

A PAGE OF FUN FOR YOUNG AND OLD TO REMIND ONE THAT LIFE IS NOT ALL SHADOW

(THIS PAGE IS FULLY PROTECTED BY COPYRIGHT)

THE GUMPS—Andy Poses for Another Picture

Copyright, 1918, by The Tribune Co. By SIDNEY SMITH

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

And $7.50 Is a Small Wage

Cause and Effect

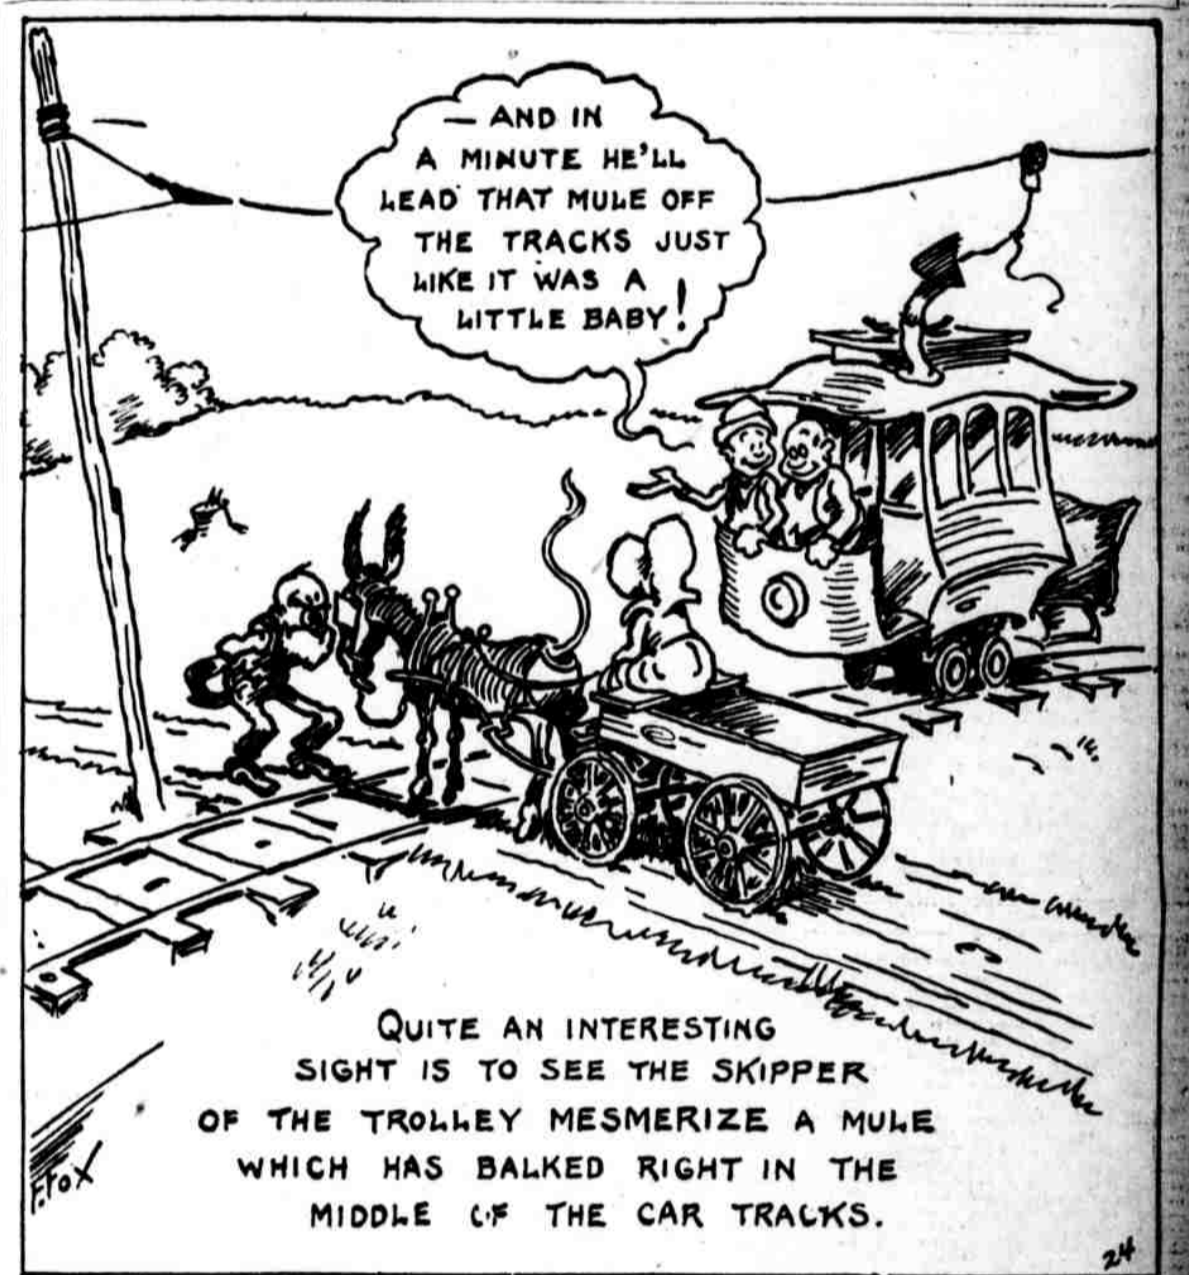

The Passing Show. First Munion Worker—Wot's the matter matey? Second Ditto—I 'ad an awful dream last night. I dreamt we'd gone back to thirty bob a week.

Cornell Widow. "Say, what makes Bill snore so?" "Well, why shouldn't he? Wasn't he always a round sleeper?"

THE TOONERVILLE TROLLEY

By FONTAINE FOX

QUITE AN INTERESTING SIGHT IS TO SEE THE SKIPPER OF THE TROLLEY MESMERIZE A MULE WHICH HAS BALKED RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF THE CAR TRACKS.

The Young Lady Across the Way

Mash Him! He—You know they don't let us sing when we have our gas masks on! She—Do tell! Why? He (cautiously)—They are afraid we'll strain our voices.—Awgwan.

Prepared Old Lady—Does your father live in the fear of the Lord? Kid—I reckon he does—least-ways he allus takes a gun with him when he goes out Sundays.—Gargoyle.

THE DILEMMA

Wife—Whatever can we do? We've finished our gas ration and the sausages are only half cooked. Shall we risk a prosecution for exceeding the gas allowance—or chance getting botulism? —London Opinion.

BROAD AN' CHESTNUT

By BUNNY

EVENING LEDGER COMICS

