Speaking before the Presbyterian ministers in the Witherspoon building today, Henry N. Pringle, assistant superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, Washington, told of his investigations of vice and illegal liquor traffic in eastern cities.

He showed on a screen children from four to six years old buying whiskey and beer in saloons in New York city.

"In Philadelphia," he told the ministers, "you are familiar with vice conditions."

The Reformed Ministers met at 15th and Race streets and passed a resolution commending noonday prayer for peace.

VARE TRICK FAILS IN BOZELLI CASE

Election Court Orders Re-enrollment of Town Meeting Candidate

President Judge Audenried and Judges Carr and Finletter today informed the registrars of the twentieth division, Twenty-sixth Ward, that they had made a mistake in refusing to permit Joseph Bozelli, Town Meeting candidate for the ward executive committee, to change his enrollment from a Democrat to a Republican on the last registration day.

The Vares counsel had objected to his sitting in any Republican committee, because he was enrolled as a Democrat.

Bozelli testified that after registering permission to change his enrollment was refused on challenges from Vares leaders of the division.

The registrars' action was upheld by the Board of Registration.

Bozelli said he was the victim of a trick on the part of the Vares people.

HAVE 'PATRIOTIC NIGHT'

Bookkeepers' Association Will Honor Soldier Members

A "Patriotic Night" will be celebrated by the Bookkeepers' Beneficial Association in Fraternity Hall, 1926-28 Arch street, this evening.

The organization has arranged a patriotic program of songs devoted to members in the military service. Robert E. Lambertson will deliver an address on "Patriotism." A. Duncan Youcum, University of Pennsylvania, will speak on "Democracy in the Schools," and A. Norden will discuss thrift stamps. There will be a musical program under the direction of J. E. E. Dalmasse.

ART WORKS ON DISPLAY

Graphic Sketch Club Exhibition Continues Until June 2

The nineteenth annual exhibition of paintings, drawings, sculpture and illustration of the Graphic Sketch Club is now being held in the club studio, 712-717-719 Catharine street. The exhibition opened yesterday and will continue until June 2.

The exhibition is said to be one of the best the club has had in recent years. "The Witch's Tree," by Albert J. Cauter, is one of the landscape scenes which attracted much attention at the opening exhibition.

DISCUSS BABY WELFARE

Director Krusen Speaks on "Children's Year"

At the fourth annual meeting of the Babies' Welfare Association in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon the organization's charter will be presented for acceptance. It was incorporated April 22.

Director of Health Krusen will speak on "The Children's Year—the Opportunity of the Division of Child Hygiene and the Babies' Welfare Association."

Enters Merchant Marine Class

John G. Spencer, 1827 Arch street, was accepted at the Custom House by the United States shipping board yesterday for training for the new merchant marine class.

He was one of forty-two accepted of which number twenty-four were from Massachusetts, six from New York State, four from New Jersey, three from Connecticut, two from Vermont and one each from Rhode Island, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

WE SAY IT AGAIN!

If you want a thoroughly delightful toilet soap, try our Pure Bath Soap, and you'll be satisfied. It's new while the price remains 12c a cake, a cake for 6c. Constantly rising cost of high-grade material has compelled price readjustment in the near future.

THE NOISELESS TYPEWRITER COMPANY

THE foreman of a boiler-making shop had a report to write. He was given a desk in the office. In ten minutes he was tearing his hair. "I can't stand the noise of that clackety-clack typewriter," he declared. "It keeps me from thinking."

The nerves of this man, accustomed to the resounding noises of the shop, could not stand the penetrating clatter of the ordinary typewriting machine. Its rapid fire "tat-tat" at the rate of 400 and more per minute spelt confusion to both nerve and brain.

Perhaps your ears are dulled to typewriter noise and your brain is not conscious of annoyance. But your nerves feel it. Each slender, sensitive nerve takes up sound waves like the antennae of the wireless—receives every click of the typewriter like a blow. And the endless shock-after-shock must tell in time.

For the sake of your own health and your employes', put in the Noiseless Typewriter. More and better work will result. Things will run more smoothly.

And your letters will look better. Aside from its blessed freedom from noise, the Noiseless does beautiful work. It does not rack itself to pieces. It is durable. It is practical. It is speedy. Its type cannot get dirty or out of alignment. It is a real typewriter.

We'll gladly put the Noiseless in your office for your own stenographer to try. No obligation is involved. Telephone or write.
