JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Hears That Miss Williams Will Go Abroad for Red Cross Work-Games and Races Will Entertain the

Kiddies at War Horse Show on Friday

to do Red Cross work. Elizabeth Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Williams, of Bala, and a sister of Mary Williams and of Mrs. Johns Hopkins and of Dave Williams, Jr., who married Maida Dale. Emilie married Johns Hopkins quite recently and he is now in France. He is a brother of Bill Hopkins, who is with the 116th Regiment of the 28th Division. Their mother, Mrs. Johns Hopkins, died about two months ago.

Elizabeth is the second sister in the Williams family and a great favorite. She is a most sensible, charming girl and will be able to do splendid work for the Red Cross. The time of her going is not quite settled as yet. She is coming home from Prouts: Neck this week, I believe. Her parents have a house up there and Emilie and Elizabeth have been with them most of the summer.

DID you know that Hansell Patterson and her baby daughter have come home from Watertown, N. Y., and will spend the winter with Hansell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Earle, 3d., at their home in Bryn Mawr?

It appears Bud, who has been in the ordnances department, has been transferred into active service and is now at a training camp and will likely go over soon, so I suppose as Hansell's baby is still young it will be far less lonely for her to remain with her family than to open her house in Ardmore. I do feel so sorry for these young wives whose husbands have to leave them. It's the same story everywhere, and they are all as brave as brave can be, but it must hurt, you know, and hurt awfully at that. Gladys Earle Mather, who came on to pay a few weeks) visit to her family, is with her mother in the Adirondacks, but will shortly join Captain Mather out West again.

THE season such as it will be will really open this week, for the three last days of the week will be given over to the big war benefit horse show, gymkhana and sports carnival at the Bryn Mawr polo grounds.

The kiddles are to have lots of fun on Friday morning, for there are to be all kinds of races in which they will participate. This being a part of the gymkhana, they are t hold potato races, egg and spoon races, needle-and-thread contest, musical chairs, nightshirt and pigsticking contests. It's going to be fine fun, don't you think? Then there's a dog show on Thursday, besides the horse show, so you see there's an awful lot doing. And everybody will be there, every one will come home to go pretty much, for there's so little doing socially every one wants to get in for what there is.

About all the women on the Main Line are patronesses and a number of men are interested. Among the patronesses noted Mrs. Charles Who is same, and as a train of thought so often follows a name I began thinking of the death of her grandson, Dick Elliot, last year, and then I thought of his little wife, who has been so brave under the trial. They had been married such a short time when the ship on which he was was blown up and Dick was killed instantly.

Have you seen the beautiful bronze memorial tablet for him that has been on exhibition, together with two other tablets, in a Chestnut street window? It is very beautiful. You should look for it. It's HEAR there's another girl going over , a policeman and have you taken up to the Augusta jail." and he scowled flercely. Both the youngsters looked up at himthey are crazy about him-and Kitty, smilling cordially, answered with much anthusiasm, "Uh-huh!" NANCY WYNNE.

Social Activities

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Monigomery, Jr., pent the week-end at their home in Radnor, fr. Montgomery is detailed in Washington and Mrs. Montgomery spends much of her time

Captain Robert E. Strawbridge, Remo Division. U. S. A., spent the week-end with his family at his home in Bryn Mawr.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lieber, of Bryn Mawr, returned last week from Narragan-sett, where they had a cottage for the summer.

Mrs. Bernard Converse and her children of Watervliet, N. Y., are visiting Mrs. Con-verse's parents, Mr, and Mrs. William Liseter Austin, of Rosemont, for a few weeks. Major Converse is stationed at Watervillet in the ordnance department.

Mrs. Howard W. Lewis, of 1928 Spruce street, who is at Virginia Hot Springs, will remain there until the end of the month. Miss Anna H. Faries, of 2007 Walnut street, is at Milton, Mass., where she will spend this month and part of October.

Mrs. J. Dallas Selberling and her children have returned to their home, 1807 Arch street, a fter spending the summer in Mount Pocono.

Miss Annie Ayres, of 4312 Manayunk ave-Roxborough, has returned from a month's stay in Ocean City.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. McKaraher, Old York road, will return today from Atlantic City, where they spent the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ritter have returne from their wedding trip and are at home at 5849 North Camac street. The bride was Miss Grace E. Munson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Henry L. Munson.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Prenzlau, of 2114 West Erie avenue, and their son and daugh-ter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Prenzlau, of 3955 North Smedley street, have returned from Atlantic City.

