GHT ON WILSON
Republican Chief Indicts
President for Appeal to Voters

MUST ANSWER AT POLLS

Executive Accused of Wanting Unlimited Power in Both War and Peace

New York, Oct. 28.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, made public here tonight a statement in which he repudiated the appeal to voters by President Wilson to stand for that? Answer with your votes.

Called Unjust and Wanton

"At no time and in no way have we tried to take control of the war," said Hays. "The President knows that. The country knows it. You know it. A more unscrupulous, more unjust, more wanton, more reckless stomp orator, much less by a President of the United States, for national purposes, it is an insult, not only to every loyal Republican in Congress, but to every loyal Republican in the land."

Wants Unlimited Power

"But Mr. Wilson's real purpose has nothing to do with the conduct of the war. He had and from the beginning has now and nobody dreams of interfering with, his control. He wants just two things. One is full power to settle the war precisely as he and his sole, unselected, unappointed, unconfirmed personal adviser may determine. The other is full power as the 'unembarrassed' spokesman in all matters as he actually demands in his statement, to reconstruct in peace times the great industrial affairs of the nation in the same way, in unimpeded conformity with whatever socialistic doctrine, whatever unlimited government ownership, whatever heavy whims may happen to possess him at the time, but first and above all with absolute commitment to free trade with all the world, thus giving to Germany out of hand the fruits of a victory greater than she would win by fighting 100 years. A Republican Congress will never assent to this. Do you want a Congress that will do this?"

Germany Looks to Wilson

"Germany looks to Mr. Wilson to get her, as he pledged himself to do, one of the few of his famous articles which is explicable. Germany understands that. See the New York Herald's forecast of the Administration's attitude Saturday, and read the testimony of Mr. C. Emery, former head of the War Commission, just returned from Germany. 'The Allies,' he says, 'seemed to be in President Wilson lay their hands on the peace which shall be the economic development.' He says that the Allies demand that the Government pay the full penalty of their course than nonsense then is a dramatic campaign cry that the Allies demand unconditional surrender and the workingmen, instead of a peace Congress ready to assent to a peace and free trade, would go to Germany. Such claims are unpatriotic. They are as unpatriotic as the responsibility which we claim that our Allies would be by the election of such a Republican Congress in the face of the Allies' readiness to accept peace and in the face of the Allies' readiness in the Paris cable to accept peace."

of in France today as are the American generals. "Mr. Wilson forces the Republican party to the down or fight. I say fight. Answer with your votes. "Mr. Wilson is for unconditional surrender—yes, for the unconditional surrender to himself of the Republican party, of the country, of the Allies; all to him, as the sole arbiter and master of the destinies of the world. Do you stand for that? Answer with your votes."

"The war is a democratic asset," shouted Vice President Marshall. And they have made every effort to make it so, despite the earnest Republican insistence that we have no contest as to anything that touches the war except that contest as to who best can serve, who most can give. Republicans have insisted that with the great war lead to haul both political horses should be harnessed, each striving to see which can pull the harder. Mr. Wilson's appeal is simply the supreme effort of the Democratic high command to capitalize for partisan political purposes the glorious spirit of patriotism that inspires this country. He now openly speaks as his party, but he secretly acts for months. And he changes nothing—neither the facts nor the Democratic political methods nor the certainty of Republican success.

This is a call to all loyal Republicans, proud in their nationhood, to stand by their country and their candidates, and to let the world know that America spurs patriotism no less at home than abroad, and will uphold her allies in whatever reparation they may exact for the frightful outrages inflicted upon them by the aggressor. We are fighting in France to make certain forever that men may have the right to govern themselves. Here, where we have that right, we shall exercise it. America was created for that very privilege. "America will not be denied its vote. "America will answer with her vote."

CUMMINGS SAYS
RING IS TRYING TO GAIN CONTROL

Secretary McAdoo Appeals for Unified Support of the President

Washington, Oct. 28.—Homer S. Cummings, acting chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in a statement issued last night, charged, in effect, that "an insidious attempt is being made by self-interests of the nation to get control of the Government through the election of a Republican Congress."

"As the campaign progresses," said Mr. Cummings, "the purpose of the selfish and reactionary interests of America becomes more and more apparent. These interests distrust and fear the President and have no sympathy with the progressive measures which have been enacted under his leadership. They seek to bring the machinery of the Government through the agency of the Republican party into the hands of those who are not patriotic and do not intend to follow the leadership of President Wilson, not only for the purpose of winning the war and securing an enduring peace, but for the purpose of thwarting the hidden forces which are seeking to destroy him."

