

COAL ALL SUMMER AT PRESENT PRICES

No Changes for Two Months, Says Garfield, Answering Trade Commission

No change in coal prices will be made within the next two months, according to announcement in Washington today by Dr. Harry A. Garfield, Federal fuel administrator.

Dr. Garfield made the announcement while commenting on the Federal Trade Commission's report, which charged that coal operators are making large profits under the Government-fixed prices for the fields.

The fuel administrator admitted that some operators are making good profit on the Government schedule, but said these are the "high-cost" operators. The maximum run-of-mine price is $2.60 a ton in the central Pennsylvania fields, Dr. Garfield said, and in some cases this nets $1 a ton profit. But "high-cost" operators in the same field are barely breaking even, he said, and maintenance of the present system of prices, which is stimulating production, gives best assurance of dealing with the prospect of a serious coal shortage.

Tampering with the present coal prices under the inadequate information on production costs available at present might hinder the coal output, Dr. Garfield declared. At present the production is just below the weekly average necessary to meet the demand of the nation.

Dr. Garfield was optimistic on coal production for the next three weeks of June, saying the mines had reached the point where production was 12,000,000 tons a week.

He said the total bituminous output for the twelve weeks beginning April 1 was 137,705,000 tons.

LOST ARM, BUT SAVED LIFE

Brakeman Shows Presence of Mind When Caught in Frog

Presence of mind and quick action probably saved the life of George Lutz, of 4823 Ridge avenue, today while working on the Port Richmond branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, near Fifth street.

While crossing the track Lutz's left foot caught in a frog. A freight train was approaching. His shouts failed to attract the engineer and Lutz threw himself across the track. The train passed over his left arm.

He was picked up unconscious by the crew and sent to the Samaritan Hospital. Physicians say he will recover.

Bernard Murtha, of 1137 South Twenty-fourth street, was struck by east-bound freight train this morning while crossing Washington avenue at Twenty-second street. His left arm was crushed and he suffered severe bodily injuries. Murtha walked four blocks to summer aid. He was sent to the Polyclinic Hospital.

JOHN S. WENTZ DEAD AT 81

Head of Number of Coal Companies Ill a Month

John Shriver Wentz, eighty-one years old, head of a number of bituminous and anthracite companies, died yesterday at his home, Thirty-ninth and Locust streets, after an illness of about a month. Death was said to be due to the infirmities of old age.

Mr. Wentz was a member of the Union League, a trustee of the Presbyterian Hospital and the Calvary Presbyterian Church and one of the principal stockholders in the Wentz Coal and Coke Company, Wentz Corporation, Upper Lehigh Coal Company, Mary D. Coal Company, Middleville Coal Company and the S. Wentz Coal Company. He also was a director of the Corn Exchange National Bank and the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company.

One son survives, Colonel Daniel B. Wentz, who is now in France with the National Army. His wife, Mary D. Wentz, died in 1913.

W. L. CLAYTON A SUICIDE

Former Jenkintown Burgess, Long Ill, Shoots Himself

William L. Clayton, former Burgess of Jenkintown, who had been suffering from a nervous affliction for several months, committed suicide by shooting in his home on Summit avenue, Jenkintown, yesterday. Friends believe his illness affected his mind.

Mr. Clayton, a newspaper publisher, spent the day in his office and ended his life shortly after he returned to his home. His family heard a shot and running to his room, found him dead.

Mr. Clayton was prominent in Montgomery County politics. He was a Republican committeeman from the Third Ward of Jenkintown and secretary of the Montgomery County Lower End Republican Club.

MARINE ACCUSED OF THEFT

Stole $1500 in Gems From Major's Home, Is Charged

Guy S. Pangborn, a marine attached to the Philadelphia Navy Yard, will be brought here today to face a general court-martial on the charge of stealing jewelry valued at $1500 from the home of Major Arthur Burton Owens, of the marine corps.

Pangborn was arrested last night at the Brooklyn Navy Yard where he had been traced by officers of the marine corps. The jewelry which he is alleged to have stolen belonged to Miss Alice Davidson, of Augusta, Ga., a guest of Major and Mrs. Owens. The marine effected his escape from the yard, it is said, by wearing the uniform of a second lieutenant.

According to Major Owens, Pangborn served time recently in the Michigan State penitentiary for the theft of money.

MUST RIDE INSIDE CARS

Hog Island Workmen Reprimanded by Magistrate

Twenty-two Hog Island workmen were reprimanded by Magistrate Baker, at the Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue police station, today for riding on the "bumpers" of street cars.

The men were arrested by inspectors on the Jackson street line. They told the magistrate it was necessary for them to get to work and when they were unable to find room inside the cars they elected to ride "outside" in order to reach the shipyard.

