

BASEBALLS INSIST RED SOX RESORT TO UNDERHAND METHODS WHEN CARL MAYS IS ON THE MOUND

PLAYERS AROUSED OVER DIVISION OF RECEIPTS AND THREATEN STRIKE

Under Present System Athletes Will Be Poorly Paid, Due to Small Returns, and Appoint Committee to Confer With Commission

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger

Boston, Mass., Sept. 9.

JUST to make things interesting and start a little excitement while the baseball special was speeding eastward yesterday, a rumor was spread that the contending players in the World Series had decided to act like regular union men and call a strike.

However, and be that as it may, there is little likelihood of a walkout. Those guys are not going to pass up some extra change at this time.

There was a conference called for this morning between the players and the National Commission, but it was delayed because the members of the commission seldom arise before high noon.

Here is the dope on the situation: The players fear they will lose out when the money is divided as per schedule among the first four clubs in each league, and want their full share.

There will be no trouble and the players will be taken care of.

No Chance to Shortchange Players

YESTERDAY afternoon there was a session of frenetic finance in the players' car. Every one had a pencil and paper and was fighting the receipts and his probable share.

The men are of the opinion that the winning of a league championship entitles them to all of the honor, glory and financial gain, and it would be an imposition to take money from them to give to players on six other clubs who have nothing to do but read the accounts of the games in the papers.

Another little matter which is to be settled soon is that sub rosa fight between Otto Knabe and Heinie Wagner in Chicago last Friday.

They probably will say they went under the grand stand to play a game of pinch.

Heavy Rainstorm Greets Teams on Arrival

OUTSIDE of the financial discussions there was little excitement on the train, which arrived here last night in a heavy rainstorm.

"You can't tell me those birds have a license to beat our club," said Bill Killefer. "We dropped those two games because of some hard luck, but the breaks will not be against us all of the time."

Killefer looks like the hero of the series, but it looked as if he hesitated too long on a play in the fourth inning which would have cut off at least one of the runs scored by Boston.

Boston thus far has proved to be the better team because it is there in a pinch. When an opportunity comes to send in a couple of scores, some batter always steps up and delivers.

THE Red Sox should win the series. They play the best ball on the home ground, which gives them a big advantage.

Club Owners Stand Chance of Losing Money. Owners of the two contending clubs will also face the possibility of losing money.

The Boston pitchers have the edge in the series to date and have stopped the heavy hitters of the Cubs. The Cubs are facing better pitching in this series than they have seen this season.

Decided coolness existed between the Chicago Cubs and the Boston Red Sox, contenders for the world's series championship, as they traveled to Boston today.

HARDLY a word was exchanged by the players. There was no active trouble, as the players were instructed by their managers to remain in their own cars.

McInnis, the Silent, Fined for First Time

For the first time in his baseball career John (Stuffy) McInnis, a former pitcher in the employ of Connie Mack, suffered a financial reverse at the hands of an umpire.

The trip all the way from Chicago to Boston was a sad one for Stuffy, and his day was ruined. What helped make the fine all the more serious was the fact that knowledge had been imparted to the fined athlete of the probable slump in world series receipts for the players.

While Stuffy's feelings were hurt by the fine, it also developed that there were two more mourners. On Saturday two innocent bystanders were hurt. They were Empire Bill Klem and Joe Bush.

Young Stuffy is now under the gun in all right again and expects to pitch when called upon by manager Barron.

WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND

DUN GETS FIRST IN TITLE SERIES

Hands Coat of Whitewash to Autocar—U. G. I. Grips Manufacturers' Lead

PERRY FOOLS PHILLIES

Dun & Co. has drawn first blood in the series for the championship of the Main Line Baseball League. The Commercial Raters, initial ball champions, defeated Autocar, winners of the second series, by a 6 to 0, on the latter's field before a large crowd of fans.

G. G. I. has increased its lead in the Manufacturers' League by defeating Monotype, 5-3, and the Grammen now have a tight hold on the pennant. Becker maintained his fine hitting and allowed the champions but four hits.