Miss Marion Erwin and her sister, Miss Eleanor Erwin, who spent the summer at Patchogue, L. I., have returned to their home in Wissahickon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Weinberg, of 1841 West Erie avenue, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Gordon S Weinberg, on September 6.

Miss Kathrine Blye Hagy gave a small dance last week at her home in honor of Sergeant William E. Pitts and several other members of the 122nd Aero Squad from Camp Vall, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Anderson. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Miss Laura S. Sehs, Miss Genevieve Hanna, Miss Gertrude Rowan, Miss Marguerite Lucile Costello, Miss Katharine S. Seeler, Miss Ella Ruth Rowans, Miss Lillian Guthrie, Miss Laura S. Hagy, Miss Vera Eldridge, Miss Gertrude Reher, Miss Dorothy Foster, Master Signal Electrician Floyd E. Corbin, Sergeant C. O. Thornton, Corporal George C. Staples, from Camp Vall; Sergeant Milton E. Wilson, from Camp Meade, and the fol-lowing marines from Camp Fuller, Paoli: Sergeant Kenneth G. Saldley, Sergeant A. M. Knapp, Corporal Carleton F. Synck, Private N. C. Vickery, Private A. Kenneth Graham and Private Thomas G. Swetz.

NOTED SCIENTISTS TO MEET

by Mr. and Mrs. Andersen.

The dance was preceded by a dinner given

Rehabilitation of Wounded Soldiers Topic of Two-Day Session All phases of the rehabilitation of wounded

KRUSEN GIVES ADVICE TO PUPILS' PARENTS

Director Urges Attention to Important Hygienic Hints

Affecting Children

In a message to parents, Director Krusen, of the Depastment of Health and Charities, urges daily science hints to regulate the moral and physical conduct of the child and moral and physical conduct of the child and advises the grown-ups as to hygiene. His bulletin in part is as follows: "First of all, children should not be per-mitted to go to school without a good, sub-stantial breakfast stantial breakfast.

stantial breakfast. "Then again, all too often, parents allow children to attend school with unclean hands and face. Disease spreads much more rap-idly among unkempt children and affects not only themselves, but others around them. "Instruct the children not to purchase foods from the street venders, for their wares are often contaminated hy streat dust.

often contaminated by street dust. "Don't permit the children to stay up late at nights. They require plenty of sleep in a well-ventilated room. well-ventilated room. "Teach them not to wet the fingers when turning the pages of books. Don't permit them to put penells or other objects in the mouth or wet them with the lips. "A clean handkerchief should be provided for each child. Too often the sleeve is used for this purpose—a cause for us; cuitfolem of for this purpose-a cause for just criticism of the parent "Teach them that disease may be contracted from other sick children and may be transmitted by coughing or sneezing into another's face. They should be taught to turn the face to avoid this."

SILK FLAG PRESENTED TO ODD FELLOWS' HOME

Special Musical Program at Interesting Services Held on Lawn of Home

A large meeting was held on the lawn of the Odd Fellows' Home, Seventeenth and Tloga streets, yesterday, when a large silk flag and pedestal for the chapel was presented to the home by the lodges of the organization. Mr. Usher Hall, the grand secretary of the order, presided and made the presentation speech. The flag was accepted by Mr. Thomas Sipps, president of the home. The Rev. Chantry I. Hoffman made the opening prayer and there was a special musical program of vocal solos and quartets.

MRS. MARY CROZER DIES

Devoted Her Closing Years to Establishment of Charities Following an illness of six months, Mrs.

Mary Stotesbury Crozer, widow of J. Lewis Crozer, cotton, manufacturer and philanthropist, died yesterday at her home, Upland avenue and Summit street, Upland, Pa., at the age of eighty-two years. Mary Stotesbury Crozer was the daughter of Richard G. and Mary A. Turrey Stotes bury, of Philadelphia. When Mr. Crozer died on April 7, 1897, he left the evolution of important institutions to her supervision. His last will provided $500,000 for the establishment of a home for incurables and a hospital to be operated under the care of the Homeopathic School of Medicine and Surgery. Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars was set aside also for a library to be crected in Chester. That she proved faithful to the trust is shown by two magnificent monuments to her husband—the J. Lewis Crozer Home for Incurables and the Homeopathic Hospital acjoining on the knoll just outside "Chester, toward Upland way.

