

PHILLIES AND PITTSBURGH PLAY DOUBLE-HEADER HERE THIS AFTERNOON—OTHER SPORTS

MAY PLAY NEXT SERIES IN FRANCE

Organized Baseball Is Not Dead, Just Transferred Abroad

Organized baseball is not killed; it merely is transferred to "somewhere in France" for the duration of the war.

The next world's championship baseball series will be decided "somewhere in France," says John Thomas Powers, and while he does not go so far as to predict the exact spot, he says it will be in the south of France.

Mr. Powers is going to France as a physical director, and with special attention to the organization of baseball "over there."

My scheme is to have a league in every regiment," explained Mr. Powers. "These can be organized by the Y. M. C. A. physical directors and will eliminate the production of teams."

With all the best talent there and good new talent coming to the surface we ought to have some games.
