Fair Hog Island Workers Charter Boat for Moonlight Excursion

Next Thursday evening is on every girl's mind at the Hog Island shipyard and many a fellow is looking forward to it, too, for there is to be a hig time on the Delaware, and the boys hope to be let in on it. It is likely they will be, if they are real good in the meantime.

The girls have chartered a whole boat and about 5:30 o'clock, with the day's work done and forgotten, they will embark at the E street wharf at the island and go, way down the river for a moonlight ride. Lots of moon, Mr. Weather Man, please. Miss S. D. Ferris is arranging the outing and the girls don't cure when they get back, just so the weather is fair and the dance music with.

Hog Island Power Club is going the river for a moonlight Tuesday ng, July 30.

Lost Only Five Days From Yard in Last Two Years

The first man to turn a band in either of the two Gloucester shippards under the Pusey & Jones management was Joe McCleese, carpenter.

He started work in the Pennsylvania yard March 25. 1916, by driving the first nail. He laid the floor in the rigger hop and also at the Haggerty Building. His check is numbered three and he has lost only five days in all this time. Joe's home is at 305 Jersey avenue. Gloucester.
