The response was spontaneous and surpassed the most optimistic expectations of campaign leaders. Wherever the workers were they were received as welcome guests, in some cases as comrades, and tens of thousands of pledges were entered.

The workers explain that $200,000 will have to be raised within one week to meet the needs of the various war welfare organizations which are merged in the War Chest, such as the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, the Salvation Army, the Y. M. H. A. and the Red Cross.

Individual pledges came in fast. Late yesterday afternoon the following contributions were reported: Thomas De Witt Copley, $25,000 a year; Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Fox, $25,000 a year; Robert K. Cassatt, $15,000 a year; Mr. and Mrs. Markov, $10,000 a year; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Wilson, $1800 a year; R. H. Wood, $1300 a year; Frank T. Chambers, $1200 a year.

English Blunder Seen

The feeling is that England has blundered in dealing with the Irish. Conspicuous of the Irish is felt by many to be the latest and worst mistake of all. But all the impatience that is felt over England's failure to tie in this loose end of her empire, to give the Irish what they want—consistently with England's own safety and the safety of the anti-German world—is forgotten in the feeling of disgust over the willingness of the Irish to imperil the freedom of the western Europe in the pursuit of their quarrel with their rulers.

Need America's Aid They alienated American opinion and in so doing they sowed the seeds for the present revolt. And the present difficulty cannot be settled apart from America.

These suggestions, seriously made, show what a factor American opinion is in Ireland. The present situation is an opportunity for the Administration one calling for great skill, it is true, but the Irish question is not likely to be solved until England and America are agreed upon it. This latest outbreak and the correspondence of inter-more for him. He wore the legion of honor, the Croix de Guerre, ten palms, and the medal militaire, in addition to four English medals, and the Montenegro war medal.

At the beginning of the war he enlisted as a second-class private in the French army. He got to be a mechanic for airmen and rose to the position of first lieutenant, which he held while in the Lafayette Escadrille. He was the most successful of all American fliers, and with William Thaw was the best known. His death is a heavy loss to the American air service, and his comrades are sworn to avenge him.

SEE NEED OF NEW PLANE TO BEAT "FLYING TANK"

Washington, May 21.—The type of airplane which overcame Major Raoul Lufbery, is known to our aviation experts. They know it as a low-powered machine which they predict will be matched by a weapon heavier than a machine gun and capable of piercing the thin armor carried by the new German planes.