WILL REAFFIRM LOYALTY Americanized Italians Plan Mass-Meeting

September 20 A mass-meeting of Americans of Italian birth or descent ill be held September 20 in Independence Square to reaffirm loyalty to the United States.

Several thousand men are expected to par-ticipate. Two addresses, one in Italian and the other in English, will be delivered by men of national prominence. The gathering will be held simultaneously with other mass-meetings in the chief cities of the nation. The Roman Legion of Amer-ica, which is affiliated with the committee of public information at Washington, is sponsor for the meetings. sponsor for the meetings. The mass-meeting here will be in charge of Giovanni Di Silivestro, chairman of the

the Roman Legion Thou-

BRIDE OF NAVY MAN

MRS, WILLIAM F. DENNY Photo by J. Mitchell Elilot A bride of last month, who will be remembered as Miss Edna Marie Fox, of Wash-ington, D. C. Mr. Denny, U. S. N., has gone overseas

THE GILDED MAN By CLIFFORD SMYTH

Copyright. 1918, by Bont & Liveright. Inc., New Copyright. 1918, by the Public Ledger Co. is highly developed in him. Under strong, sudden excitement this personality becomes greatly exaggerated." THE STORY THUS FAR

"He was laboring under no particular ex-tement at the time of his disappearance." bjected Leighton. "What about the mission be was on? I

THE STORY THUS FAR While hunting for treasure in Lake Guata-vita. Colombia, South America, with Ranul Ar-thur, his partner, David Meudon is injured in a dynamite explosion and disappears. Three months later he reappears from no one knows where, though it may be that Arthur suspects. Three years later he is engaged to marry Una Leighton in Connecticut. Her uncle, Harold Leighton in Connecticut. Her uncle, Harold Leighton in Connecticut. Her uncle, Harold Leighton, objects to the marrisge breause there may have been something in that three months' blank in Meudon's life to make the marriage undesirable. An investigating trip to Colom-bia is planned. The party consists of David Una and her uncle and two friends. On the boott they meet Doctor Miranda and General Herran. Colombians, At Honda David dovider, ing the rest of his party being. Herran end wahis rang from Rogota under Pedro. A wahis is play from Rogota under Pedro and wahis rang from Rogota under Pedro and David and General Herran bear them from afar. have an idea that it was of absorbing im-portance to him. Remember, he was re-visiting scenes connected with an episode that for some years he has been trying to forget, but which he now wants to revive And then, to cap the climax, suddenly he comes, slap bang, right into the midst of a rabble of peons who would be only too glad to kill him, or imprison him, or torture him or anything else unpleasant. The same rowd tried to get me once, so I know what all means."

"All this is true; but the excitement was hardly chough to drown David's norma personality."

afar, in the meeting that follows David and the general get separated and David again disap-pears. "It all helps, though. It predisposes things t is, as I look at it, the final stage setting, with all the characters in their places awaiting the entrance of the villath to finish up the tragedy. And in this case the villain entered just at the critical moment. Mr. Leighton," he asked abruptly, "have you ever known David to drink a glass of wine?" RAOUL flinched perceptibly under this statement. His cool indifference took on 1 statement. His cool industrice took of sort of cordiality that repels one more than open enmity. Bending over the table before which he was standing, he occupied himself in elaborately sorting and rearranging some papers at which he had been working. "I can't say that I have," he answered untifully

"Well, alcoholic stimulus, with certain mperaments-you know what it does. It tarts up an altogether abnormal psychology

"Very apt to." "Depends a little on the stage setting, doesn't it? But, even without that it has its odd effects. On rare occasions, for in-stance, I have known Meudon to take a single drink of liquor. The result has been similar to that branch on by bynastiem."

ess state of bewilderment at the turn the "This young man will help us find Meusald Leighton in his broken Spanish. "He knows where he is?" asked Herrar eagerly. "He knows something," replied the savant with significant emphasis. "For one thing, General, those pistol shots you had with Meudon seem to have played the devil." "Caramba! Does he say so? But that is foolishness "

"No, it is theory," said Leighton dryly, "How will be prove it?"

"By finding Meudon."

There was a finality in the tone of Leighon's rejoinder which, more than the words hemselves, indicated the seeker's conviction that the road to David's discovery was in plain view. Baoul Arthur, however, said nothing. Standing aloof from his two visi. tors, apparently not heeding them, his silence aroused Leighton's curiosity.

