CAMP LEE STARTS LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE Two Thousand Men Await Transfer—Realistic Gas Attack at Night

Special Dispatch to the Evening Public Ledger Camp Lee, Va., Oct. 1. A Liberty Loan campaign is in progress here under the general direction of Major King, camp intelligence officer, an officer from each battalion looking after subscriptions in his battalion. There is to be no attempt at compulsion. Many thousands of voluntary subscriptions are looked for. These will go to company commanders and then be turned over to the officer of each battalion designated to look after this work. There are approximately 2000 men in the casual detachment of the 15th Depot Brigade who are awaiting transfers to other posts on the War Department orders as soon as the quarantine for the Spanish influenza is lifted. This detachment is composed of the best and most highly trained men of any unit in the camp. The detachment is composed of railroaders, specialists and experts in engineering, electrical, civil and other trades; firemen, boiler-makers and others with trades which are vitally necessary to the Government for the successful continuation of the war. Many men prominent in civil life before entering the army are members of this detachment. These include, besides men with trades, aeronauts, ballisticians, doctors, linguists and lawyers.

At an idea of real warfare was given to the members of the third battalion of the central officers' training school while going through the camp, as they entered the woods shortly after 9 o'clock and did not emerge until nearly 11 o'clock. Real warfare tactics were employed, giant blowers being used to represent cannons, lights were shot into the air to show the road to the advancing army and for signaling, and white smoke and sulphur bombs were used in an effort to disrupt the organization on its march through the woods. The men underwent a severe gas test and were forced to keep their masks on while going through the woods, as gas was used in abundance. The attack was witnessed by an observation party composed of Lieutenants Colonel Lowe and his staff of officers from the central officers' training school, and Lieutenant Saunders, the British army gas officer, who arranged the event.

At one of the schools 2000 pupils in good working condition are able to fill a barrel a day. They find this aspect of the war positively charming; never perhaps in the history of the nation has so much charcoal been produced in such amazing quantities. The Government published its request to date three weeks ago. To date the total amount of charcoal produced is 200,000 tons. At the time when the first red, white and blue barrel was placed outside the first building it was feared that the collection would not prove successful, since the peach season was so nearly over.

When there are no more peaches the collection of coconut shells and prunes started, will continue throughout the winter. These can be used for the same purpose as the peaches. Ladies' Day at Trenton Fair Thruvis Visit Exhibits of Interest to Jersey Housewives

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 1.—Today is "Ladies' Day" at the Interstate Fair and women from all parts of New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania were in attendance. The buildings containing the domestic art departments were crowded. Among the new inventions shown in the agriculture department are tractors and actual housing demonstrations. The poultry show is fifty per cent larger than last year. A little family of ten birds was born yesterday on Trenton grounds. The war garden display shows how the public is assisting the Government in the war effort. The Liberty Loan workers have five booths, Mrs. O. L. Chiphant announces that some of the exhibitors will be addresses. Sergeant Gardner Cooper, who has just returned from France, will be the speaker Thursday. The local chapter of the Red Cross and the national organization will be represented in No. 2 building. One of the features in connection with the free exhibit offered by the United States Government is the food administration exhibit. The exhibit is located under the grandstand. Tomorrow will be Farmers' Day at the fair and Thursday "Politicians' Day."

Dependent Woman Ends Life Mrs. Barbara Kohn committed suicide today by inhaling gas through a rubber hose in the kitchen of her home, 1748 North Waterloo street. Dependency over ill health following an operation is believed to have been the cause. The body was found by a daughter, Miss Mary Kohn. Mrs. Kohn was forty-eight years old. Her husband, Thomas Kohn, and five grown children survive.

10 YEARS FOR REFUSAL TO WASH DIX DISHES Officers to Take Full Control of Goods Knitted by Red Cross

Special Dispatch to the Evening Public Ledger Wrightstown, N. J., Oct. 1.—Showing his dislike for washing dishes by refusing to obey a command of his superior officer, to do such work, has proved costly for Private Peter Dillmore, of Jersey City, a member of Company Twenty, Fifth Battalion. A court-martial board sentenced him to spend ten years at Fort Jay, N. Y., and then to be dishonorably discharged from the service. The board also ordered that he be sent to his home before embarking for overseas, attention has again been called by camp headquarters to the orders in force here which instruct unit commanders to cause an inventory to be taken at once of all articles of wearing apparel issued to the companies or the individual members of the companies. Unless the "dix" quarantine prevents this, it is probable that these inventories will be held up until after the return of Secretary of War Baker who has been in France and England. It is noted that Colonel Stinson will be among the new brigadiers to be nominated by President Wilson. If this is done it is likely he will be retained here. Unless the "dix" quarantine prevents this, it will be a contest to select the eleven best "dix" players in the camp. Secretary Brooks Shuckley, in charge of the contest, has urged the young men's Christian association, has charge of the contest. It will be held in the amphitheater in the C-D block of the big wooden city and the contest will be open to all dioxite in camp and a medal will be awarded to the winner. Secretary Shuckley would like to hear from those who desire to enter the contest.

TOBACCO GROWERS JUBILANT Lancaster County 1918 Crop Promises Record Output

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 1.—All tobacco growers having late crops are rejoicing in having properly diagnosed the probability of killing frosts. As a result of leaving their tobacco in the fields to mature, they have secured weight, improved quality and aroma, a better burn and an ideal cure. This will insure the best possible amount going to the buyers in France, as virtually all the factory output in this belt is confined to A, E, F. shipments. Many growers, nervous over possibility of a killing frost, cut their crop several weeks ago, which is now hanging in a stagnant condition, turning out finally into a black, undesirable leaf. About 75 per cent of the crop is now housed and will be ready to ship in a few weeks, growers report. The weight and quality, on the whole, will be splendid. A small acreage still in the fields will be cut during the coming week. Growers in the Lancasterville and Mount Newb sections promise their 1918 crops the finest ever raised. In the Donegal and Mount Joy sections growers expect to get sixteen cents and eight cents for wrappers. Bonafide offers have already been made by big dealers for entire crops at fifteen cents for wrappers.
