

Evening Public Ledger

Philadelphia, Friday, June 7, 1918

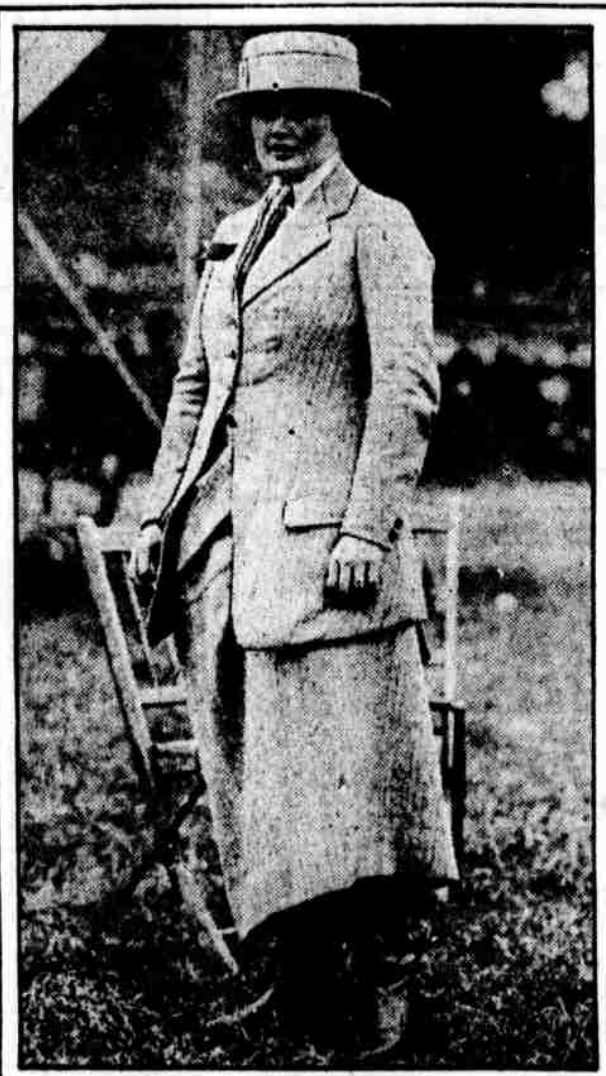

NOW IT'S THE DEVON HORSE SHOW DOING ITS BIT FOR WAR RELIEF—A PAGE OF LIVE NEWS PICTURES

EVERYBODY LOVES a horse show, as this considerable line-up at Devon would attest.

WITH THE SKILL of the expert equestrienne, Miss Mary E. Cassatt negotiates the jumps at the Devon show.

THE EQUESTRIAN REPRESENTATIVE of Miss Isabella Wanamaker won a first prize cup, of which they are mutually proud.

NO WAR IN WHICH AMERICA is participating would be complete without merciful nurses. "over here" caring for the wounded. Therefore, these American women in hospitals behind the battleline. International Film Service

IT SHOULD NOT be lost sight of that the Emergency Aid is to benefit from the Devon Horse Show. Selling flowers for that laudable organization is Miss Sarah Franklin.

"AMONG those present," as the writers say, was Mrs. Victor Mather, who enthusiastically followed the various events of the show.

WAR RELIEF IS NEVER without its champions these days, which accounts for the rummage sale at 1734 Chestnut street. Members of the committee of supplies are, left to right: Mrs. W. O. Rowland, Mrs. H. B. Robb and Mrs. Charles S. Starr.