FOR "VET" ISSUE SENATE'S ADOPTION OF 'BONE-DRY' RIDER DOES NOT ANNOY CANDIDATE

Charges Those Who Voted for Measure Weakly Abandoned Judgment

Judge Eugene C. Bennett, Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, is going blithely ahead with his 'wet' issue in the gubernatorial fight, although the nation will be 'bone dry' after July 1, 1919.

The United States Senate's action on the rider to the anti-liquor bill is a splendid blow to his principal issue. In the Judge's opinion, for these reasons:

GRANSBACK DEAD, FATHER OF HOUSE

Veteran Politician Dies in Home Where He Was Born IN EIGHTY-THIRD YEAR

State Representative Harry Gransback, Sr., 'Father of the House,' died today at his home, 119 Fairmount avenue, after a short illness.

His death removes one of the veteran legislators of Pennsylvania. Mr. Gransback served eight terms in the House and one and a half terms in the Senate.

He had a host of followers in the Eleventh Ward, where he lived, and knew many of its residents by their names.

Representative Gransback was born in the house in which he died. He was in his eighty-third year.

It was a matter of record at Harrisburg that Mr. Gransback was a republican, if ever, absent from his seat, and followed closely all legislation, especially that of interest to Philadelphia.

He was a man of extreme courtesy and pleasing personality.

He fought throughout the Civil War and later was assistant assessor of internal revenue. Before his entrance into politics he was in the iron business.

Mr. Gransback is survived by four sons and one daughter. The funeral will take place at his late residence, Speaker Baldwin, of the House, has appointed representatives from Philadelphia, Bucks, Delaware, Chester and Montgomery counties to attend the funeral.

A special train was to have carried the men to prison last night, but Judge Landis delayed their departure to permit their attorneys to take action toward an appeal.

Haywood, the brains of the great threat to migratory workers, who the jury found attempted to block the war program, paralyze industries, close mines, destroy shipping, ruin crops, prevent enlistments and cause a general strike, was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Why should the temporary withdrawal of a hundred members seriously affect the welfare of a group, comprising nearly 1,000,000 laborers in the United States alone?" he queried.

Officer From Here Killed in France

Lieutenant Joseph Winkour, wounded in action, is the son of Max Winkour, 1741 North Thirty-second street. He is thirty years old and before enlisting in the regular army on August 8, of last year, was an attorney with offices on Twelfth street, below Chestnut. Following his enlistment in Company K, 110th Infantry after preliminary training at Camp Hancock, Company K suffered severely during the first days of the Meuse-Argonne counter-attack.

When the regiment returned to Philadelphia he was elected first sergeant and patrolled railway lines and bridges near Harrisburg for the next five months. When the regiment was ordered to Camp Hancock for final training, he was withdrawn from guard duty and sent to Camp Hancock, being assigned to Company I, 109th Infantry, when the First, Third and Sixteenth National Guard regiments were reorganized. His command went overseas in May of this year. A postal card received by his mother, Mrs. M. Berger, 809 North Bonall street, stated that the young man was missing, and was the left leg and had two bullets in his right leg, but was 'getting along all right.' No word came from the War Department until yesterday morning, several days after this post card had been received.

Private Howard D. Dean, wounded and missing for several days, was reported as being in the hands of the enemy, but was not yet reported on the official casualty list but he has written to his mother from the front, saying that while in a serious condition for a time he has passed the danger point and is recovering rapidly. Young Dean enlisted in June of last year and was assigned to the machine gun company of the 11th Infantry. He was a paper-hanger by trade.

Private James Petri, gassed, is the son of Mrs. M. H. Berger, 2230 Hurley street, who was officially reported missing in action a few days ago. The younger Petri is in a base hospital, but is recovering rapidly. Sergeant Petri has written his family that he, too, is in a hospital suffering from several wounds, but that his condition is very critical. By actual act, in which a local soldier, officially reported missing, had been located in a base hospital.

Private Leonard M. Crabtree, reported missing in the official lists about two weeks ago, has been located at a prison camp in Losenza, Germany, according to a report received yesterday from the Red Cross, received by his mother, Mrs. James A. Crabtree, 3703 Baring street.

"I am mighty glad to know where the boys are," said Mrs. M. H. Berger today, "but personally I never lost faith that he would turn up. Leslie was always able to take care of himself, even in the most critical situations. He will come through all right and I would not be a bit surprised to hear that he had escaped from Germany."

