German bombs and long-distance guns flashed through the manager's mind as he dodged and pulled his companion down with him, the menacing object barely missing Miss Talmadge. It fell at her feet, but failed to explode save vocally, and on examination they found it to be a large pigeon, evidently injured in flight and unable to keep aloft.

Miss Talmadge picked it up and insisted on taking it back to the studio. There a bird doctor was called in and after a consultation, announced that his patient would get well with the proper treatment. Miss Talmadge secured board and lodging in a bird hospital for Peter, and, as a result, he is living on the seed of the land and preening all the feathers he didn't break on his arrival, and Miss Talmadge is planning to put · Philadelphia has been declared the most hospitable of 300 cities with regard to the relationship between the fighting man and the public, according to a report filed in Washington by the Fosdick commission on training camp activities.

This same commission some time ago declared Philadelphia a city of immoral surroundings unfit for the fighting man, Its report resulted in Colonel Charles B. Hatch being sent here by Secretary Daniels as the law-enforcing officer in the navy's crusade against vice.

It also resulted in a police upheaval in this city, during which Superintendent Robinson was given a leave of absence of a month and Captain William B. Mills was installed as acting lam B. Mills was installed as acting police head. Mr. Mills is now acting assistant superintendent of police, directly in charge of ridding the city of vice. He is Colonel Hatch's appointee.

All receipts records were broken by the alistar tour of the Red Cross play
"Out There," which had its final performance in Pittsburgh on June 1.
Hartley Manners's touching drama, acted by the leaders of the American stage, earned for the Red Cross the sum of $450.600. This nugget, however, was only a portion of the funds secured for humanity through the theatres. The Shuberts announce that more than $102.000 was collected in their house throughout the country, and that the sum taken at the Winter Garden alone amounted to $17.768.