Scott Perry, pitching for the Chester Ship, again stumped Phillies' bats as the line-up of the Traylor team was virtually all ex-Moranmen and Chester easily won, 8-0.

Scraps About Scrapper

Mike Uralne, the fighting policeman from Washington, D. C., who has fought the best middleweight in his home town, is in training daily at Jack O'Brien's gym and is expected to make his debut in this section.

It is with the deepest regret that we announce the injury to Billy Grauel, the former boxing writer of this paper.

Irish Paddy Cline, the New York light-wielder, is in the public that he is in the way to box the winner of the Lehigh fight, the Chester champion, scheduled to be held in a special show at the Municipal A. C. on Wednesday evening, September 11.

A good colored heavyweight match has been arranged by the manager of the National A. C. for their weekly show next Saturday night.

Freddy Reese, boxer Leonard's sparring partner and Johnny Burns, will be the contestants in the final bout at the Cambria A. C. on Friday night.

Young Stuffy is now under the gun in all right again and expects to pitch when called upon by manager Barron.

Bill Killefer Wins a Bet of 10,000 to 1

Chicago, Sept. 9.—A bet of ten-thousand to one, made as a result of a joke which the Chicago team made last spring, has been paid to Bill Killefer, one of the club's stockholders, who won the $1000 bet.

Ruth Opposes Tyler in Fourth Contest

Continued from Page One. dentally was the first victim of many efforts by Ames during the series. He frequently was called for pinchouts, but without result. Mann lifted an easy foul to McInnis for the first out.

The park will hold about 32,000 persons. A long line of prospective customers were in front of two ticket windows at 2 o'clock, and there was a steady infiltration, despite threatening weather.

The Cubs and Sox drew faint cheers when they stepped onto the field for batting practice. The crowd showed little enthusiasm, even when the band whopped it up with "Tessie."

MISS WANAMAKER LEADS

Won Greatest Number of Blue Ribbons at Rochester Horse Show

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Championship honors were widely distributed at the Rochester horse show, though the week's favorites stood high.

Two championships went to entries of Miss Constance Vauchain, of Philadelphia, that first business horses over 14.5 hands to Lady Ditham and that for horses over 15.5 hands to The Whip.

FOOTBALL BEST TRAINING SPORT

Dr. H. L. Williams, Minnesota Coach, Issues Stinging Call for Gridiron Game

WILL CONTINUE TO GO

With the major league baseball season ended sports are beginning to take on an autumn hue. Football is now attracting interest. Practice will be started in the big ten September 15 and regular schedules will be maintained as in former years.

There is no indication that the sport will be wiped out, nor even seriously curtailed by the new national army draft, which includes youths of eighteen years old.

As to the success of the game this fall, the experts will not hazard a guess, although the coaches think the sport will thrive.

The veterans, however, will be missing. Most of them are in military service. Dr. H. L. Williams, coach at the University of Minnesota, in issuing the call for practice, says there are no better fighters in the world than the American college football players.

"There are no better soldiers and no more invincible fighters in the world than the American college football players now on the fields of France. At Minnesota we look with just pride in answering the call to the front.

There are no better soldiers and no more invincible fighters in the world than the American college football players now on the fields of France. At Minnesota we look with just pride in answering the call to the front.

There are no better soldiers and no more invincible fighters in the world than the American college football players now on the fields of France. At Minnesota we look with just pride in answering the call to the front.

There are no better soldiers and no more invincible fighters in the world than the American college football players now on the fields of France. At Minnesota we look with just pride in answering the call to the front.

There are no better soldiers and no more invincible fighters in the world than the American college football players now on the fields of France. At Minnesota we look with just pride in answering the call to the front.

There are no better soldiers and no more invincible fighters in the world than the American college football players now on the fields of France. At Minnesota we look with just pride in answering the call to the front.

There are no better soldiers and no more invincible fighters in the world than the American college football players now on the fields of France. At Minnesota we look with just pride in answering the call to the front.

There are no better soldiers and no more invincible fighters in the world than the American college football players now on the fields of France. At Minnesota we look with just pride in answering the call to the front.