"Naturally, I depend on you, Arthur," said the old man, with an emphasis that sounded like a threat.

"I don't know why," he demurred. "David was with your party when this happened. failed to find him three years ago, you know There is no proof that you did anything then to reactle the man who was your friend and business partner." retorted Leighton. "This time failure might be fatal—for you." The words and Leighton's manner had their effect. Shaking off his real, or assumed apathy. Raoul faced his accuser angrily. "I have given you the one clew of which I have any knowledge." he said, meeting Leighton for the first time eye to eye. I have done what I could, I will still do what can. But I won't act at the dictation of a man of whom I know nothing, whom I never even met until this moment."

"That's all very well," replied the other imperturbably. "But, as I said, I depend on you-quite naturally, it seems to me-to help in the recovery of your friend. My nleve and I are in this country for the express purpose of solving David's former disappear "Your niece""

"Yes; the woman whom David expects to marry.

(CONTINUED TOMORROW)

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES

By DADDY A complete new adventure each week, begin-ning Monday and ending Saturday.

(In previous adventures Peggy, after being made tiny through fairy ring grass, has enjoyed wonderful trips through the air aboard her toy airplane and has been crowned Princess of Birdland.

"SKY SOLDIERS" CHAPTER I

The Golickety Shrub DEGGY was watching moving pictures of the war being thrown on an outdoor screen in the public playground near her home. Her pulse beat faster and cheers came leaping unbidden from her throat as she saw brave American soldier boys going over the top. But her biggest thrill came when there flashed into view a battle high in the air between Yankee and Hun airplanes.

"My pracious, but I'd like to see a real airplane fight," she murmured, hugging her own airplane close to her. "So would I," spoke up General Swallow, who, all unnoticed, had perched on the bench beside her. "I wonder if those airmen are a beside her. "I wonder if those airmen are as good fighters as we airbirds." "They look it." exclaimed Peggy enthusi-astically. Then it struck her as a bit odd that General Swallow was there. "I didn't now that Birds liked moving pictures," she added. "They don't, All of Birdland is sound asleep, except the Night Birds and myself. But I like fighting pictures, and as a military Bird I think it is my duty to see them." At that General Swallow gave Peggy a wink, just like her father winked when pretending to make excuses for taking her to the circus.

"Let's go over to Europe and see the fightng," he suddenly suggested, just as if Europe vere only around the corner. "Why, Europe is thousands and thousands f miles away," answered Peggy.

"That's nothing, if you eat Golickety leaves," responded General Swallow. "What are Golickety leaves"" asked Peggy.

"They grow on the Golickety shrub," plied General Swallow. "If you eat one you can become any size you want to be, you will be invisible, and can go through the air as fast as you want to. Here's a Golickety similar to that brought on by hypnoti while her sirplane suddenly awoke into bump ing life. She hopped aboard, and it darted away. General Swallow, to keep from being left behind, seized her dress in his beak and was carried along in the wild rush. Up, up, up went the airplane, so high that the earth, instead of being spread out flat, was round, just like a geography globe at school. Persy saw a stretch of land spin past, then a great mass of ocean. Land appeared on the other side of the ocean, and down swooped the airplane into the midst of a great roaring noise. "Thunder!" thought Peggy. But a moment later she knew it wasn't thunder. It was the pounding tumult of the big guns at the battlefront in France.

"My, that was some ride!" shrilled Gen-ral Swallow, as the airplane slowed up,

They dived through a big cloud bank, and They dived through a big cloud bank, and as they came out into the clear air beneath, they suddenly found builets whizzing all about them. A great winged monster was roaring up at them, and right behind it was second monster in deadly pursuit of the rat. Peggy and General Swallow were havfight. And more than that, they were right in the midst of it and in mortal peril of eing hit.

(Tomorrow will be told how they go to the old of a brave American aviator.)

