

BASEBALL A USELESS OCCUPATION? YES, IF THE PLAYER CAN'T HIT IN THE PINCHES

INCREASE IN RAILROAD PASSENGER RATES WILL HIT BASEBALL MOGULS

Will Pay Thousands of Dollars More to Travel, but Decrease of High-Salaried Players Will Tend to Lessen the Financial Strain

BASEBALL clubs, if they prove to be of use in no other way, are going to materially aid the nation by helping keep up the railroads.

Formerly the clubs purchased mileage books. Straight fare will now cost three cents a mile, or an increase of $10 on 1000 miles.

These added figures on the railroads mean that players in signing contracts in the future will not be able to dominate the magnates as they have done in the past.

In general, the clubs should not feel the extra railway rate, because so many of the high-grade players have already gone and have been replaced by lowered salaried performers.

The two big deals which have been most impressive are the Phillies-Cubs and Giants-Braves. When President Baker, of the local National League club, announced that he had sold Alexander and Killefer for $50,000.

But the Cubs are not the only club to feel this sting. The other big deal was the one in which Charles Herzog went to Boston for Jess Barnes and Larry Doyle.

The argument might be put up that any player is likely to go to the hospital. True, but at the same time it shows that even trades in veteran players are unlikely, because, as in the case of Doyle, older men in baseball are more subject to injuries and physical breakdowns than the younger men.

Problem for the Real Sport to Answer THE race track has been accused of being a hard-hearted institution, one that takes all and gives nothing.

Recently at the Jamaica track on Long Island a delegation of vendors was allowed fifteen minutes in which to sell tickets for the Red Cross boxing matches, which were to be held at Madison Square Garden.

Two Noted Speeders Lost to Turf WHEN the Metropolitan Handicap was run yesterday, it was noticed that the name of one of the best 1916 two-year-olds was not found among the money winners or the also rans.

Camp Fire was a sensation in 1916 as a two-year-old, winning the Hopeful Stakes and Futurity, two of the richest and most coveted two-year-old races of the American turf.

Southpaws Keep Yankees Going JUST as the Giants were carried to a pennant last season by southpaw pitching, the Yankees this season are being kept in the American League pennant race by three left-handers—Thormahlen, Mogridge and Love.

DAVENPORT AND HIS JINX CHASED TO THE SHOWERS AS A'S WALLOP ST. LOOIE

Dashing Dave Unable to Exercise Old Voodoo Spell on Mackmen and Comes to Grief—Larry Gardner's Hitting the Feature of the Game

OUR Athletics scored a double victory at the ball yard yesterday afternoon in full view of the spectators who gleefully availed themselves of the privilege of witnessing a battle which started promptly at 3:45 p. m.

Before he departed for Connie Mack and Joe Dugan was at bat. Not an ordinary condition, the batter would have struck out or something like that, but Joe's youth and inexperience saved him.

St. Loonie Gets Close At that time the A's were leading by the score of 2 to 1 and an inning was beginning to weaken.

Dave Is Canned However, Manager Jones was not so sure of Dashing Dave and Dashing Dave was canned at the end of the inning to make way for a stranger.

Gardner Hitting Again The most pleasing feature of yesterday's combat was the terrific thumping of Larry Gardner. The star third baseman seemed to have regained his batting eye and went through the game with an average of 1000.

Hits to All Fields Much has been written about "Pop" Young, the youthful phenom on the Giants, because he has left-handed and hits to left field.