Letter Recounts Medical Graduates' Services in War

Provost Smith, University of Pennsylvania, has received an interesting letter from Lieutenant Colonel M. A. DeLaney, Class of 1898, medicine, who until recently was in command of the Pennsylvania hospital unit in France, Base Hospital No. 10, United States Army.

He has just been transferred to the British War Office as liaison officer in the office of the British surgeon general. He writes that many changes have taken place among University of Pennsylvania medical men abroad.

Henry K. Dillard '22 C., 102 M., is now a captain, after being wounded. Prof. A. N. Richards has just been mustered in as a major in the gas service, and Major William J. Taylor, '22 M., has been detailed to visit the great orthopedic centers under Colonel Sir Robert Jones.

Major Dorrance, '06 M., is doing plastic facial work at the famous Sidcup Hospital. There are now 1200 medical officers on duty with the British army; many of whom are University of Pennsylvania men. Among these is Kenneth A. Allen, '16 M., who has just been made lieutenant in the regular medical corps.

LAUNCHINGS MAY BE PUBLIC

Admission on Thursday Left to Shipyard Officials' Discretion

Announcement was made today by Howard Conroy, vice president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, that admission of the public to the shipyard of the nation on Thursday for the Independence Day launchings will be left entirely to the discretion of the managers of each yard.

The probabilities are that some will be admitted except by invitation, and no blanket invitations will be issued owing to the difficulty previously encountered at some of the yards in handling great crowds and keeping them within prescribed limits.

Arrangements also were made by the Fleet Corporation officials to permit the photographing of the launchings in each yard by newspaper photographers, under certain restrictions. The pictures, after having been made, will be sent to officers of the navy and the yard managers before they are taken from the premises.

News of the launchings of every one of the eighty-eight ships which will take the water on Thursday will be flashed to the Fleet Corporation here and immediately made public.

NEW PHILOSOPHY "EXPLAINS" MOST OF LIFE'S MYSTERIES

While Founder, Former Penn Student, Attempts to Make Clear Its Principles, Members of Order of Christian Mystics Sit Fascinated

MORE than sixty delegates from all parts of the country are here to gain further encouragement from Dr. F. Homer Curtiss, founder and secretary of the Order of Christian Mystics, concerning the promulgation of a "cosmic and all-inclusive philosophy which gives a satisfactory and scientific explanation of every phase and condition of life in all realms."

The order, founded by Doctor Curtiss some ten years ago, when he was a senior medical student at Penn, has gained followers since its charter members were investigated and censured by University heads on the charge of opposing normal ideas of morality. Doctor Curtiss declares the war is bringing people to the new belief because it is bringing men and women closer in touch with the spirit of the world.

The "inspired" teacher is somewhat grayer than when he began his studies of the occult, but he still retains the professional Van Dyke beard, which adds to his distinctive appearance. In words of many syllables he is lecturing each evening at 10 South Eighteenth street to the delegates and local believers on such subjects as "The Life and Mission of a Christ in the World and in the Heart" and "Will the Coming Avatar Be Jesus? How to Recognize Him."

Cosmic spiritual forces, astronomical forces, psychology and various new theories offered by scientists are blended to solve the mysteries of the universe. About fifty women and a dozen men gathered in the little convention room last night, all of them past the quarter-century mark and many of them gray-haired, motherly-looking souls to whom psychology itself was a mystic word.

After the outpouring of Doctor Curtiss's message they were encouraged to ask questions, but they sat in a sort of breathless fascination till a few chords from the piano and a word from the "teacher" pronounced them dismissed. When the organization was started, it was named the "Order of Fifteen."

The NOISELESS TYPEWRITER

Twenty years ago, the typewriter was blind. Then came visible writing—a much-needed improvement. And now, today, the Noiseless Typewriter—as great an invention as the typewriter itself.

In a single sentence you can sum-up the basic engineering principle behind this latest gift of science to the American business man and his stenographer—"The Noiseless prints by pressure and not by blow."

The Noiseless prevents the effect by removing the cause. The type is steel—the roller is steel—and yet there is no noise. The Noiseless eliminates noise by refusing to make a noise. There's no need, therefore, to muffle it with soft rollers, felt pads or so-called shock absorbers. The noise is not created.

The Noiseless is a real typewriter and not a toy. Speed and touch have not been sacrificed to this new noiseless feature. The Noiseless is the full development of the typewriter—now being adopted after due investigation by companies and institutions of world-wide renown.

Simply in the way it spares your nerves the Noiseless is a good investment. Hours of quiet for achievement and deep thinking are assets too priceless to be counted in terms of money. For a demonstration—call, write or telephone.