PHILADELPHIA'S LEADING THEATRES Direction LEE & J. J. SHUBERT

Sam S. Shubert Theatre. TONIGHT at 8. Broad & Locust Sts Special Mat. Today SEATS $1.50 Bay Constock Morris Gest

CHI versent the Vorid's Most CHIN Justini Extrava-CHOW

PERFORMANCE STARTS PROMPTLY AT 8 PERFORMANCE STARTS PROMPTLY AT 8 PERFORMANCE STARTS PROMPTLY AT 8 ADELPHI EVENINGS AT 8:15. Mais, Thurs. & Sat., 2:15.

tanna of the

$

.00

Entire

Lower

Floor

Pop. Mat. Thursday BEST $1.00 MESSICS, LEE and J. J. SHUBERT Present

Diverting drama with a mystery interest, with George Nash and an excellent supporting cast,

CHESTNUT OPERA HOUSE STREET STREET Prices, Nuclus, 11, 50, 51, 75c, 50c, Matiness H, 60, 75c, 50c, (Except Saits, and Holidays) Evgs, 8:15, Maits, Wed, and Sait, at 2:15 WHLIJAM ELLIOTT, F, RAY COMSTOCK and MORRIS GEST

LEAVE OF TO JANI MUSICAL COMEDY WITH THE JOY OF YOUTH With Original COUTH POP. MAT. WED. BEST SEATS $1.00 LYRIC Evgs. at 8:15.

Montagu Glass and Jules Eckert Goodma

FORREST-Mat. Today TONIGHT

TWICE DAILY-2:15 and 8:15

THIS WEEK ONLY

LAST TIMES IN PHILA. THIS SEASON

D. W. GRIFFITH'S SUPREME

MEARTS

WORLD

Daily Mat., 25c to $1. Evgs. and Sat. Mat., 25c to $1.50.

NEXT WEFK SEATS THURSDAY John Cort, Producer of "Princess Pat." "Flo, Fio." "Flor. Bella" and "Fiddlers Three," Offers & New Musical Comedy

GLORIANNA

my

Barney Bernard, Alexander Carr

And Original New York Company

Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15

MAT. WED.

A. H. WOODS Presents

DUSINESS DEFORE PLEASURE

the south side of the way between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets.

Mrs. Elliot, who was Joan Packard, has been staying up in the Adirondacks with the George Packards for several weeks and has now gone to visit her sister-inlaw, Mrs. Robert Newsome Donner, in Buffalo. You remember Mrs. Donner was Suzanne Elliot; she came out just about two years ago.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS is pretty nice these days, and a lot of people are going down there for autumn visits. Mr. and Mrs. Petey Roberts, of Villanova, are there now, and Mr. Roberts is riding a lot over the mountain roads. Frances and Bertha Clark are also enthusiastic riders and go out quite often with Natalle Smith. And, of course, Carol and Suzanne Smith never miss a day in the saddle. Mrs. Bruce Ford, of Chestnut Hill, went down last week for several weeks.

Mrs. Archibald Barklie, who is running the Bryn Mawr Horse Show cafeteria, is among the patronesses for the White Sulphur Neighborhood Association, which has recently been organized down there. It is the purpose of this movement to provide to the mountain families an exchange where they may market their farm produce and their mountain handicrafts. The association hopes to render practical aid to all in distress or need and to promote the spirit of fellowship throughout this district. An opening exibition sale was given at the Greenbrier Public Library building last week, and a great many of the visitors at the resort were present to buy the unique handmade things and carry away with them a pot of genuine apple butter and other delicacies, Mrs. Edward R. Stettinius, who conceived the idea, is honorary chairman of the association; Mrs. Thornton Lewis is acting chairman, Mrs. George D. Kahlo is vice chairman and Miss Nancy Reid, who has devoted much of her time to mountain work, is social worker and manager. Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie and Mrs. Andrew Moreland, of Pittsburgh, are among the patronesses, and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo and Mrs. Cary Grayon have taken an interest in the work. Mrs. George Blumenthal and Mrs. Parmely Herrick, who are staying at the Greenbrier, have also been active in this move ment.

TTITTY is fourteen months old, her sister Betty is three years old. They had a wonderful time this summer up in Maine. and laughed and played together all day ong. Kitty's one remark, which she uses all occasions, is "Uh-huh." One day two of them were having a hilarious me bout something and Uncle Bill alked into the room. "See here," he is severaly, "If you two girls don't stop there so much disturba/o p Till send for American soldiers and returning them back into the industries of the nation will be discussed at a meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, to be held in Witherspoon Hall on Friday and Saturday. Among those who will speak are Dr. W. W. Among those who will speak are Dr. W. W. Keen, noted surgeon of this city; Lieutenant Colonel Charles W. Richardson, Lieutenant Colonel Harry E. Mock and Brigadier General Robert E. Noble, Medical Corps, U. S. A.; James C. Miller, Federal Board for Vocational Education; Dr. Charles A. Prosser, director of the Federal Bureau for Vocational Edu-cation; Hownerd B. Havdon, chief of the de-cation; Howard R. Heydon, chief of the de-partment of public education of the Red Cross institute for crippled and disabled men, and Dr. Francis D. Patterson, chief of the division of industrial hygiene and engineering of the Pennsylvana Department of Labor and plans to win the war.

