BROWNS OPEN SERIES WITH ATHLETICS AT SHIBE PARK—MOTORCYCLE RACES AT POINT BREE

BROWNS OPEN SERIES TODAY

Jimmy Burke Will Make His Local Debut as Manager

EACH HAS WON FOUR

Jimmy Burke and his St. Louis Browns are with us today for a four-game stay. This is the first time that Burke has been here in the capacity of manager. Since he stepped into the shoes of Fielder Jones the Browns have been doing better work than at any time during the season, and it is the general belief in St. Louis that Jimmy is going to make good as a leader. He has long been keeping his light under a bushel, Just as Pat Moran did before he took the reins and drove the Phillies to victory

In 1915.

Burke is recognized as a man thoroughly versed in the technique of the game, and thus far has proved con-clusively that he knows how to handle baseball players, something that Math-ewson and many others have not been

when and many others have not been able to do, in spite of great personality and knowledge of baseball.

When the Browns were seen here last they were in fourth place. Shartly after that, however, they began to slump and dropped far down in the race, where they remained until Burke took hold of the club. At present the Browns are lethe club. At present the Browns are in fifth place and are pushing Washington hard for a first-division berth. The Athletics and Browns have played.

PHILS EAGER TO GET REVENGE

Anxious to Get at St. Louis Cardinals in Third Game of the Series

BEATEN IN DOUBLE BILL

St. Louis, Mo., July 11. Peeved over their double loss yester-day. Pat Moran and his Phillies were determined today to wipe out at least one of those defeats this afternoon. Yes-terday four Phil hurlers appeared in the double-header and this morning Pat was undecided which one he would use the double-header and this morning Pat was undecided which one he would use in today's till.

The scores of the games yesterday were 7 to 4 and 4 to 3.

Oeschger started the first game and was relieved by Watson, who gave way to Davis in the final frame. Hogg appeared in the first five innings of the second and Oeschger replaced him, holding the Cards runless for the remainder of the game, though he was continually in hot water. Both Ames and Meadows were touched lively, but were tight when scores threatened.

Bancreft and Hemingway did the batting for the Philadelphians, the former geting two hits in both games and scoring two runs in the second. Hemingway poled three safeties in the first and was instrumental in getting runs across.

The Phillies started in the lead in both games, They began the first with litree runs in the second inning on Luderus's single, Meusel's triple, Cravath's walk and singles by Hemmingway and Bancroft. This lead the Cardinals overcame in the fourth, making four runs off Oeschger and Watson before there were any outs, a triple by Baird and Watson's wildness being the principal factors.

The Quakers took the lead again in the second contest, making two runs in the very first frame. The Cardinals came back in their part of the second with enough to tie and added four counters in the third and one in the fifth, which brought Hoggs' retirement. Oeschger, who succeeded, was in trouble-but held the Cardinals runless the remainder of the contest. The Phillies tried several times to get enough over to take the game but the best they could do was one counter in the seventh and one in the eighth.

COMING BACK TO U. S. Ichiya Kumagae, the leading tennis player of Japan, has sailed for this country and will compete in the national championship tournament next month. Kumagae, who was ranked fifth among the United States players at the close of the 1916 season, defeated a number of the ranking experts during his pre-vious invasion, and his appearance in titular play again will add international interest to the champion ship matches scheduled to be held late in August

Carman, however, has a "hunch" that he is going to draw No. 1 and get first choice tonight. If he does then Lawrence will be in for the hardest race of his career. But even though he doesn't draw No. 1 Carman believes that he will win, for he can ride well behind Lebeau. Anderson and Vanderberry.