By DEMOSTHENES MCGINNIS

Once again they're assembled according to rule In columns stout-hearted and strong. They come by the Toonerville Trolley to school With Peley, who never does wrong. But you'll notice the Gumps are today playing trumps. At the top of the page they're in view. Their comical faces fill up all the spaces, So what are the bunnies to do?

Well, they've done what they can their contentment to show; Spite of Hoover they're now flying high; Which is why The Young Lady Across the Way, do, Says she's heard that typesetters like pie. She's so happy and gay we shall not say her nay. Though no printer her views will applaud. Just see the Jack Horners 'way up in their corners— And also at Chestnut and Broad.

Brute

Husband—I thought you had given up burnt-wood art, dearie. Wife—George, how can you be so heartless! This is a pie!—Hartford Courant.

Just as Good

"Did you go yachting with your girl this afternoon?" "Oh, no; we just had a little smack on shore."—Florida Times-Union.

NOT QUITE

By BUNNY

"Every thing Alright sir He Had the nerve To ask But Handing something Raw to me Is Not An Easy Task!

TOMMY TRIES CAMOUFLAGE WITH GREAT SUCCESS

The man will do better on the firing line if he is skilled at the waist-line, says the artist.

PETEY—It's Not the Style to Go Swimming Nowadays, Pete

By C. A. VOIGHT

yes everything is quite alright except the food and service and this little overcharge of ninety cents for drinks I do not include in it