Nancy Wynne Predicts a Large Attendance at Coming Horse Show-Plans for Abington Fete Grow in the coming War Welfare Horse Show. which is to be held on the Devon grounds on the 6th. 7th and 8th of June. , Dr. Tom Ashton is chairman and William Wanamaker secretary, and about everybody else who is interested in horses around the country is interested in it too.

Importance

The luncheon will be served by the younger members of the Main Line branch of the Emergency Aid-I suppose that really means Emergency Aid aides-and they will also sell programs and be gen erally useful during the show, as per usual.

The cup committee is working awfully hard on its own particular branch of the event and has had a good deal of success. In addition to a lot of prizes already secured, it reports these other donors of cups, plates, Liberty Bonds and cash prizes; Mr. Samuel M. Vauclain, Mrs. Charles A. Munn, Jr., Mrs. Archibald Barklie, Mrs. Charlton Tarnall, Mr. William du Pont, Jr., Mr. John C. Perry, Mr. James Robinson, Mr. John McKee Bowman, president of the Biltmore Hotel, New York; Mr. Frederick F. Field, manager of the Brockton (Mass.) Horse Show; Mr. J. Emott Caldwell, Mr. Charles R. Hamilton, Mr. James Kater Jacob Reed's Sons, Mr. Butler Reeves, Mr. Robert C. Hooper, Van Dusen & Stokes and MacDonald & Campbell, Isabella Wansmaker is chairman of this committee and the others with her are Brownie Warburton and Constance Vauelain

It all sounds very exciting and quite before the warlsh, doesn't it? Doctor Ashton and Mr. Wanamaker declare that, viewed from three standpoints: First, as a social event with a charitable purpose; second, as a financial success, and third, as an exhibition of the "proudest horse flesh" in America, the Devon War Relief Horse Show not only provides to be a success, but just naturally will be one any way you look at it. Nearly all the boxes have been taken and the list shows some pretty good names, so I guess Devon will be of the best If not the best, in the country this year.

HAVE you heard about the signs they are to have out at Abington Hospital fete on June 5? Well, they've taken about every name from Thackersy they can think of, and the consequence is an array of the most fascinating signs is being get up by Guernsey Moore, who has arranged the posters for the show, too, and planned the oths and their artistic settings.

There's to be the Temple Bar thut sh! only soft drinks are to be sold, orangeade and such); then there'll be Vauxhall punch (that's to be fruit lemonade). Mrs. Warburton has charge of the Temple Bar. Besides this there will be the "Brompton Emporium. of Fine Arts." "Lord Steyne's Snuff and Tobacco Shop," "Mincing Lane," "Kew Gardens," "Mayfair," "Fleet Market" and dozens of other attractive names will be used for the signs on the numerous bootus.

TWENTY-ONE prizes have been douated I for the dog show, which is to be given in conjunction with "Vanity Fair."

As the time approaches for the affair many new attractions are added to the already long list of interesting exhibits and amusements. A children's playground will prove an ideal spot for the kiddles. There will be sand piles, slides, seesaws real ponies to ride and, what is especially dear to the hearts of all children, a real story teller, for Mrs. Sam Woodward will relate many interesting Indian legends for the benefit of the small visitors.

 $M^{\rm RS,\ H.\ M.\ NATHANSON\ has charge of the French Shop, where exquisite$ articles will be on sale, many having been donated from the exclusive shops of this city and New York. Mrs. Arthur Seligmann, who, it will be remembered, was the beautiful Gladys Snellenburg, who now lives in New York, will come over for this occasion and help her sister, Mrs. Nathanson, in this department. A fortune telling tent will be run by Mrs. Walter Waring Hopkinson, while Henry Riftenberg, the well-known portrait painter. is collecting for exhibition a large number of autographed posters. The decorations, which are in keeping with Thackeray's novel. "Vanity Fair." are being planned by Guernsey Moore. The Fashion Show will be one of the most attractive departments of this all-day exhibit and fete, which, under the direction of a committee of the Abington Hospital board, is planning to raise funds to build an isolation ward to the hospital. Many prominent dressmakers, milliners, as well as a number of the most exclusive shops. are contributing gowns, hats, summer furs and all sorts of lovely things, which will be displayed to their best advantage on Mrs. Harry Thayer, Mrs. Harry Hart, Mrs. Jay Lippincott, Mrs. Kearsley Harrison, Mrs. Walter Ross, Mis. Spencer Mulford, Jr., and Mrs. Alan Reed.

THERE is little doubt of the success of big chair and your young brother-in-law was eating steadily while his friends looked on with longing eyes. Suddenly he seemed to realize it, and hailing a passing waiter exclaimed with much flourish of the arm, 'Hey there! get these guys some cats." ..
