

GERMANS JOIN REDS ON VOLGA

Capture of Kazan by Re-enforced Soviet Army Is Reported

MASSING FOR DRIVE

While Teutons Plan Campaign in East Terrorism Sweeps Russia

By the United Press

London, Sept. 18.—German regulars have joined the Bolshevik troops along the Volga River, according to a dispatch received from Vladivostok today. It is believed that a serious operation is pending.

Bolshevik troops have recaptured Kazan, according to dispatches today from Peking. Siberian troops are retiring in good order, it was stated. (Kazan was reported several days ago to have fallen to the Siberian troops.)

Amsterdam reports that General Alexeeff has taken the offensive against the Bolsheviks near Blagoveshensk. His forces consist of a number of Cossacks and strong detachments of White Guards.

Marian and Joseph Lutostawski, brothers, prominent Polish patriots, have been executed for participation in a revolution against the Bolsheviks, according to Moscow dispatches received via Stockholm today.

REIGN OF TERROR SWEEPING RUSSIA

Washington, Sept. 18.—A real reign of terror has been instituted in Bolshevik Russia by a telegram received by the State Department through a neutral country. Lives of Allied nationals are in the greatest peril. The condition of the Russian themselves is indescribably worse. Some observers are felt here for the safety of Acting Consul General Pooler, at Moscow, who is "detained" by the Bolsheviks. The State Department declines to discuss the fate of Mr. Pooler, actually in under arrest.

FOE'S SOLDIERS WANT PEACE Captives Downcast When Americans Say War Will Continue

By the Associated Press With the American Army on the Lorraine Front, Sept. 18.—German and Austrian prisoners in the recent advance by the Americans in this sector displayed great interest when they learned of the American peace suggestion when they were taken to the camps where they were held after their capture. They made an effort to cheer and their discouragement when assured by the American soldiers that peace is a long way off unless Germany is willing to admit she is beaten.

GERMAN RESERVES RUSHED TO AMERICAN ARMY FRONT

Discloses the interesting fact that when the German regiments were ordered to get out of the salient in expectation of the American attack no such order was given to the Austrians, and when the Americans attacked south of Fresnes the Austrians put up the only fight in the whole salient.

An Austrian regimental commander said that repeated requests sent to the Germans for more ammunition brought no reply.

That the Germans did not have such advance information about the American attack as Hindenburg claims is indicated by a captured order dated September 9, which said that reports of an American attack on this front had not been confirmed and need not be taken seriously.

Our attack came three days later and our engineer officers who combed out the salient tell me that plenty of evidence was found to show that the Germans left in the greatest haste. Valuable maps and documents were left behind, as well as the precious possession of officers and much food in the officers' messes.

Another order said that the Americans were to be taken seriously so far as small efforts went, but were not yet capable of anything on a large scale.

In Essex, one of the towns that we captured, the German general quartermaster had a mess hall fitted out with fine furniture, a hotel range, fine china and silverware, all of which was left behind.

The officers of the staff had individual coffee cups, with an iron cross and pictures of the Kaiser and Hindenburg on them. There is another pamphlet even more significant than this, in which Germans are quoted as saying "What does it matter whether I am German or English so I get bread?" And it goes on to say that there are many things which should be dearer to Germans than the love of bread, one being love of the Kaiser and the country.

The Germans have their staffs, These are bought and passed in books much as in America. The book is adorned with a picture of two German soldiers holding aloft the Kaiser's crown before a glowing sun of stars.

The shortage of paper in Germany is not substantiated in the discovery that three divisions while in the St. Mihiel salient punished their own newspapers. The material was furnished largely from Berlin, giving address of German successes and of terrible conditions in Allied countries. England and France were represented as starving.

Italy went out, and America filled with fruit riots. One long story admits that Yankee gold has been able to sow discord among the German workers.

The captured documents, to be later show that the German intelligence divisions in France, and many other American secret order which was printed and distributed broadcast.

They had very good information as to the time of arrival of American divisions in France, and have them classified as to ability much as I would class them after having seen all their fighting. One division, which already has made itself famous, is classified as dangerous and to be watched most closely.

Some of the documents show that in the last three months the German command has disbanded 108 infantry battalions to fill up depleted tanks.

DOUBLE-CROSS LENINE

Teutons Tricked Bolsheviki Heads Who Sold Out Own Government

Washington, Sept. 18.

Following is the fourth installment of the revelations of the relation of Lenin and Trotsky to the capture of Russia.

"Germany made its Russian peace with its own puppet government, the Provisional Council of People's Commissars, the president of which is Vladimir (Lenin), the foreign minister of which was Leon Trotsky, and the ambassador of which to Germany is A. Joffe. Germany made this peace harder upon the Russian people as punishment of the ambition of its tools in seeking to become too powerful and in hoping for a little while not only that Russia would be delivered over to them, but that they could double-cross their masters by turning a simulated German revolution into a real one."

"But their perfidy was a tax in the hands of youth German force Germany was actually double-crossing them by negotiating with the Ukrainian Cossack army which they dreamed they were tricking Germany."

Germany, however, did not discard the Bolsheviki leaders, recognizing their further use in the German world campaign for internal disorganization in the nations with which it wars, but confined them to the limited inland provinces which Great Russia proper has now become.

"Lenin, according to statements made public as soon as Trotsky's spectacular device of 'No peace—no war' failed, always was for peace on any German terms. He dominated the situation thereafter and controlled everything that Germany asked. Nor did Trotsky cease to continue to obey the German orders delivered to him both by General Hoffmann, at Brest-Litovsk and at Petrograd, directly by the Russian division of the German general staff, which was seated in Petrograd itself from November, and which was still there in full operation when it left Monday, March 4, the day that Petrograd received notification that peace had been signed at Brest-Litovsk by the Russian and German delegations."

Trotsky, therefore, was rightly under the accusation of having started his theatrical scene as a climax to the Russian disorganization desired by Germany. The actual order he gave was for the immediate demobilization of the Russian army, leaving the German army unopposed.

You Can't Eat Meat 100 Miles Away

Preparing meat is only a part of Swift & Company's usefulness. The finest meat in the world wouldn't do you any good one hundred miles away from your table. Swift & Company efficiency has made it possible to place complete lines of products in the smallest and most remote communities. To be sure the work is done well Swift & Company, through its branch houses and car routes, brings the meat to the retail dealer for you. Swift & Company lays out car routes covering towns—big, little, medium size—which are not served by a Swift branch house. Salesmen find out in advance what is wanted by the dealers in every town. They are followed by refrigerator cars loaded with retailers' orders, which are delivered at each town—fresh, clean, and sweet—once or twice each week. Swift & Company operates a large number of car routes like this, from fourteen distributing plants. This is a necessary and natural part of the packer's usefulness. It fits into the industry in an orderly, effective way. It makes better meat cheaper from one end of the land to the other.