THREE LIBERTY SINGS

Patriotic Neighborhood Exercises Include Two Service Flag Raisings

Industry.

Residents of Woodstock street, between Dauphin and York streets, will hold their first Liberty Sing this evening under the leadership of J. Miller. Twelve boys from this block are in service and a service flag raised in their honor next Monday evening.

Residents of the 2000 block on East Russell street will hold their second Liberty Sing to-morrow evening under the leadership of Charles Myers and Mrs. Harry Moir, accompanist

A service flag raising and Liberty Sing will be held on Webster street, between Fiftyfourth and Fifty-fifth streets, under the leadership of Mrs. F. Satterfield.

PENN KEEPS GIRLS' COURSES

University Opens Wharton Night School to Women

In view of possible changes in the cur-riculum of Barnard College, the woman's branch of Columbia, following the alteration in the men's diversity announces that the women's courses at Pennsylvanta will remain unchanged.

So far the attendance promises if any-thing to increase, since both men and women appear to be eager to sieze new opportunities of education opened to them. For first time the evening Wharton School For the Finance will be open to women, so that they can equip thenselves for opportunities in the business world which the war has brought into the reach of women. Letters have been received at the University for the last seven years from women who begged to be allowed enter the evening Wharton School of Finance.

MRS. M. T. HERRICK DIES

War Exertions Hasten End of Wife of Former Ambassador

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 16.-Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, wife of the United States ambassador Herrick, wile of the United States ambassador to France, 1914, is dead here after a linger-ing illness, the result of overwork in Paris during the days of the first German in-vasion. Both the ambassador and his wife worked incessantly for Americans as well as the ambients of other constraints

Mra. Herrick was sixty years old. Mr. Herrick, who was with her at the end, will take the body to their home in Cleveland, O. for burial sands of members of the Order of the Sons of Italy will participate.

FRATERNALS TO AID LOAN Plans to be followed by fraternal organizations in the coming Liberty Loan campaign will be made at a meeting of the fraternal committee of the Council of National Defense tonight in the Mayor's reception room, City Hall. Representatives of every fraternal organization in the city have been invited. Present plans call for the handling of the campaign within its own ranks by each organization. It is also planned to give every beneficial and fraternal society an oppor-tunity to prove itself 100 per cent patriotic and solidly behind the Government in its

Who before her marriage on August 28 was Miss Edna Johnson, of 431 Mount Airy avenue, Mount Airy. Mrs. Cullom is now Kuins in Birmingham, Ala

Well?

"Well "

plicit

'You think, then---- wan't it'

The profuse compliment was not relished by the old savant. "I am not aware that I have advanced our knowledge of psychology. as you put it, one iota." he said testily. "But I am here to add to the small stock of what I have already learned." "You must have found David a rare prob-lem?" exclaimed Raoul,

CHAPTER X-Continued

"Of course," he said, "I know you now." Mr. Harold Leighton. I didn't place the name at first, which was altogether stupid of me. I have often wanted to meet you.

As a matter of fact, I heard of your coming

It's a rare treat in this out-of-the-way part of the world to run across a man who has advanced our knowledge of psychology as "You know him, perhaps, better than I do.'

"Yes, I know him. That is, in a way Engaging sort of chap. Clever and all that Mysterious, too, don't you think? So, he has disappeared again, you say?"

"Don't tell me that you have not known of it! The whole town has been talking about it."

"Rumors, only rumors," protested Raoul

"Rumors, only rumors, protested Rabat. "I would like to hear the real facts." "This gentlemain, General Herran, with whom Mr. Meudon was traveling, can tell you, the facts, such as they are. But I can't see why you should need them."