Young Crabtree was a member of the Philadelphia Soldiers' Home. He had been sent to France with only a few weeks' training. He put his mind on learning to be a soldier just as he had on learning to be a paper-hanger, and was successful that he was appointed to the regimental signal corps within ten days after the command reached France.

A soldier was killed by a shell during a recent attack on the front line, and it is believed that he stuck to his post until the last minute during a recent attack on the front line, and it is believed that he stuck to his post until the last minute during a recent attack on the front line.

Private Robert Stokes Conner, officially reported as missing ten days or so ago, has been located in a German prisoner camp by the American Red Cross. A cablegram received by his mother, Mrs. Joseph J. Conner, 6313 Dicks avenue, stated that the young soldier was in a hospital, but that he needed clothing and food. Mr. Conner sent him a few necessities yesterday and will ship a larger package in a few days.

After a few weeks there he was transferred to Camp Hancock and assigned to the 11th Infantry. His regiment was sent to France on the 22d of last year. He is a graduate of the Southern High School and of the Banks Business College. Previous to entering the service of the country he was a master at the Eddystone munition plant.

When receivers were appointed for the hotels, it was declared they were solvent, but that as the result of large real estate investments they found difficulty in continuing business owing to the lack of ready money.

Mr. Stafford, the heaviest owner in the St. James, became involved through his inability to meet temporary obligations, causing a temporary embargo against Green's Hotel. Mr. Newton was the indorser on notes of Mr. Stafford to the extent of $100,000 in the bankruptcy proceedings filed in the United States District Court today. Mr. Newton is one of the petitioning creditors.

An allegation made in the petition against Mr. Stafford that he is insolvent, and as a formal act of bankruptcy it is asserted that he made preferential payments of $225,648 to the Philadelphia Electric Company and $230,500 to the Guarantee Trust Company.

The petition was filed by Attorney Arthur G. Dickson on behalf of W. H. and M. W. Allen, with claim for $223,566 for merchandise; Mr. Newton representing a claim of $100,000 representing the extent of $100,000 in the bankruptcy proceedings filed in the United States District Court today. Mr. Newton is one of the petitioning creditors.

Counsel for creditors, it is understood, will ask the Federal court Wednesday to appoint a receiver for Mr. Stafford.

PERFORMS HEROIC RESCUE Crew Braves Flaming Sea to Aid U-Boat Victims

Washington, Aug. 31.—Flowing through a flaming sea, whipped to a fury by a strong northeast, a coast guard cutter today rescued the master and forty-two officers and men of the British steamship Mirlo, torpedoed August 16. For hundreds of yards the angry waves were covered with burning oil.

An official report by the navy today told of the heroic feat.

Power surf boats dashed through the flames, rescuing survivors clinging to an upturned life raft. The six survivors were landed safely at the coast, and a landing made with much alacrity.

TAX BILL READY TO GO TO HOUSE

War Profits Section Put in With Approval of McAdoo

AGREE ON OTHER POINTS Measure Provides for Largest Levy in History of Any Nation

Salient Features of New Revenue Bill Flat 12 per cent rate on incomes over $4000 and a 6 per cent rate on taxable incomes less than $4000. Surtaxes on individual incomes, ranging to 65 per cent on those of more than $5,000,000.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The new revenue bill providing $8,000,000,000 the next year to help finance the war has been completed by the House Ways and Means Committee and will be reported early next week. Treasury experts believe that the bill will provide between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000 in excess of the $8,000,000,000 sought.

It is the largest tax bill in the history of any nation. It was originally estimated of the $24,000,000,000 necessary for war expenditures in the next fiscal year, one-third, or $8,000,000,000, should be raised by a tax bill doubling and in some instances tripling the rates in the present revenue law.

The bill as it will be reported to the House, does not have the entire approval of Secretary McAdoo. He is opposed to the war profits section containing the alternative excess profits tax beginning with a tax of 35 per cent and running as high as 70 per cent.

After determining that the difficulties of administration would be very great, Secretary McAdoo agreed to abandon his plan for placing a heavier normal tax on unearned incomes than on earned incomes. He has recommended a 18 per cent normal tax on all incomes over $20,000, and a 12 per cent normal tax on unearned incomes.
