LAWN FETE AT DREXEL HILL

Red Cross Meeting to Be Held at Mrs. Robert Sturgis's Home in Chelten Hills-Robert W. Daniel Commissioned as Captain in Quartermaster's Department

THERE is to be a big Red Cross meeting out at "Laburnums," the beautiful old Sharpless place at Chelten Hills, which since the death of Mrs. Sharpless is occupled by her daughter, Mrs. Robert Sturgis and Rita Sturgis. Mrs. Sturgis lives in New York in the winter and moves to Laburnums in the spring of each year.

The meeting on July 19, in other words next Eriday afternoon, is to be held under the auspices of the-now wait a minute and take a long breath-Ogontz and Huntingdon Valley Branch of the Southeastern Chapter of the American Red Cross, and Miss Mary Lippincott is chairman, and Mrs. George Lorimer and Mrs. Fred Morris are vice chairmen. Mrs. John Newbold and Mrs. Corbit Lovering and Mrs. S. H. Cross and all the others who are interested will be there.

Mrs. John White Geary, who is chairman of the Red Cross membership committee at headquarters in town, will preside at the meeting, and there will be music by the combined choirs of Calvary and All Hallows' Churches in Wyncote.

It's really going to be immensely interesting. Miss Emily and Miss Betty Smith. sisters of the late Edward B. Smith, who have been abroad for some little time, will tell of their experiences "over there" in their work with the American Fund for French Wounded, And Mrs. Henry Loomis, of Tuxedo Park, will talk, too, and will tell of her work in the American Ouvroir in Paris.

It sounds awfully interesting to me. And the invitation is a general one. Every one who is interested in the Red Cross may go, and, let me tell you, it's one wonderful

Such furniture! Real antiques! Absolutely lovely! I think it's wonderful of Mrs. Sturgis to open her house for the

HEAR Robert W. Daniel, of Rosemont, has received a captain's commission in the .inance division of the Quartermaster's Department and left for Washington last week. They say there is a possibility of his going over shortly. He seems to be a man with a charmed life, as the saying goes. But isn't it true, some people have a faculty for going safely through terrible accidents. Mr. Daniel, for instance, was in the Carlton Hotel fire in London and only escaped death by sliding down a rope from his window. At that time he lost all that he had with him-money, papers, clothes and so on. He had just about recovered from that when he took passage on the Titanic and was picked up from that wreckage by a boat. I should think France and the battlefields would almost seem tame to him after such experiences

You know he met his wife in the rescue from the Titanic. He was at the dance at the Merion on the night of the Fourth, and he certainly looked stunning in his uniform. Channing Daniel, his brother, is already in France with a field artillery division. He married Katherine Verner, of Wayne, you remember. The Dainels come from Richmond, Va. Their mother, Mrs. James V. Daniels, lives there now.

TT'S awfully easy to take care of an apartment, but even in seven rooms you sometimes forget the windows when it looks rainy. That is, you are apt to, but then you don't always have the excuse that Ethel had on Sunday. You remember the way it rained just about 5 o'clock on Sunday? Well, Ethel and her family were going out to supper and as Ethel was busy listening to the story of how a certain young man in khaki had won the three stripes on his sleeves, mother and father left the house before she did, and told her to be sure to lock the kitchen door and window, and all the necessary and uninteresting things like that. Ethel remarked vaguely that she would, and the fascinating story went on. It was clear then, but some time later the thunder began to roll and then the rain started. Father wondered uneasily whether they ought to telephone to Ethel to be sure to close the windows before she started. Mother said no; that Ethel had sense enough to do that. So they took a chance. And Ethel, some time later, put on her best hat, found an umbrella somewhere, dutifully locked the kitchen door and set sail for the train with the sergeant looking very foolish carrying the umbrella. During supper some one said something about windows, and mother noticed a strange look on Ethel's face. "Didn't you close the windows?" she immediately wanted to know. "Nary a window." but I locked the kitchen door." Fortunately it cleared up before they started home, and by the time they got there the windowsills were almost dry, and the pillows on the window-seat in Ethel's room had stopped dripping, but the dining-room rug was a wreck. But really, you know, you can't expect anybody to think about closing windows just after hearing how he became a sergeant, can NANCY WYNNE.

