ATHLETICS AND DETROIT MEET AT SHIBE PARK IN DOUBLE-HEADER—PHILS ON THE ROAD, IDE

PHILS LOST LAST GAME TO THE REDS

Outhit Cincinnati but Oeschger's Passes Prove Costly

MAKE BID IN NINTH

Cincinnati, O., July 2—Though they outbatted Cincinnati, eight hits to four, the Phillies were forced to take the short and of a 4-to-3 count in the final game of their series here yesterday, owing to the extreme withness of Joe Oeschger in the early innings. Joe's pitching was painful in the extreme, and after he had allowed the Reds to score 'bree runs on one hit in the third round, he was removed from the mound and not a hit was made off either Davis or Watson, who finished the game. Eller was also wild, but he was pretty 'ght in the pinches, and the Phillies just failed to get up, though they made a determined hid in the nint inning, when the Reds filled the bases on three singles, with no one out, and yet were unable to score. Groh, who made and Roush all singled through short, bit Chase, trying the squeeze plan, copped to Stock; S. Magee, trying to hit a cripple with two balls and no strikes on him, popped to Luderus and Griffith grounded to the bux. The Phillies scored in their half or Bancroft's double, a pass and the double steal, which is a hoodoo for the Reds, who seldom succeed in stopping it. There would have been more than one run in this inning but for Chase's the playing. He forced one man at third and another at second by accurate throwing to the bases on ground balls hit down the first-base line. Oeschger Liberal With Passes

Oeschger Liberal With Passes

Oeschger walked the first two men up in the second inning, but got by when he caught Groh's hot liner and turned it into a double play. This juck could not last and he blew higher than a kite in the third, when the Reds put over three runs on four walks and a hit by Sherwood Magee. With inregrous in, the bases full and note out, the wild man was yanked by Pat Moran and Davis got the side by inducing Eller to shoot a bounder to Bamcroft, on which Griffith was forced at the plate, while Grob struck out.

The Reds did no further hitting, but they scored the winning run off Davis in the fourth on a pass to Lee Magee and sacrifice hits by Roush and Chase, Lee scoring from second on the latter Watson pitched the last two inninges without allowing a runner to get on.

Eller, though wild, was favored with good support and held the Philles to a single fally until the eighth. Meuselled or with a triple to center in the seventh, but could not be shoved overing the last who was scheduled to begin at 1:45 o'clock on the Shifts dawn, He said, however, that the was almost sure to use Dauss live at Suthern and also was first baseman for two seasons on the seventh, but could not be shoved overing the leighth. GRAND CIRCUIT

Cleveland, O., July 9.—While there was no outstanding feature on today's grand circuit card at North Randall, three of the four events were well filled and some keen contests were expected. Only three were named overnight to start in the 2:04 pace, a purse of $1500. The Fasig sweepstakes, value $1686.67, for three-year-olds, closed with seven entries. The 2:20 trot and the $2:12 pace appear to be open events. Nine were carded to start in the trot and leight were named to go in the latter. Both are $1000 purses.

With the exception of the sweepstakes, which will be decided in two heats, the program called for three out of five heats.

Phils' Determined Finish

The Phils made a determined finish in the ninth, which did not quiet reach Heminway opened with a walk and Burus singled to right Watson famed but Bancroft singled seoring Hemingway. Williams forced Bancroft allowed the second base and Oscar Stanage on on a great play by Chase. Sect drove a difficult liner to left, which would have won the game if it had got away, but Sherwood Magee made 2 fine running catch, ending the game. Robsin, who was injured yesterday in a collision with Pearce, was able to play today, but Pearce is suffering from a very lame shoulder, and his place was taken by Femingway.

Tomorrow is an off day in the scheduled or both tenns, as the game scheduled was played yesterday in the double-header. The Phillies left tonight for St. Louis, where they will witness the Cardinal-Brooklyn game tomorrow and open a six-game series on Wednesday with double-headers on Wednesday and Saturday. Score:
