QUIT WASHINGTON TERMINAL
 Lee and Thompson Succeeded by Tatnall and County
 Elisha Lee, of Philadelphia, and A. W. Thompson, of Baltimore, resigned as vice presidents and directors at a special meeting of the board of directors of the Washington Terminal Company. Mr. Lee recently was appointed Federal manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Line East, and Mr. Thompson of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Line East. Henry Tatnall, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, was elected a director, succeeding Mr. Lee. George M. Shriver, vice president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, was made director and vice president, succeeding Mr. Thompson. The Washington Terminal Company is the corporation which was organized to construct and operate the Union Station in Washington.

PUPILS TO SPEED FLEET
 Boys and Girls to Make Engine Parts
 Both boys and girl students of the city's high schools will begin work on small engine parts for the Emergency Fleet Corporation within a week. The manual training shops of the Northeast, West Philadelphia and Southeast schools will be the boys' workrooms and the girls will work at the Central High School. If enough girl students are not available, a plan may be adopted whereby outside workers will be accepted. The pupils will be paid a minimum wage of $1.50 per week. A "corporation" has been outlined to take care of the students' interests and insure continuance of work.

MURDOCK WILL VISIT "IRREGULAR" BOARDS

State Investigator Extends Probe for Personal Quiz of Accused Draft Officials

Every draft board in Philadelphia charged with irregularities in its work will be visited by Major W. G. Murdock, the draft officer, before he leaves for Harrisburg. The major hoped to be able to report to Adjutant General Frank D. Beary, his superior, whom he represents in the Philadelphia draft probe, tonight, but admitted today that his investigation would have to be extended. The report that there is a variance of feeling between the United States District Attorney and the Harrisburg draft office appears to have gained much weight in the last few days. Major Murdock said today he would try to confer with T. Henry Walnut, Assistant United States District Attorney, this afternoon. He intended seeing Mr. Walnut, who has charge of the federal investigation into the Philadelphia draft muddle, yesterday. Adjutant General Beary in an official statement denied that there was anything serious in the draft conditions in Philadelphia. It is believed since Major Murdock conducted the preliminary investigation here, the basis for Adjutant General Beary's statement was in the major's report. The calling of the special Federal Grand Jury to hear charges of shady dealings in the working of the conscription by United States District Attorney Kane has taken on all the likelihood of a retaliation upon the "whitewash" statement from Harrisburg. Major Murdock said today, "that I personally visit every local draft board which has been charged with irregularities in the working of the draft."

HOLD HEARING TODAY ON SIX-CENT FARES

Councils' Railway Committee Will Hear Arguments of Bill's Opponents

Councils' Street Railway Committee will hold this afternoon the first of a series of public meetings on the bill introduced in Councils by Mayor Smith, proposing six-cent trolley fares for Philadelphia. The committee will sit in the Finance Committee room of Councils at the City Hall at 1:30 o'clock. Organizations and individuals opposed to the proposed increase will be permitted to voice their objections, and later counsel for the Rapid Transit Company will advance arguments for the measure. In the absence of Select Councilman Seger, chairman of the committee, who is ill at his home in Atlantic City, a temporary chairman will be chosen. The committee expects to make its report to Councils at the first of the fall meetings in September. If the proposal wins early favor, however, a special meeting of Councils will be called before that time to receive the report and act upon it. Official notice of today's meeting was sent to Mayor Smith, William Hancock and Colonel Sheldon Potter, representing the city in the P. R. T. directorate; Director Twining, department of transit; Thomas E. Milton, president of the P. R. T.; Ellis Ames Ballard, chief counsel for the company; the United Business Men's Association and numerous other organizations.

TO EXHIBIT RELIEF WORK

Quaker City Ladies' Auto Club Auxiliary to Give Tea
 The Quaker City Ladies' Auto Club Auxiliary to the American fund for French wounded, of which Mrs. William H. Marshall is chairman, will give a tea at its rooms in the Hotel Walton this afternoon. It will display the first shipment of clothing and comforts which it will send abroad. These articles represent one month's work and suggest in number and in practical value the earnest and constant work which has been given by the auxiliary providing for wounded soldiers and their families. The invitation extended by the auxiliary is a general one.

LOSES IDENTIFICATION DISC

Sergeant Cormack, Canadian Army, Seeks Missing Badge
 Sergeant J. Shannon Cormack, who has been delivering talks on the war before the Kiwanis, Rotary and other clubs of the city and has been heard nightly on the stage of the Forrest Theater, discovered last night while delivering his address that he had lost his identification disc. Sergeant Cormack attaches great value to this disc, having worn it on his wrist during three years' service with the Canadian army in France. He will pay a liberal reward to any one returning it to the box office of the Forrest Theater. The disc is of aluminum, is numbered 3949 and bears the name Sergeant J. Shannon Cormack. It also bears the inscription General Staff Canadian Corps. Also the capital letter "P" which indicates that Sergeant Cormack is of the Protestant faith.

RACE FOR SUPREME BENCH

C. B. Lenahan, of Wilkes-Barre, Already in Field
 The blocking of the Palmer-McCormick plan to have a resolution put through the Democratic State Committee "commending" Governor Brumbaugh for his appointment of Edward J. Fox, a Democratic lawyer of Easton, may precipitate a free-for-all scramble for the minority place on the Supreme Court bench, which is to be filled at the November election. Judge John M. Garman, of Wilkes-Barre, who for many years was active in the old-guard faction of the Democratic party, is out with a statement for Charles R. Lenahan, a well-known lawyer of Wilkes-Barre. "Mr. Lenahan's name will go upon the ballot," Judge Garman announces, "and his candidacy will receive a merited endorsement from many members of the legal profession." Judge W. H. Bechtel, of Schuylkill County, is mentioned as another probable candidate, and it is understood there will be a number of others in the field. Nominating papers must be filed forty days prior to the election.

INASMUCH TENT SERVICE

Patriotic and Religious Meetings Open Saturday Night
 Patriotic and religious meetings will be held in a tent at Sixth and Locust streets during the summer by the Inasmuch Mission. The first meeting, in the way of a dedication, will be held next Saturday night, when Bishop Rheinlander and the Rev. Dr. Floyd W. Tompkins will speak. The tent will seat about 1000 persons. Meetings will be held every night except Monday. Professor Warkins Davis, former actor, will lead a large trained chorus. On Sundays George Long, superintendent of the Inasmuch Mission, will preach morning and evening, and Mrs. Long will hold afternoon meetings.

FIRE DESTROYS HORSES

Damage of $75,000 to Waverly Ice and Coal Company
 Several horses were burned to death and damage of $75,000 resulted when fire swept the plant of the Waverly Ice and Coal Company, South Fifty-fourth street, adjoining the Pennsylvania Railroad, last night. Occupants of several houses in Fifty-fourth street, between Thomas and Whitty avenues, were awakened and hurried to the streets when the flames threatened to envelop their homes. Wallace and Mary Curry, children of John Curry, 907 South Fifty-fourth street, were rescued by firemen when their home caught fire. The origin of the fire has not been determined.

The NOISELESS TYPEWRITER

 Send for these two booklets
 One is called "The Typewriter Plus" and gives you a complete description of the machine itself.
 The other is captioned "Why I Like the Noisless" and sets before you in a close, personal way the experience of a number of stenographers.
 Both of these booklets are interesting and instructive. We believe you will be as much impressed by the speed and durability of the Noisless as by its blessed freedom from noise. It is, truly, "The Typewriter Plus."
 The two booklets mentioned above will be mailed to you gladly and promptly on request by telephone or letter. It is understood, of course, that the request involves no obligation.
