

GALLINGER DEAN OF SENATE, DIES

Had Been Prominent Figure in National Affairs Many Years

A REMARKABLE CAREER Began as Printer—Then Practiced Medicine for Twenty-three Years

By the Associated Press. Franklin, N. H., Aug. 17. United States Senator Jacob Gallinger, New Hampshire, died at a hospital here early today.

When Senator Gallinger returned from Washington to his summer home at Salisbury Heights, near here, in July, he was in poor health. A few days ago his condition became so much worse that upon advice of his physician he was brought to a hospital here. Death was attributed to arterio-sclerosis.

The funeral will be held from the First Baptist Church at Concord on Wednesday afternoon. The body was removed to Concord today.

Senator Gallinger is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Harry A. Norton, of Winchester, Mass.

Senator Jacob Harold Gallinger, of New Hampshire, was the oldest member of the United States Senate, both in years and in point of service.

His career in the Senate, which began in 1878, was not only a leading part in its discussions, but ranking as a dominating figure in its leadership and in the councils of the Republican party.

As a minority leader the Senator has been active until quite recently, despite his advancing years. His present term, the fifth, would have expired in 1921.

Senator Gallinger was born in Concord, N. H., in 1827, and was a printer first, then studied medicine and practiced as a physician and surgeon for twenty-three years.

AMERICAN CREWS FOR U. S. VESSELS

Hurley Announces Future Program for Merchant Marine

DEFENDS HIGH WAGES Manning of the American Merchant Marine, which soon will become the greatest in the world, with all-American crews, was announced today as a policy of the United States shipping board.

Simultaneously, Mr. Hurley issued a long statement in defense of the high wages paid to ship and factory workers, and said that the country could do no more than to pay the market price for labor.

Plans for Peace Fleet In launching a great educational campaign, Mr. Hurley, not only will the war needs of the merchant marine be considered, but a board foundation will be laid for maintaining a 100 per cent American personnel in the great peace fleet with which the United States will take a commanding place in world trade after the war.

Thought For Tomorrow "So amid all his splendid effort in producing equipment to win the war, the American manufacturer must be asked to take thought for tomorrow and the future of shipping and foreign trade."

TWO FLOORS IN CITY HALL USED AS HOTEL FOR MEN IN SERVICE

Desks and Tables in Select Council Chamber and Finance Committee Room Make Way for Cots—Kitchen and Other Accommodations Provided

The lofty-ceilinged assembly rooms of Select Council and of Councils' Finance Committee, on the fourth floor of City Hall, where the city fathers wrestle with municipal problems, have become dormitories for visiting soldiers and sailors.

Two big assembly rooms will be used as dormitories until councils are reconvened in the autumn.

LAKE LIGHTS INFORMED GERMANS OF PLANS OF U. S.

I shall tell, also, how this trip with Williams, which I thought was a failure, proved to be the beginning and the end of another daring German spy scheme.

Lieutenant Wilbur White, Jr., Successfully Engages Kaiser's Air Scouts Above Clouds Over German Lines

HOW American fliers downed six German planes in one day (July 24) is vividly described by Lieutenant Wilbur W. White, Jr., of the aviation section of General Pershing's army in a letter to his wife, who lives at 5148 Hazel avenue.

Lieutenant White did not figure in the air battle that resulted in finishing the careers of four of the boches, which took place on the morning of July 24, but he accounted for two of the enemy scouts in a desperate three-cornered fight, far above the clouds.
