THE EVENING TELEGRAPH

Philadelphia, Saturday, August 10, 1918

AS WAR GUARDIAN OR WAR GARDENER JUVENILE PHILADELPHIA SHOWS EQUAL APTITUDE

GIRL SCOUTS IN CAMP AT HILLDALE, near West Chester, second the late Mr. Riley's sentiments anent the "Ole Swimmin' Hole."

"JACK AND HIS BEANSTALK" MAY BE A FAIRY TALE AND PURE MYTH, but no scoffer dare "say beans" to these products of the vegetable growers from the Sheridan School.

DO NOT MISTAKE THIS ACTION FOR ONE OF IMPUDENCE OR UNLADYLIKE CONDUCT. It's part of the daily health inspection at the Hilldale camp.

MAJOR E. S. RUSS, commanding the Girl Scouts camp at Hilldale.

HIAWATHA, YOU REMEMBER, LABORED "TILL THE CORN WAS RIPE AND GROWING KNEEDEEP IN THE THRIFTY FURROW," but up at D and Tioga streets these Philadelphia public school raisers of the great American cereal keep everlastingly at their task until the stalks are more than head high in their war garden.

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE THIS SPICK AND SPAN BATTALION OF SCHOOL AGRICULTURISTS can labor in the fields, yet keep so clean, but the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER staff photographer snapped them "right on the job."
