SPROUL TO FEAST CITY COMMITTEE

Luncheon Wednesday First Step in Program to Re-unite Factions

HAYS TO BE SPEAKER

Vare-Controlled Body Also Will Attend Meeting of County Leaders

Senator Sproul, Republican gubernatorial nominee, will tender a luncheon to the members of the Republican City Committee and the local senatorial, legislative and congressional candidates in the Hotel Adelphia next Wednesday, following the reorganization meeting of the city committee.

The luncheon will be the first move in a program to bring about complete harmony between the rival Republican factions for the coming gubernatorial campaign. The second move will be the appearance of the Vare-controlled City committee in a body at the meeting of the State committee here on Friday, June 14.

Mayor Smith, all the county officials, the chairman of the forty-eight Republican ward committees and the candidates on the State ticket will be included among Senator Sproul's guests at the luncheon in the Hotel Adelphia.

At the meeting of the State committee the Vares and their city committee will sit in the same room with Senator Penrose and hear the plans for the campaign.

Hays to Speak for Harmony. National Chairman Will H. Hays is expected to address the gathering on the subject of harmony. Hays is mainly interested in the election of Republican Congressmen, but may touch in his remarks on the necessity of a united party in the State.

Details for the harmony program are understood to have been arranged at a conference held in the Manufacturers Club last night by Senator Sproul, Senator Vare and Congressman Vare, Sheriff Harry C. Ramsey, chairman of the Republican City Committee, and James M. Hazlett, Recorder of Deeds.

"We met Senator Sproul to discuss with him the coming campaign in Philadelphia," was the explanation given by Senator Vare concerning the conference with Senator Sproul.

It has been no secret in political circles for some time that the Vares expect to be recognized by Senator Sproul as the dominant Republican leaders in the city. They have made plans to take full charge of the local end of the Sproul campaign.

Senator Vare is understood to have given his pledge to Senator Sproul to support him for Governor during the session of the last Legislature. The Vares, however, never declared themselves until primary day for fear of incurring the wrath of Governor Brumbaugh who was desirous of their support for Highway Commissioner O'Neil.

Candidates to Attend

All of the candidates on the State ticket have been invited to attend the city committee meeting next Wednesday. Senator Sproul and W. S. Aron, one of the nominees for Congress at large, were the only two supported by the Vare forces. In return for the complimentary extended to the candidates the State committee has invited the Vare committee to attend its meeting.

The Vares, it is announced, will support the complete Republican ticket from top to bottom, including the senatorial and legislative candidates nominated in the city by the anti-Vare forces. Both the Vare and anti-Vare candidates are to be included in the list of Senator Sproul's guests at the Hotel Adelphia.

No provision has been made so far in the proposed harmony program for the Town Meeting party and the Republican Alliance. Both organizations plan to continue their headquarters in the Transportation Building, and arrangements have been made to conduct an energetic campaign for the election of the Republican State ticket as was waged prior to the primary.

RUDOLPH R. BAILEY DEAD Iron Works Head Was Seeking Health in Michigan

Rudolph R. Bailey, of 2347 North Broad street, president of the John Bailey Iron Works and the City Iron Works and Machine Company on South Delaware avenue, and a brother of John H. Bailey, Common Councilman of the Thirtieth Ward, died at Mount Clemens, Mich., yesterday after an absence of several weeks from his home in this city in an effort to recover his broken health.

EXPLOSIVES ON SHIP LAID TO GERMAN SPY

Indict Algerian Believed to Have Acted at Direction of Teuton Agent

Suspected of being in the employ of the German Government, Defehri Mohand, an Algerian, was today indicted by the Federal Grand Jury on a charge of attempting to export component parts of high explosive.

Discovery of two-and-a-half pounds of ferroportium, a highly inflammable ingredient used in the manufacture of explosives, saved the steamship Orion from possible destruction by fire while at sea.

Mohand, a butcher on the Orion, took the inflammable material aboard the ship March 11, and stored it with a cargo that was to be delivered at Genoa, Italy, for the Allies. Customs officers inspecting the cargo found the ferroportium and an investigation led to the arrest of Mohand. His explanation was that he had taken the stuff aboard for "some one else."

Assistant United States District Attorney Kremp declared the Government has evidence that Mohand bought the inflammable materials for $80 a few days before he took them aboard the vessel. Mr. Kremp explained that because of the combustible character of the stuff, it could easily have been ignited in bumping against other boxes in the cargo, and the ship would have been on fire in a jiffy.

The act of Mohand in attempting to take the explosive parts aboard is in violation of the espionage law, said Mr. Kremp.

SUN MEN TO AID RED CROSS

Wrestling Will Be Feature of Benefit at Chester

A Red Cross benefit with unique features will take place Saturday afternoon at the Sun Shipbuilding company's yard, Chester.

Frank Grinstead, a riveter, who claims the middleweight wrestling championship of New Jersey, is more than willing to take on "Cyclone" Rees, and is even taking all bets that the "Cyclone" cannot pin him to the mat.

The bout will be staged in the center of the big athletic field about 2.30, and one-half the gate receipts are to go to the Red Cross.

INDICTED FOR MAIL THEFTS

Two Men Accused of Stealing Packages Addressed to Soldiers

Thefts of packages containing cigarettes and candy for soldiers at Camp Meade, Camp Gordon and Camp Hancock led to the indictment of Post Grand Jury today of C. Harold Moyer and Arthur C. Hartman, who live in Berks County, and who were employed as substitute railway mail clerks.

