Nancy Wynne Talks of Charlotte Cushman Club's Fete at Mrs. George Fales Baker's Tomorrow-Other Matters of Interest

party, which will be given tomorrow untry place of Dr. and Mrs. George es Baker, in Rosemont, is going to be delightful, don't you think?

It will be quite novel, too, because it's take the form of an out-of-door musicale well as tea, and there will be the lovely keround of the Baker place, together of the quaint costumes of the two singers. see, Mrs. Sydney Hutchinson has conwill appear in a charming old-time cosume to sing several series of songs; then eth Latta, whose fresh, sweet mezzo rano is always a delight, also will sing. Among other songs planned is "Joan of which Miss Latta will sing, and used in the French colors. Mrs. James e, who is one of the Charlotte Cushman Club's board, tells me that she hears from "over there" that the French are y enchanted and deeply touched at ne thought of our having made such a favorite of this song of "the Maid of Or-leans," and it's one of the treats over there to have the Yankee boys sing it to the French people. Well, copies of the song and Mrs. Emott Hare has a number of war cakes and war rolls which she will se of. Each cake or roll will have a scipe attached, so you see the party is to very patriotic.

Mrs. Robert Hare Davis, Mrs. Mahlon Kline and Mrs. Wilmer Biddle will sell all orts and kinds of bags and Mrs. Edward Finck and her daughter Sarah will sell

Mrs. Samuel Chew, the president of the b, and Mrs. Wilmer Biddle will preside at the tea table. The tickets for the party lude tea, lemonade and cake, I understand; and, furthermore, Mrs. Baker has iven these refreshments, together with Another interesting feature will be the ading of fortunes from the hand by Mrs. Walter Waring Hopkinson.

The board of governors has offered the use to the Government for the summer or the lodging of fifteen girls. You know how difficult it has been for the housing ssion to find suitable places to recmend the girls who have come up from Washington to work for the Emergency et Corporation. It must be a satisfaction to the board to alize how very successful it has been in tarting and upholding the work and to w what good has been done in it all. Ith the money procured from tomorrow's mair it will be able to make the few alrations and improvements needed, and saides being able to turn it over to the Government for the summer, it will be ready in the fall for the season of 1918-1919.

WELL, the Taylors are certainly springing some surprises on un these days, are they not? Last week it was Bill whose ngagement to Pauline Maynard, of Knoxville, Tenn., was announced, and now it's one of the sweetest girls in town, and at's saying a good-deal. It's Anne Meirs! fou remember, Anne came out last year before the war. Her father, the late Dick Melrs, died just about a year ago and Anne has been in deep mourning. But she has been doing much war work and I mly believe there are not many girls who are so well loved as she.

She is the great-granddaughter of the te Mr. William Weightman, you know, and a great-niece therefore of Mrs. Frederic Penfield. Her grandmother is Mrs. ones Wister and she is a cousin of Marie the is pretty and dainty and charming, and ing Lieutenant Taylor is decidedly to be gratulated.

What do you think? They sold one pieture at Vanity Fair for as much as $110, and you will acknowledge that's pretty good in wartimes.

THE Red, White and Blue Club of Lans downe, composed of seven little girls from ten to thirteen years old, gave a fair Priday afternoon at the residence of Dr. Lee H. P. Maynard, 15 Windermere cenue, for the benefit of the Red Cross. When I asked the secretary about it this

The people of Lansdowne are much interested in gardening, and always in the spring and in the fall there are flower shows given by the Lansdowne Flower Association. The ninth annual spring show was held this year at the Twentieth Century Club on Wednesday evening. The large auditorium was filled with all kinds of wonderful roses, arranged on long tables. There were peonles and larkspur, sweet william, columbine and all the other garden flowers of this season of the year. A particularly attractive exhibit was the large artistically arranged basket of flowers sent by Mrs. J. C. Wright, which won first prize. The kiddles had a table all to themselves and there were all sorts of wild flowers there and some cuming pansies.

WOMEN CAR OWNERS SHOULD WASH THEM

Not Such a Difficult Job and Preserves Luster for Two Years

The proper washing of an automobile takes time and it must be done at the right time. To wash a limousine properly requires two hours' careful, steady, hard work A touring car doesn't take so long.

If mud is allowed to dry on the car it is harder to get off and stains the varnish permanently. Mud should never be permitted to remain on a car overnight. If a chauffeur expects to keep his car looking fine he must flush off the mud at night, no matter how late it is. The work need not take more than half an hour and the car can be thor oughly washed and polished in the morning.

using water with too much force and washing the hood before it is cooled. Most public garages where cars are washed start late in the evening, and if a car has been used in the morning the mud, of course, has had a chance to dry and the varnish will never look so well again.

it is luck or a particular good job of finish-ing. It would not look well if your driver had not put a good deal of time on his work, which he might have Shirked. In olden days no coachman would permit

Varnish on automobiles is subject to the same troubles, and it ought to look better, because it does not have ammonia fumes of the stables to contend with.

Don't let the soapy water stand more than five minutes on the varnish. Follow with a washing with clean water, because all the mud and grease should come off by this time. Leave it alone to dry. That completes the right-hand front part of the chassis and the same work should be decreased.

pletes the right-hand front part of the chassis and the same work should be done on the three other wheels and adjacent parts.

Take another clean sponge and, with the water still flowing from the hose, start at the left-hand front of the body and flow all the dust off. There will be no need for soap, because machine oil or road oil is seldom spattered on the body. After flowing the water on them, go over the entire body again with the hose and a wet sponge and wash it. Go entirely around the car, including the top of the fenders to the left side, but don't wet the bonnet.

After it is all done wash the bonnet and the top of the radiator.

Washing an automobile is not an intricate procedure, yet few women car owners know the correct way to go about it. A good finish should last not less than two years if it is properly cared for.

a new carriage to go unwashed, no matter how late he came into the stable at night. You must treat an automobile the same way.

Soap, gasóline or anything of the kind intended to cut grease will attack varnish if allowed to stand on the car, because oil is an important part of varnish. Hot water takes the luster from varnish. Dissolve a little good automobile soap in a pail of water to make a soapy solution. Have a good soft carriage sponge ready. Start with the right-hand front wheel and the under side of the fender and that part of the chassis nearby.

in with a hose and a sponge and wash it off.

Let the water flow from the hose in a gentle stream, so that it will carry about six inches from the end of the hose. Go over the wheel, etc., first with water from a hose. Most of the mud will come off. There may be road oil or machine oil, which re-quires soap. In that case put some of the soapy water on these parts, sopping it on freely. After that has been done, start right

After his course there he went to Switzerland, and is now right at the front. His sister, Mrs. Michael Elfman, 638 Pine street, heard from him from Picardy, but at present his position is not known. He is in charge of his own unit, with 3000 men under him. He writes to his sister:

"I am in the best of health and enjoying myself hugely. Just to prove it, I'll read you a little poem that I managed to put together. Here goes—hold your breath:

"I remember, I remember

The trench where I got wet,

The little loophole where the boche
His deadliest sniper set.

He never shot a sec, too soon,

He never shot a sec. too soon, Nor winged a Sammee once. But how I often wished his gun

Were not so close to us.

Where the bullets used to ping. And through the air they rushed as swift As swallows on the wing.

My courage nearly left me then,

I own it to you now;

The summer pool could hardly cool

The fever on my brow. "I remember, I remember The windmill dark and high; I used to think its broken top Was close against the sky.

It was a rookie's ignorance,
But now 'tis little joy

To know I'm going back again
Where the guns my peace destroy."