Raoul turned to Leighton's companior who had been trying to follow what the two men were saying. As they talked in Eng-lish, a language of which he knew scarcely world he could make very little of i a world, in Spanish, to give the details of his ride with David, he made an excellent story of it, relating something of the discussion that had absorbed them while on the road together, the friendly feeling that had grown up between them, its touch of conviviality, and their abrupt separation in the midst of their encounter with the regiment of volunteers, Raoul listened intently to Herran's narrative, his glance reving restlessly from the narrator to his companion and back again, as if to compare the effect on both of what was said.

what was said. "It's a strange tale. Senor," he com-mented when Herran had come to the end. "These things with a touch of mystery in them are always fascinating—until you stumble on the clew. Then it's very simple. I suppose you have no theory to explain our friend's disappearance?"

"None, Senor." "You have just told me. Mr. Leighton." he went on, addressing the latter "that you here to add to your knowledge of psychology ' "I did.

"I did." "Well, what do you make of it? Here's what you are looking for—a neat psycho-logical problem right to your hand. "I don't see it." said the savant impatiently. "That's always the way with you great scientists! But-it's simple," declared Raoul, a note of triumph in his voice;

"absolutely simple—if you know David as well as I do." "I said that you probably know him better. I have not known him as long or as intimately as you have. But—again I fail to see what psychology has to do with "It has everything to do with it. David was not spirited away, as you seem to imagine. He disappeared of his own ac-

"There is every reason to think the contrary," said Leighton contemptuously. "Oh, of course I may be wrong in my theory. But as there is no other evidence, I see only one solution. "It's the clew we are after, you know-and

"It's the clew we are after, you know—and the clew is right under your nose." "Perhaps you are on the wrong scent. Some investigators have a knack of being cocksure about everything. But—explain your meaning." "Very well. Let's talk as one psychologist to another, then. Meudon has a peculiar temperative probably know that. But

"Why, it's childishly simple! David was knocked over by a force, an influence, to which he is unaccustemed. He is not at all a drinking man, you understand. Quite the reverse. With him the effect of drink would not be in the least like ordinary intoxicatio ondition of abnormal psychology.

'Don't you see what happened?" "I have not had your experience with

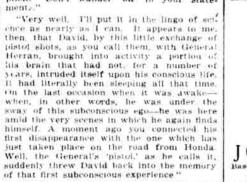

"There's your clew!" Raoul announced triumphantly. "You have heard General Herran's story. He tells us that just before they parted he and David drank several toasts together—and the toasts. I fancy, were stronger than mere wine."

intedly.

he charm act." declared General Swallow, Gollekety small: Gollekety fast! th, when it comes fall, why summer is past." It sounded like a very foolish, meaningless hyme to Peggy, but she tried it. dollekely small' Gollekety fast! th. when it comes fall, why summer is past. Still there seemed to be no effect. Peggy

From two former experiences I know that it would be far subtler. It would produce what you would call a pseudo-hypnosis, a

"The Ghost of the Forgotten found at last," used Leighton, more to himself than to Raoul.

"Fxactly! That's a good way to put it." "Suppose your theory correct, what hap-pened after David's subconscious memory

"As a psychologist, you are better able to answer that than L."

"I am not interested in abstruse problems just now. I am here simply to find David." - "Difficult, perhaps. I couldn't find him before. But at least I have given you the clew." "Your clew doesn't explain. I don't know

"A restatement of my theory may clear things up. Through a combination of certain circumstances, exerting upon him a pe-cullar influence. David is living again in an environment and through a set of experiences that belong to him only when he is in what we call a condition of secondary personality. Discover that environment—the same, I believe, as the one in which he was lost three Great demand for the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER may cause you to mise an install-ment of this very interesting story. You had better, therefore, telephone or write to the Chreutation Department, or ask your pewa-dealer this afternoon to leave the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER at your home.

CASINO LADIES' MAT. TODAT MAURICE SAMUELS & CO.: OLIVES: Other Girls De Look CROSS KEYS MARKET ST. Boow GOTH Walnut at 8th St. WITH HORY & LES GAYETY AL MARTIN and JOLLY OF A. SEYMOUR BROWN & CO. BROADWAY Broad & Snyder Ave. Daily-Twice Night Trocadaro THE BRAUTY BRYD

what to do with it."

years ago-and you will discover David."

Leighton made no comment. He regarded Raoul with characteristic immobility. One gathered from his silence, however, that he was impressed with what he had just heard,

David," was the sarcastic reply. "It is not a question of mere personal experience," said Raoui irritably; "it involves what we know-or guess-of the eccentricities of the human soul." "You are an enthusiast. Be more ex-icit. Don't wander off in your state-