Mr. Whitehead will answer your business questions on buying, selling, advertising and employment. Ask your questions clearly and sive all the facts. Your correct name and full address must be given to all inquiries. Those which are anonymous must be ignored. Answers to technical questions will be sent by mail. Other questions will be sent on this column. The most interesting problems of inquirers will be woven into the story of Peter Flint. CLXXXI

TF SOME one had entered my room and told me I was elected Mayor of surprised than I was last Saturday eve ning to see Francis Graham enter look g all in. He was dressed as well as ever and all that, but he looked as if-I don't know how to say it-as if all his "pep" had been used up-I know-he looked as if he was licked.

He dropped his grip wearily on the floor, tossed his hat and coat on the bed and sank down into my "easy chair." That "easy chair?" It's a rocker in which your life is in peril if you attempt to rock. It's a wooden affair that has three distinct squeaks. There's one whiney, grumbly squeak which com-plains when you sit in the old chair. There's the grunt, short and gruff, when you rock back; and then there's a long triumphant shrick when you go for-ward and the too short rocker lets the chair tip to an angle that slides you to the floor unless you are quick enough to brace your legs.

The only way to stay in that flendish chair is to prop it back with your legs or as I do, wedge the rocker with books. "Well, well, Francis," I said, again shaking his hand, "welcome to our palace once more. Come for a few days' quiet from the whirl of Hammerville?"

"Yes, Peter," he said, kind of hopeless "I'm back, back to stay. The air in Hammerville doesn't seem to agree

"Say, what are you raving about?"
"I'm back, old man. I'm a dullard,
I fear, while I thought I was clever.
The combination was too clever for me." "Gee, Francis," I said, real upset, "tell

"Nothing to tell," he answered wearily. "As soon as the Consolidated had my patent rights on my machine they ma-neuvered me out of the company. The bank told me bluntly that they feared I couldn't hold up the business. They decided in those few weeks that I wasn't big enough and wouldn't be! Think of it. Peter! An obvious frame-up. They professed fear for the safety of their loan. Well, never mind the details. Suffice it to say that Pillsbury and Queston joined forces with the bank, and while my contract secured me for a least, things became so unpleasant that sold out and resigned."

"Francis, old man, I'm awfully sorry.

I hope you made a good trade."
"You needn't be sorry, boy. I'll get along somehow. Sold out—I was sold out, would be more correct—for seventy-five hundred cash."
"The robbers!" I cried, clean hot.

They offered you ten thousand before, and the common stock."
"I know. I know. They were too smart for me. They decided to trim me and did it. • • Now, let's not talk about it any more. How are things prospering at the Magnitude?" "Fine!" But I was worried over Francis, so I said. "What are you—that -have you-will you"

"Yes." He almost laughed "Don't "Yes." He almost laughed. "Don't be afraid of hurting my feelings. I've got something to do. That's not the trouble. I had several offers as soon as I decided to accept the "kick-out." I ac-

You really—say, that's great! Have you heard from her lately?"

He shook his head. "I can't write till I'm making good."
"I will, then." And then I remem-is alive to all the increased demands of the school-year 1918-19. Highest academic standing, won through 157 years of learning how, gives Academy boys an unusual opportunity to push ahead.

Two graduates of 1918 class in competitive examination won the prized City Scholarships at the University of Pennsylvania. We know how much the world requires in order that boys may make good and we train them so that the odds will be in their favor. This year military training will be included with gymnasium work. Army setting-up exercises and drill will keep the boys physically fit and make them ready for further work in that direction. The Academy maintains a splendid balance between school-work and play. We want vigorous, healthy boys who can work.

Thorough college preparation. All-day school for 1st Primary, 6th and Upper 6th Forms. Kindergarten supplemented with Liberty Tadd system for little boys and girls four and five years old. This department is conducted in a separate building with separate playground, but adjoining the Academy and grounds. Write for the Academy catalog. The Headmaster is at the office from a to 12 every school day and can be seen personally or reached by telephone—Germantown 4440. Germantown, Philadelphia

Trained Women Dietitians Needed in U.S. Medical Corps

One of the Government's great needs is for trained dietitians. To help supply them, Drexel Institute, in co-operation with the United States War Department, has prepared special training courses.

Graduates of these courses are eligible to certification for position as assistant dietitian, upon satisfactory completion of four months' probationary work as pupil dietitians in the United States Military Hospital. 1. A four months' intensive course for those who have had two years' college studies or hold a degree from some Domestic Science institution, and one year's occupational experience.

A one year's intensive course for college graduates. 3. A two years' course for high-school graduates.

Drexel Institute's special war training Dietetic courses have been arranged under the supervision, and have received the approval of the Hospital Division, Medical Corps, U. S. Army. Students who enter these courses will be at once in training for their country's service. Uniform will be worn. Military regulations. Enrollment will be limited and applicants carefully selected.

Courses begin October 21. The Army's need for trained dietitians is urgent, and the time is short in which to enroll.

We request that you write us at once for complete Bulletin and enrollment blanks.

INSTITUTE Hollis Godfrey, Sc. D., Eng. D., LL. D., D. C. L., President
