PEN AND PENCIL HERE HELP US TO LAUGH A LITTLE AT THE LIGHTER SIDE OF LIFE

Picture of the drill sergeant of his medal he told him he was proud to have fellers like him in army.

Figd.—He must have hen about him bein' a champion milker and wood-chopp. Shows yer that George knows what's goin' on in the world.

Irate Drill Sergeant—Where is the balance of your rifle?
Recruit—This is all they issued me, sir!

-Sydney Bulletin The Housewife-I would not have believed it possible that anybody could get so dirty.

The Heat—I can only advise dogged persistence, lady; dogged per-Bella—When Cissie came to the word "obey" in the marriage service she stuttered. Stella—Well, she might just as well break her word then as later.

Mary had a little lamb—which was such an unusual thing during the meat shortage that it blocked traffic.

Soapy Sam—Worder wot it feels like having more money than yer know what to do with?
Dirty Sam—Wy, I 'ad the sensation meself larst night.
S. S.—Wot d'yer mean?
D. S.—Bloke gimme # tanner after closing time.

"My wife asked me to buy her something or other here, but I've lost my memorandum. Would you mind running over the names of a few things?"

