Shortage of Workers at Steel Plant Hampers U. S. War Work

MUST BUILD 1500 HOMES Housing Up to Government. Men Say They are "Docked" for Patriotism

Bethlehem, Pa., June 20. America's shipment of more than 800,000 troops to France has so increased the demand of the army and navy on the ordinance departments of the Bethlehem Steel Company that between 5000 and 6000 machinists are needed at once to keep the work up to contract requirements.

Have Kept Work Moving "We have managed to keep the work moving along with our contracts, but when you consider that we are the largest reliance of the army and navy you see the part we play."

Protels from Electricians Complaints come largely from the electricians employed by the company over working conditions and hours of labor.

Additional depositions made by workers to the investigators of the war labor board were read into the record today.

ENEMY WILL FIND AMERICANS READY FOR ANY NEW ATTACK By EDWIN L. JAMES Special Cable to Evening Public Ledger

With the American Army on the march, June 20. For the last three days there has been comparative quiet in the American sector northwest of Chateau-Thierry.

There is much speculation as to what the next ten days will bring on our front. While it is known that the German command is very much displeased with the American successes, it is not at all established yet what it plans to do.

As the damage done our units in ten days of fighting is being rapidly repaired, and if the Germans make another drive where American troops are present, they will find them ready.

O'LEARY TO TESTIFY IN BROTHER'S BEHALF

Jeremiah Expected to Say John Did Not Know of Plan to Fleec

New York, June 20. Jeremiah A. O'Leary will take the witness stand before Judge A. N. Hand and a jury in the United States District Court today as a witness for his brother, John J. O'Leary.

The defense will attempt to show, by the establishment of an alibi and otherwise, that John O'Leary did not buy the tickets on which Jeremiah O'Leary and Arthur L. Lyons fled through St. Louis and Denver to the chicken farm at Sara, Wash.

Colonel Thomas J. Feltner, counsel for John J. O'Leary in the trial of the latter, said today that the evidence which was presented in his behalf was sufficient to show that John O'Leary was a fugitive from justice.

FEMINE FASCINATION A Charm That Probably Lies in Kindness and Selfishness

A vivacious woman writer seeking the secret of feminine fascination finds it in the art of never showing one's self as a bluff Britisher phrased it, "on ripping good terms with themselves."

More than any other animal the dog can sink his personality, so to speak, subordinate himself and make his master's interests his own.