There are no better soldiers and no more invincible fighters in the world than the American college football players now on the fields of France. At Minnesota we look with just pride in answering the call to the front.

BANNER SEASON FOR SCHOOLBOYS

Returned From Farms Determined to Keep in Physical Condition

FOOTBALL TO BENEFIT

By PAUL PREP

In an effort to start the week in a proper manner, we arrived at the office rather early this morning. In fact, it was fully three minutes before our scheduled time.

Without losing a second he changed from second to first speed. "Lien hier," he continued, "what kind of friends have you. Do they think yer her' all the time. Some guys been tryin' tuh get yuh on the phone for an 'arf hour."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"We had forgotten all about the incident until an hour later, when Percival, the office boy, returned, walking silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

TENDLER-CHANNEY BOUT AT NATIONAL SEPT. 18

Star Southpaws to Meet in Special Show—Leonard May Referee

ROBSON AT OLYMPIA

By JAMES S. CAROLAN

THE era of southpaws is here. The opening game of the world series in Chicago last Thursday found Ruth and Vaughn the opposing twiflers. Both are left-handers. On Friday Tyler, a left-hander, beat Bush, a right-handed artist.

On Saturday Vaughn, the southpaw, came back, but lost. Today Ruth, a left-hander, is due to go to the mound against Tyler, another portside heaver.

Just as the southpaws have the spotlight in baseball, just so are these portside-siders about to occupy the leading place in an all-important boxing match. The National A. A. will stage a special show on Wednesday night, September 18, which will bring together Lew Tandler, Quaker City southpaw king, and George Channey, the portside mauler from Baltimore.

Without losing a second he changed from second to first speed. "Lien hier," he continued, "what kind of friends have you. Do they think yer her' all the time. Some guys been tryin' tuh get yuh on the phone for an 'arf hour."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

"Did he tell you his name or business?" "No, but don't worry," continued Percival. "He isn't one of these hard-looking pugilists, and I don't think he's a tennis player, for he lacks ordinary, walked silently up to our desk with the information that a man was waiting to see us."

Lew Tandler Now Labor Scout for Hog Island

Tandler has joined the forces of Uncle Sam's war workers. Last Saturday the southpaw king was seen in the uniform of a labor scout for the Sun Shipbuilding Company.

Tandler left for New York today on a special assignment, which he expects will keep him away from the city for three or four days. He is a special member of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

Three or four other men were seen to Tandler who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.

SENIORS BEGIN ANNUAL GOLF PLAY TOMORROW. More Than 350 Entries for Classic Restricted to Men 55 Years or Over. The important fall golf is beginning in earnest this week with the annual tournament of the Seniors' Golf Association, which will begin tomorrow morning on the links of the Apawamick Club and continue four days.

SUITS $11.80. REDUCED FROM $20.00 and $25.00. PETER MORAN & CO. Tailors. 3 E. Cor. 9th & Arch Sts. Open Monday and Saturday until 5 o'clock.

Racing AT Havre de Grace. SEPTEMBER 10TH TO 28TH INCLUSIVE. Seven Races Daily. INCLUDING A STEEPCHASE. ADMISSION: Grandstand and Paddock, $1.65. Ladies, $1.10—including War Tax. FIRST RACE AT 3:30 P. M.

A One Week's Sale Of Fine Business Suits. 150 Worsteds Suits Regularly $30 Sold for $40.00. 250 All-Wool Suits Regularly $20 Sold for $30.00. In all, four hundred suits, many of which are fully lined and will do for wear until the snow flies, when they may be put away and you will have a new suit next season. The first group contains some of the finest worsteds suits in Oak Hall's crystal cabinets. The second group also contains a number of worsteds with a sprinkling of novelty weaves and patterns, every single one in entire good taste. Until the end of this week you can buy them at— $20 & $30. Wanamaker & Brown. Market at Sixth for 57 Years.

It's a big thing for me," said Lew Tandler, who is in his element. He turned down three jobs as boxing referee. He will have plenty of spare time to train for his business, or present at least his spare time.