

Evening Public Ledger

and
THE EVENING TELEGRAPH

Philadelphia, Monday, July 1, 1918

THE VARIED ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN CONTRIBUTE A PAGE OF INTERESTING NEWS PHOTOGRAPHS

NOT THE LEAST NOTABLE part of the Blue Cross Fete at Wynnewood was that taken by the fair flower venders, seven of whom are shown above with their traysful of blooms.

TO HAVE KNITTED a muffler that saved the life of an American officer in France is the proud claim of Miss Ethel Schwink, a telephone operator in a New York hotel, who is in receipt of a letter telling how the muffler turned a German bayonet.
International Film Service.

ACROSS THE WATERS the women of France are patriotically sacrificing time and strength in the production of munitions for the defense of their flag.
French Pictorial Service.

CHAMPION SWIMMERS taking part in the races at San Francisco this month will look to their laurels when Miss Gertrude Martell, the sixteen-year-old Philadelphia athlete, meets them in competition.

TROOP THIRTEEN, Girl Scouts of Philadelphia, salutes you. These girls were participants in the second annual field-day drills Saturday.

UNCLE SAM'S new land army is being strengthened by "tractorettes" from the National Service School near Washington.

COLLEGE DAYS OVER, farming days begin for these Barnard girls who have volunteered for service in the fields.
Western Newspaper Union.

THE PATRIOTIC SERVICE SCHOOL at Tarrytown, N. Y., has enrolled many women anxious to aid their country.