Injunction to Follow

This means that the lower court whincw undoubtedly issue an injunction restraining any further progress on the construction of the new library building, work on which has already been begun. The two lowest bidders for the ne library building were George A. Fuller & Co., and John Gill & Sons, the bid of the former being $2.570.000 subject to a deduction of $155.000 if the provisions of deduction of $155.000 if the provisions of the ordinance requiring the stone to be out in Philadelphia was eliminated. The latter's bid was $2.535,000 with a de-duction of $110,000 if the same provision was excluded. The bid of John Gill & Sons was accepted as being the lowest responsible bidder for work done within the city. The bid of Fuller & Co., how-ever, was lower if the provisions of the ordinance were eliminated. After the bid had been awarded, Taylor, as a tax-payer, applied for an injunction. This was the second taxpayer's suit against the library contract, the first

A salary of $4000 for William B. Mills, in reviving the position of assistant superintendent of police, was urged in a letter by Mayor Smith to the Finance Committee of Councils this afternoon. In another letter Mayor Smith op-posed the creation of any new positions and all increases in salary. In his letter asking the re-creation of the position for Mills and the $4000 salary Mayor Smith said he had been informed by Superintendent of Police Robinson that he was unable to "do justice" to his position because of the large amount of work. William J. McCloskey, Common Coun-cilman of the Sixteenth Ward, after de-claring the Mayor's letters were in di-rect contradiction of each other and stating he would vole against such a move because "you can't make fish of one and fowl of another." had a change of heart and introduced a resolution of heart and introduced a resolution providing an appropriation of $2000 to pay Mills's salary for the remainder of pay Mills this year.

LICK, click -- click, click, click -click, click, click-the typewriter tattoos the air in a dozen different places at once, setting up a veritable business Bedlam.

Concentration is out of the question. Nerves are out of tune. Tired and disturbed-literally boiling over inside, you come at last to the end of an imperfect day.

Segregation of typists is not the solution. The so-called sound-proofing of walls helps but little. The logical answer to the writing-machine-gun nuisance is found only in the Noiseless Typewriter.

This mechanical marvel is so ingeniously constructed that no noise is created. The Noiseless is really noiseless, and it is a real typewriter in the bargain. Write, telephone or call for a demonstration.

Philadelphians are a class unto themselves. Somehow (through no fault of ours) we do not know as many Philadelphians as we would wish. We want not only to know more Philadelphians. but we want more Philadelphians to know the Ritz.

May we ask you, then, to come here, and in a friendly spirit of rivalry compare cuisine, service and prices with the best you have found elsewhere. We hope to surprise you-pleasurably !

Our Roof Garden is now open. It's very pleasant, indeed-and a little unusual.
