

Evening Public Ledger

and THE EVENING TELEGRAPH

Philadelphia, Saturday, July 27, 1918

VARIED ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN DOMINATE THE DAY'S PICTURE NEWS—"ROUGH RIDERS" AT ROCKLEDGE

COMBATANTS AND NONCOMBATANTS, these four Americans have all been decorated with the Croix de Guerre. They are Privates Dewey S. Smith (left) and George A. Hopkins and two courageous Red Cross nurses.

Committee on Public Information

THE GOOD OLD DAYS of the Wild West show were lived over again by the enlisted men who witnessed the daring antics of the Camp Dix cavalrymen at Rockledge.

MANY A DOLLAR was realized by the Misses Dorothy (above) and Esther Rowland, daughters of Mrs. Edward K. Rowland, at their booth in front of Emergency Aid headquarters.

THE ATMOSPHERE OF THE FAR WEST now prevails in the vicinity of Rockledge, where the Camp Dix riders, with their mules and bronchos, are encamped.

OF COURSE, THE WOMEN WELDERS employed in a California steel works are making good in this realm of molten iron and flaming torches.

WITH THEIR BROTHERS in the service, Miss Helen Price (left) and Miss Jewel Gleason, South Philadelphia school teachers, are practical forerunners in South Jersey.

NOW ITS WOMEN MECHANICS attending a dynamo in the engine room of a prominent New York hotel—very sciently, their employers say.