OVERBROOK SENDS OUT ANOTHER LIST OF TEST QUESTIONS FOR GOLFERS

Golf Club Is Doing Splendid Educational Work in Instructing Players in Rules and Etiquette of the Game

The Overbrook Golf Club is doing more to teach its members the rules of golf than any other golf club in the Philadelphia district.

Your committee herewith presents some additional questions, this time on the subject of golf etiquette. This should be an excellent test of your knowledge of these rules, which every golfer should know and observe.

Second. A match has driven from the tee, when should the following players drive?

After players have holed out, how many practice putts may be made before following match is allowed to approach green?

Should players looking for a lost ball permit following strokes to be made to pass them? How much time is allowed to look for lost ball before giving signal for following match to pass?

When player has incurred a penalty stroke, when should he intimate the fact to his opponent?