BUSINESS MEN TO WEED NURSERIES

Central North Philadelphians to Help Owner of Greenhouses on Thursday

Central North Philadelphia business men will give patriotic service on Thursday in an unusual but very useful way. The idea originated with Mr. Max Kauffmann, who chanced to visit the greenhouses and nurseries of Mr. Harry S. Betz, at D street and Wyoming avenue, and found that instead of the twenty-five young men who formerly assisted Mr. Betz there were only four workers, the others having gone to war. It is almost impossible to hire men for farm and garden work and, of course, the enemy of plant nurseries is weeds, and when this enemy gains headway it is in a fair way of injuring the plants, so Mr. Kauffmann, after weeding a few yards to see how it would go, suggested that it would be not only a neighborly, but a patriotic duty to organize a brigade of workers from the Central North Philadelphia Business Asse-ciation to go up to the nurseries to fight the One hundred business men volunenemy. One nundred business men volun-teered at once for duty, and a committee consisting of Mr. Max M. Rash, chairman; Mr. John K. Hackman, Mr. P. F. Printzhorn, Mr. Harry Heebner, Mr. Charles Prostel, Mr. Joseph Sears and Mr. Kauffman was ap-pointed to complete arrangements for the work. The selected men will meet at 7 o'clock on Thursday morning at the Bet o'clock on Thursday morning at the Betz floral shop, Eleventh street and Lehigh avenoral snop, Eleventh street and Lerigh ave-nue, and go to the scene of action in auto-mobiles. There will be no special style in uniforms, for any old kind of overalls will serve. A number of men familiar with the plants will act as captains and direct the groups of workers. Prizes of plants will be given to the teams doing the heat work. Mr. given to the teams doing the best work. Mr Betz will have charge of the commissary de-

HYMN AS PRAYER FOR BOYS AT SEA

To Honor North Presbyterian Church Members in Service

In honor of the members of the congregation who are in the service the North Pres-byterian Church, Broad street and Allegheny avenue, will sing the following hymn, as a prayer for the boys who may be on the high once every Sunday until the war is

FOR THOSE AT SEA O Lord, be with us when we sail Upon the lonely deep. Our Guard, when on the silent deck The midnight watch we keep We need not fear, though all around Mid rising winds we hear The multitude of waters surge; For Thou, O God, art near. The calm, the breeze, the gale, the storm That pass from land to land. All, all are Thine, are held within The hollow of Thy hand.

If duty calls from threatened strife To guard our native shore, And shot and shell are answering

The booming cannon's roar, Re Thou the mainguard of our host Till war and dangers cease;

Defend the right, put up the sword, And through the world make peace. Across this troubled tide of life Thyself our pilot be, Until we reach that better land The land that knows no sea.

To Thee the Father, Thee the Son, Whom earth and sky adore. And Spirit moving on the deep Be praise for evermore.

"The building up of families drives out selfishness and the ideal community is that filled with loving children. Therefore, show other wards of the city just what can be accomplished by co-operation with the doctors and nurses in order that the babies that would otherwise live, shall not die."

The Thirtieth Ward baby-health drive began with a mass-meeting at the McCoach Playground, Eighteenth and Catharine streets, ast night, and will be continued until July 28. The drive is under the auspices of the division of child hygiene of the Bables' Welfare Association, with the co-operation of the Armstrong Association, Whittier Center, Mercy Hospital, Lincoln Day Nursery, Children's Hospital, Woman's Union Day Nursery, Young Women's Christian Association, Young Men's Christian Association and the Association for the Protection of Colored Women. Dr. Wilmer Krusen, Director of the Department of Public Health and Charities, is the chairman and Dr. Harriet L. Hartley is the secretary.

The mass-meeting last night was called to order by Doctor Krusen and the invocation was made by the Rev. Patrick Gallagher, of St. Charles's Roman Catholic Church.

Doctor Krusen also made an address on Health Department and the Baby, and Dr. William Duffield, president of the Bables' Welfare Association, spoke on "The Bables" Welfare Association and Its Work." Dr. Howard Childs Carpenter, of the staff of the Children's Hospital, gave an address on "The Thirtleth Ward Health Drive."

CITY'S ITALIANS HONOR THEIR PATRON SAINT

Celebrations of Feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Held in All Sections

Celebrations were held in all sections of Philadelphia, yesterday, marking the feast day of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, the patron saint of all Catholic Italians, and thousands of men and women and children of that nationality took part in the observances.

The celebration held in West Philadelphia and centered at Sixty-fourth and Vine streets, is declared to have been the largest and most impressive of any held at any point in the entire East. More than 10,000 Italians living in West Philadelphia took part in a percession, and in the all-day program of sports and outdoor events, culminating with a public meeting and display of fireworks last night.

No fewer than twenty-eight arches were erected at different points of the route traversed by the procession, and thousands of Italian and American flags were floated from the homes of Italians living living in the same of the same contents. rom the homes of Italians living in the western part of the city.

Another big celebration in honor of the day was held in "Little Italy." Each of the several Italian Catholic parishes held individual processions and entertainments. Chief among Sie downtown processions was that conducted by the members of the parish hat conducted by the members of the parish of St. Mary Magdalen di Pazzi, fellowing high mass, which was celebrated by Rev Antonio Isoleri, who is one of the oldest and most widely known Italian priests this country

The parishioners of Our Lady of Good 'ounsel also held a procession following high mass in the church at Eighth and Christian streets. In rankford, Germantown and other suburbs having Italian congregations, similar observances were held. In New Jersey, the principal celebration was held at Hammonton.

Finally a Mr. Dudley arose and attacked the newspapers as an autocracy run by the advertisers of the country. Mr. Dudley felt very strongly on the subject, and told the gathering he had a plan whereby the present war could be ended within a short time. He had endeavored, he said, to obtain militable publicity for his project in the newspapers of this city and New York, and his attempt, he said, had been fruitless.
