BARNEY OLDFIELD PLANS TO RETIRE

Race at Uniontown on July 18 May Mark His Last Appearance

OLDEST IN THE SPORT

Barney Oldfield, the "Master Driver," has decided to retire from active partlcipation in automobile racing, and that he will make his last appearence on any speedway in the big event at the Uniontown Speedway on July 18.

Patrons of the Uniontown track will learn with regret the Barney Oldfield has decided to guit the racing game, but they are rejoicing over the fact that they were to be given one more oppor-tunity to watch and cheer for the "Old Master" before he relinquiehes his grip upon the wheel of his Golden Submarine marine. Oldfield is the oldest man in the coun-try still actively engaged in automobile racing. He has been in the business virtually ever since it became a sport, and has made a record which is the envy of all his rivals. He has seen seven-teen consecutive years of the automobile racing game and has had all sorts of peculiar and hair-raising experiences.

Idol of "Young America"

Idol of "Young America" Barney has provided thrills for mil-lions of excitement-seeking people and has probably been watched in action by more-spersons than any other driver. He is the idol of "Young America," in whom he has always taken more thun a mere passing interest. Els passion is to become acquainted with every youngster he sees and to shake hands with him.

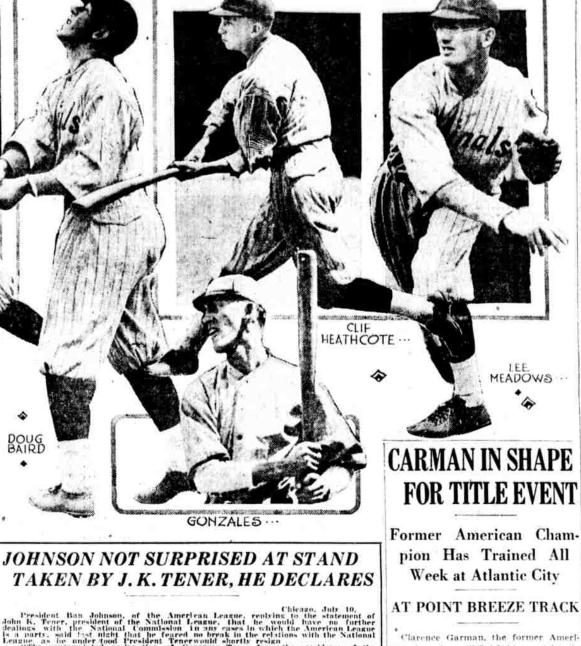

Barney is a busy man, but he has on his list of regular correspondents scores of youthful friends, who have made his acquaintance at the various tracks at which he has appeared, and who have refused to allow that acquaint-fince to end.

The "Old Master" is an artist at the auto game, and, like most people of rare accomplishments along a certain line, is inclined to be temperamental. He has been termed extremely hard to handle, and in his career on the track has had many different managers. For several years he has been under the direction of the capable "Bill" Pickens, who seems to understand his nature and appreciate his feibles more than any structure of the second other man.

Oldfield has competed in practically every race meet held at the local track since it was opened, and he has made a host of friends not only in Uniontown, but throughout wesfern Pennsylvania. It is expected that the fact that his coming race at Uniontown is to be his coming race at Uniontown is to be his last anywhere will bring out all his admirers on July 18.

Some months ago we began a careful investigation to secure a high class line of commercial cars that would measure up to our ideas of service and satisfaction.

Either our judgment has been too severe or our requirements a trifle too exacting-for not until after the most exhausting search did we discover, in the SCHACHT, a motor truck that is really capable of delivering the quality and quantity of service to which we feel the owner is entitled.

The SCHACHT is a truck we are proud to represent. It is a masterpiece-every detail of it, and you may rest assured that we will back it with a sales and service organization that will leave nothing to be desired.

We are now ready to discuss your hauling problem.
