GOLF CLUBS GIVE MANY TO U. S.

Fifty-seven Have Joined Colors From Sunnybrook and St. Davids

SEVERAL AT THE FRONT

By WILLIAM H. EVANS
Golf has given generously in men and money to the great war that is being waged in France. Long before this country declared war on the Hun hundreds of men in our golf clubs had enlisted in service abroad as aviators, ambulance drivers and in Red Cross work. And when the call came the golfers responded as no other sport has. There are approximately 4000 golf courses in the country, and in every one of them you will find a service flag or a roll of honor of the members in service.

As one of the old-fashioned, frock-coated, Stetson-hatted, arm-thrust-into-the-coat sort of men, I have expressed it: "From the rock-bound, spruce-clad coast of Maine to the sun-kissed sands of Florida, from the wheat lands of the Golden West to the sand dunes of New Jersey, and from the Great Lakes, teeming with their millions of commerce; they have gone to fight to make the world safe for democracy.

What Sunnybrook Has Done

We do not hear very much about the Sunnybrook Golf Club, which is noted among other things for its marvelous Taylor-made greens. The membership is restricted, yet twenty-three of its members are in some branch of the service. Of these one is a brigadier general, another is a colonel, three are majors and four are captains. Here is Sunnybrook's roll of honor:
Andrew, Avery D., colonel.
Atterbury, W. W., brigadier general.
Ballard, Fred L., major.
Dixon, Hamilton.
Dixon, Jacob S., Jr.
Dixon, Eugene.
Elkins, William M.
Fell, John R.

Goodman, William E., Jr., captain.
Grant, Patrick, 2d.
Harris, Henry, major.

Petter, William.
Robinette, Edward B., captain.
Seaver, Howard E.
Strasburger, Ralph B., lieutenant.
Thomas, George C., Jr., captain.
Tyler, George P., major.
Walbridge, Charles C.
Wetherill, William C.

Holds First Place in Sec. B in Second Round—Allentown Plays Return Game

DE MARCO ROLLS 170

The second round of the Duck Pin League for Section B got under way last night and it attracted one of the largest gatherings seen on the Keystone alley during the tournament. One of the teams drawing the attention of the gallery gods was the Sunshine Risout squad, who endeavored to take first place away from the Pennsylvania Railroad team, now leaders.

Some one was a broad smile, and the question was put to George Mous why and before it was his pleasure to reply the questioner discovered the "Allentown" strutting along the hallways. Mous was entering they were given a rousing reception by the audience. The up-State bowlers had traveled down into a return match with the Quaker City boys and immediately the fast Philadelphia Travelers were hooked up and the first ball went pell-mell down the alley.

The individual cash prize offered each week by the Keystone manager was won by De Marco, who not only took the high three-game prize with a score of 423, but also won the high single game prize with a total of 170 in the small-pin game.

HUNTER PACED WILEY TO WIN

Great Work by Pacemaker Enables Veteran to Triumph at Point Breeze
LAWRENCE RUNNER-UP

Peerless Jimmy Hunter, the pacemaker extraordinary, who hails from Newark, the town made less famous by the staging of the recent Fulton-Dempsey match, scored a double killing or something last evening at the Point Breeze Moratorium, when he piloted George Wiley, the dethroned American champion and what-not, to a stirring victory in the feature event of the night, the fifty-mile paced race.

Last Monday evening at the local wooden way, after Jimmy Hunter had paced Percy Lawrence to a sensational victory in the annual American championship race, Speedy Vanderberry took the platform, enough to state that Percy was in such wonderful shape that any pacemaker in this section could have piloted him to the fore on the third mile, but was passed on the fourth by Corri.

Lawrence Set Fast Pace
Lehman succeeded in keeping Corri out in front until the twenty-first mile when Hunter and Wiley slipped out to set the pace. On the twenty-third mile Lawrence and Corri had a heart-breaking encounter, in which Lawrence was carried out to the front ahead of Wiley.

The veteran six-day bike rider then staged a successful counter-attack and took the lead on the twenty-eighth mile and Hunter traveled at a terrific pace and lapped Corri and Lehman on the thirtieth mile. Vanderberry and Lawrence made a great finish in the last mile, and although they gained fifteen yards, they crossed the line thirty yards in the rear.

NATE CARTMELL IS MADE LIEUTENANT IN U. S. ARMY

Famous Penn Sprinter Will Train American Flyers at Mineola, L. I.

NATE CARTMELL, former University of Pennsylvania sprinting sensation, yesterday received notice that he had been appointed a first lieutenant in the army, with headquarters at the aviation field at Mineola, Long Island. For the last six months the noted athlete has been director of athletics at Hog Island, and was to be the manager of the new athletic field at Ninety-fourth street and Tintinam Avenue.

Cartmell will act in the capacity of a physical instructor. The aviation officials now want most of the best athletes in the country to help condition men in the aviation branch of the service, where it is admitted the flier must be in perfect condition.

Cartmell's experience as an athlete and as a trainer of athletes equips him well for his new duties. He has had plenty of experience as an instructor. He was an assistant trainer at Lafayette one season and one year coached the University of North Carolina track team. Bill Martin, another former Penn. athlete and later coach of the Penn State track team, is a physical director in the U. M. C. A. at Mineola.

Cartmell entered Penn from Charlotte, North Carolina, in 1907, and for three years was a star on the varsity. His best season was in 1909 when he won the intercollegiate 100 and 220-yard dashes. He was a powerfully built man for a sprinter and it was his great strength which enabled him to spin over the cinders with express train speed.

Cartmell is an authority on athletics and has a thorough knowledge of the training rules, only recently he called attention to the fact that the new change in the intercollegiate rules of having the starter stand in front of the sprinter was going to be injurious to the sport instead of beneficial.
