MAX FLACK, WHO HANDED CHAMPIONSHIP TO RED SOX, ONCE WAS REGULAR HERO

Cub Outfielder Won Pennant for Weeghman in 1915 When He Whacked Double, Scoring Two Runs, in Final Game at Chicago—His Average Now Is .500

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger

IT WAS after the final game of the world series last Wednesday and several scribes who were fortunate enough to procure seats in the crowded Pullman were speeding toward New York...

Before a vote could be taken, however, a Chicago journalist ended the argument by taking the floor and talking until every one fell asleep...

"Weeghman's park was jammed—24,212 inside, to be exact—and the crowd was spread from first base along the foul line to the right field fence...

"PITTSBURGH won the first game, which was a long haul—out affair, and it was getting late when the second contest was started...

Darkness Hangs Heavily Over the Players

THE second game started with darkness coming on fast. Elmer Knetsch, who pulled the first game out of the fire for Pittsburgh, was on the mound...

"For five innings the game went along without either team getting a man beyond second, and it looked like a deadlock, which would have given the flag to the Smoketown team...

"In this inning Chicago managed to slip a couple of men on base, but the next two batters perished at the plate. The darkness became darker when Max Flack stepped up...

"O' COURSE, to use old stuff, the crowd was breathless. I think you could have heard a mosquito breathing even had he been on top of the Apple in center field...

How Max Flack Won Game and Became a Hero

BOTH players—Oakes and Savage—raced on. Chicago's two men on base did likewise. One crossed the plate and the other was rounding third when Oakes got under the ball...

"Oakes, with hands outstretched, was about to grab the pill, when a happy thought struck him. He would see if he could take one more step—just to make sure of the catch—and also keep out of the crowd...

"That's how Max Flack won the pennant for Chicago, for they gave him a two-base hit on Oakes's slip-up. He looked good to Weeghman that day in 1915...

"ANYWAY, Max pulled his star play on the last day of the Federal League and came through with a home when the big league closed shop for the duration of the war...

Bill Killefer Anxious to Join Alex Over There

BILL KILLEFER, premier catcher of the universe, has planted his $274.62 in the home town savings bank and will leave tomorrow for Camp Custer, where he will do his best to end the war...

"And now, Bill, we are away over here, where we used to sing about. It is like our country, only we can't talk to any of the people, so the best we can do is make signs...

"It is not what the old wife was, and yet it is not so bad, only the setting used to be. I don't know if you have gone yet or not. If not, I hope it is over before you do, and if you are in camp you will know the worst of it by now...

"The last ball scores I saw made me feel better, for the boys were leading and I am pulling for them to win and only wish I could be there to do my part...

"HATE hopes of getting back for the start of next year, as I think the Germans will be well whipped by that time and, if not by, we will know the reason why...

Some Inside Stuff Passed by the Censor

THIS is the land of wine, but as yet I have not found any Paul Rogers. Although I know it is made over here some place, as soon as I find the place I'll drink some to the memories of last summer...

"Today is payday, Bill, and the money over here looks like cigar store coupons. It keeps one busy figuring out if he is rich or poor, but Bill, that bundle of coin is more welcome than those big pay checks we used to get twice a month during the season...

"I would like to write more, but it wouldn't get by the censor. That guy is like Bill Klem. He never misses anything. The only news I can think of is that I have been made a corporal. Pretty good, eh Bill? Give my best to all my friends and ask them to write...

Football Men Will Meet Here in Near Future

FOOTBALL officials, coaches and players in and around Philadelphia will meet within the next two weeks to discuss the new rules and the plans for the coming season. There are many points to be cleared up, but nothing will be done until the colleges find out exactly what they can do from the Government officials in Washington...

Herbert W. Taylor, secretary of the central board of officials, gave the following statement: "The plans are being made for a regular football interpretation meeting to be held when the status of the game has been definitely settled. It is expected to hold such a meeting after the season ends."

SMALL FIELD WILL PLAY IN BELLE STEELMAN BUMM CUP TOURNAMENT TODAY

Entry List Is Less Than One-third of Entrants for the Event Last Year—Whitemarsh Women Active in Aiding Sick Marines and Sailors

By WILLIAM H. EVANS

ONLY twenty-eight women have sent in their entries for the second annual Belle Steelman Bumm Cup tournament, which will begin at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club today.

Many women golfers are doing Red Cross work or are busy as motor messengers, so they can find little time for tournament play, and as the Bumm tournament will last five days this will prevent a number from playing.

One thing that may have interfered with the entry list is that the notice of the tournament was sent out somewhat when many of the women were away at the shore or in the mountains.

Prominent Stars to Play Among the more prominent women players entered is Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, who won the tournament last year.

Women Should Use Clubs Which They Can Control

Jack Hutchison claims that it is more essential for women golfers to have clubs which they can control, both as to rights and length than men. Hutchison thinks it is better to grip the club near the top, and for the women to use shorter clubs than men's weapons made in exactly the right lengths. The average length for women's implements should be as follows:

Driver, 35 to 42 inches; brassie, 32 1/2 to 35 inches; iron, 32 to 34 inches; mashie, 33 to 35 inches; 35 to 37 inches; putter, 33 to 35 inches; mid-mashie, 36 to 37 inches.

after a sensational twenty-hole match with Mrs. G. Henry Stetson, who turned in the low medal score. Mrs. Stetson won four up in the turn and it was not until the eighth hole that Mrs. Stetson was low squared the match, and it was not until the match was over that she was up on her opponent.

The course is in beautiful condition for the tournament and the links were never in better condition this year than at the present time.

The women of the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club have been doing some fine work in a quiet way. At the Naval Hospital on Gray's Ferry Road there are a number of sailors and marines who are convalescing. Every Monday the members of the club go to the hospital, in their automobiles and load up the patients and sailors and take them for driving through the suburban sections. Later they are entertained at the club at dinner.

The sale, via heroes look forward with great eagerness to those outings which mean so much to them. The men of the club appreciating the work of the women have subscribed between $750 and $850 to pay for the entertainment of the guests, and nearly every member of the club is on the list of subscribers.

Mrs. L. P. Deming is chairman of the committee and her associates are Mrs. J. Wallace Turnbull and Mrs. D. L. Short.

Whitemarsh Will Miss Jake Everybody who has ever played at Whitemarsh remembers Jake who has charge of the locker room. Jake has been an efficient employee of the club for seven years. He has given a number of the club a couple of youngsters and he has gone into one of the essential employments. Like others he has felt the pinch of living and his new employment will make things a bit easier.

COST ACCOUNTING WINDS UP SEASON

The Cost Accounting nine from the League Island Navy Yard wound up its remarkably successful season in a halo of glory on Saturday night, when the hundred and some members of the Cost Accounting Athletic Association gathered together at Kugler's to do honor to their stalwart comrades in the service who were instrumental in providing additional athletic prestige for their department.

The banquet was the first one held under the auspices of the association, and the chairman, Lieutenant H. S. Peck, acted very capably as toastmaster. Commander D. M. Addison was the chief guest of the evening.

Then came Manager Balfour and Captain Harry Peitz, who so cleverly arranged the affair; the members of the team, Publicity Manager Dubois and Secretary-Treasurer McKnight, of the association, all of whom were present.

Local Soccer Player Dead It was reported yesterday that James Kelly, who formerly played for Victor, Jr., of the Great Lakes Training Station, had died of a heart attack.