Considerable losses of this kind resulted in an investigation by Postal Inspectors Hawksworth and McVieker, and the trail led to Moyer and Hartman. They will be tried some time this month.

James McDowell, formerly a clerk in the Penn Square Station, was indicted on the charge of stealing a letter addressed to the Red Cross and containing $2.50.

Municipal Appointments

City appointments today include Jesse H. Dando, 1425 Rockland street, assistant teacher, Board of Recreation, salary, $900; John J. GOAL OF WAR CHEST VIRTUALLY REACHED

Amount Actually Counted Only $43,477 Short of $20,000,000 Mark

With reports from many committees in the Five Counties War Chest drive still not tabulated, the grand total has reached $19,556,523. This amount is but $43,477 short of the desired $20,000,000.

The full reports, which are expected to send the campaign well "over the top" will be returned before the end of the week. Contributions of $349,114.98 from the public schools of the city, announced this morning did much to raise the hope of the campaign directors that more than $100,000 above the goal would be realized.

More Reports

The central district teams, headed by Joseph B. Myers and Mrs. Paul Donelka Mills, made reports yesterday, which brought their totals to $284,914.65, representing 8736 subscribers. The total from the industrial employes of South Philadelphia reached $45,600 yesterday, which is $53,000 above the district's quota. Powell Evans is conducting the campaign in this part of the city.

Common Pleas Court No. 5 established a 100 per cent record, according to an announcement made yesterday of total subscriptions of $2500. J. Willis Martin is president judge of the court, and his associates are Judge William H. Staake and Judge John Monaghan. The following jewelry stores have also made a perfect record, according to the announcement of Chairman Wilson A. Streeter: D. Atlas & Co., Combes Van Roden, Samuel Deusch, Charles H. Hamby, Harburger Brothers, Emil J. Hertz, Ernest Kauffmann, T. S. Mitchell, Isadore Sagorsky, Robert L. Sanders, William Stern and Charles H. Dean.

Seasidemen Help

A collection among longshoremen and dock laborers netted $61.05. Team No. 150, announced an additional $100, including a $500 pledge by Mrs. Gladys K. Colket. Team No. 40 reported $803 more. St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal Church sent $29 taken in a collection.

Little Sylvia Orr, three years old, 791 South Second street, and in a Red Cross uniform, was brought to the War Chest headquarters by her father to deposit $2.25 which she had collected on the corner of South and Christian streets. A contribution of $100 was received from an aged Russian, Solomon Scherner, 821 North Broad street, who made the sacrifice to the cause of humanity instead of spending the money to take a rest during the summer.

"I gladly give up my rest this summer," he said, "to add a little comfort to the soldiers and sailors who are suffering for us."

YACHT OWNERS EXEMPT

Pleasure Craft and Launches Not Under Coal and Oil Ban

Owners of pleasure yachts and launches operated by gasoline are not included in the fuel administration ruling denying the use of coal and oil as fuel on pleasure craft.

The order, which was issued May 29, establishing a regulation to restrict fuel consumption to private yachts and all manner of pleasure craft, does not include gasoline. To the many queries directed from this city to Fuel Administrator Garfield the following answer is given:

"The fuel administration has issued no order affecting the use of gasoline in pleasure launches or automobiles."

LANCASTER MAN KILLED

William Kellish First Man of That City to Die in Battle

Lancaster, Pa., June 5.—The first Lancaster man to be killed in action is William Kellish, twenty-four years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kellish, according to telegram received from the War Department last night.

Kellish's death will put the first gold star in the great service flag of the St. Joseph Catholic Club. Kellish enlisted a year ago. He was well known here as a ball player.

THREE CHILDREN DIE IN STREET MISHAPS

Autotruck, Touring Car and Trolley Crush Out Young Lives

Street accidents have claimed three more children in this city. The three young lives were snuffed out within a few hours yesterday while merry-making children romped at their games in the northern section of the city.

The victims were Marie Madden, nine years old, 1315 Green street; James Gross, five years old, 2112 North Orkney street; and Stephen Narinko, nine years old, 1108 East Fletcher street.

A pathetic incident in the death of Gross was that his life was crushed out by an automobile truck driven by his uncle, John Cook, of Kensington. The accident occurred at Orkney and Diamond streets. The boy died instantly.

The Madden girl was crossing Broad street at Master when she was run down by a touring car. The front wheels passed over her chest, crushing it. She was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital, where she died within an hour without regaining consciousness.

Stephen Narinko was playing baseball with companions at Girard avenue and Fletcher street, when he was killed. A fly ball had been hit into the street and the boy, unmindful of the dangers, was chasing the ball when he was struck by a Girard avenue trolley car. He was dead when taken from under the car.

Six Trainmen Killed in Collision

Hartington, Vt., June 3.—Six trainmen were killed and four others are not expected to live as a result of a head-on collision between a mixed train and a wrecking engine on the Central Vermont Railroad on the tunnel under North Avenue here. A misunderstanding of orders caused the accident.

The Ediphone never takes a vacation

Stenographers and "vacations" and The Ediphone

Here they are right ahead—vacations. Usually they mean one of two things: "substitutes," or correspondence snarled up owing to doubling up of work. And it's worse this year—office staffs already are short. Add that to "vacations" and you are facing a tidy problem if you are depending upon the shorthand system.

If you would really like some intelligent help this year—help that you will tie-to for all-year service—you will take the few minutes necessary to find out why The Ediphone has replaced shorthand in thousands of business offices. To the everlasting comfort and efficiency of the stenographer and the "boss."
