AID JERSEY FARMERS

Sergeant at Meade Is U. S. Turns Down Plan for Men to Spend Furloughs Gathering Crops

> Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J., Sept. 4. To the great disappoinment of the farmers of New Jersey, the War Department officials have disapproved the plan suggested by them and approved by Major General Hugh L. Scott, camp commander, of using soldiers, who were unable to perform full military duty, on the farms to harvest the bumper crops.
>
> The CORTISSOZ SCHOOL, Mirrowed Studios 1820 Chestnut St. Day & Eve. Locust 3102.

The plan, as suggested by General Scott in a letter to the war chiefs on August 3 last, was to grant five-day passes to the men who would be sent to the farmers desiring help. The latter would be asked to pay the regular soldier's allowance to the Government and le seems that there was in Riley's besides could give the men any amount

The aim of General Scott, ever since he took command of Dix, has been to make the camp a benefit instead of a detriment to the surrounding community and how well he has succeeded is evidenced from the excellent reports made as to conditions which have improved instead of becoming worse. Many of the smaller towns have grown so that now smaller towns have grown so that now they are incorporated with a mayor and other officials and paved streets, sewers and lights have taken the place of the former dark country roads. Dix, too, has improved 100 per cent. The camp is now a model cantonment. .