"The Democratic National Union, of Philadelphia, was singled out for special attack by the Democratic National Committee in a statement issued in connection with Mr. Cummings's assertion. The statement said: 'Supporting the appeal of President Wilson for the election of a Democratic Senate and House, Secretary McAdoo today authorized the following statement: 'Before America entered the war the Allies had suffered repeated reverses because there was no unity of command. They were divided among themselves in authority. The first act of the President was to compel a unity of command under General Foch. Ever since that time America and her allies have been winning victories and a triumphant conclusion of the war is in sight as long as unity of command and of action is preserved.' 'Unity of command in Europe must be backed up with unity of command and action in America. The President, who is commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, must not have the authority divided in the United States between the Congress on the one hand and himself on the other. We must preserve the unity of America if we are to maintain victories on the front and gain the kind of peace for which America fights. 'The President repudiated a telegram from the Cuyahoga County Republican Committee of Cleveland, O., disagreeing with the President's statement saying that the election of a Republican House will be misunderstood overseas. Mr. Tammaly said, in part: 'I beg to call your attention to a statement made by a former president in 1898, during the Spanish-American War, when at the time the statement was made was a candidate for Governor of New York. He said: 'Remember that whether you will or not, your votes this year will be viewed by the nations of Europe from one standpoint only. They will judge the fine distinctions of a refusal to sustain the President this year will, in their eyes, be read as a refusal to sustain the war and to sustain the efforts of our Peace Commission to secure the fruits of war. Such a refusal may not immediately bring about a rupture of the peace negotiations. It will give heart to our defeated antagonists; it will make possible the interference of those doubtful neutral nations who in this struggle have wished us ill. 'You could have got the benefits of the victories of Grant and Sherman only by re-electing Lincoln and we gain less than we ought from the war if the Administration is not sustained at these elections.'" of the present fifty-two seats now held by the Democrats being regarded as certain. It concedes forty-four seats to the Republicans, leaving six as doubtful.

Admission of the testimony of Inadore, a witness who testified at the trial, attempts to induce Mayor Smith to stop the Fifth Ward lawlessness is objected to, as well as testimony concerning alleged telephone conversations between Senator Sprout and the Val O'Farrell Detective Agency, and Select Councilman William E. Finley.

It was a mistake, according to Mr. Gray, to compel Magistrate Porsch to testify. Judge Haue's refusal to permit Mr. Gray to go into Malone's past activities is attacked as creditable, and a witness was also sworn, according to counsel.

Mr. Gray also contends that the testimony of "Little Nick Ritz," who testified in handling the Fifth Ward gunmen, and Lieutenant Wood's recital of his orders from Captain Tate should not have been admitted.

It is also alleged in the petition that should not have been permitted to cross examine witnesses who appeared to have been tampered with.

The conviction of the defendants grew out of the Fifth Ward primary election fight of September 19, 1917, during which Acting Detective George A. Enpley was killed and James A. Carey, mercantile appraiser, was assaulted.

PHILADELPHIA WOMEN
SEEK JERSEY VOTES

Suffragists Start Campaign to Beat David Baird for U. S. Senate

Half a dozen automobiles filled with Philadelphia suffragists and literature asking the election of Charles O'Connor Hennessy to the United States Senate for the short term started on their tour of southern New Jersey today. Suffrage leaders from New York, Baltimore and nearby cities joined the ranks for a hot campaign in Atlantic City and Camden during the next week.

Mrs. J. A. H. Hopkins, of Morristown, is in charge of the women's campaign to beat David Baird and elect the man who stands for suffrage, and she is directing the maneuvers from Newark. Miss Ruth Small, of Massachusetts, is in charge of operations in Camden and nearby towns, and it is under her supervision that the Philadelphia women are working. Miss Caroline Katsenrein, secretary of the Philadelphia National Woman's party; Miss Marjorie Davis, Miss Small and Miss Marie Ernest Kenney made their second campaign trip Saturday in Mrs. Kenney's car, visiting Camden, Haddonfield, Laurel Springs, Berlin, Clementon, Blackwood and Mount Ephraim.

Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles, of Wilmington, daughter of Thomas F. Bayard, Secretary of State under Cleveland, and Mrs. Helena Hill Wood, of Connecticut, daughter of the late Congressman Hill, of that State, will be in Camden tonight to conduct rallies.

Wherever the suffrage cars go they attract attention. Their conspicuous slogans and banners create interest, and from stores and homes men and women come out to see what it is all about.

"We'll vote against 'boose' all right, after the demonstrations we've had in Camden and Gloucester," was a frequent comment in every town.

As the ban against public meetings was still on, the women made no attempt at speeches, though they often stopped to explain the situation to interested individuals along the way. They hailed passersby and offered them literature.

Prominent Lehigh Democrat Dead

Allentown, Pa., Oct. 28.—Jewell E. Erney, thirty-four years old, private secretary to Jonathan E. Frederick, Democratic county chairman, died suddenly following a bronchitis. Mr. Erney was a member of a family which for generations has been active in Democratic politics in Lehigh County. He leaves a widow and one son.

Breeder of Antagonism

"The experiences of the past among nations have taught us that the attempt by one to punish another by exclusive and discriminatory trade agreements has been a prolific breeder of that kind of antagonism which oftentimes result in war, and that if a permanent peace is to be established among nations, every obstacle that has stood in the way of international friendship should be cast aside."

"Let us with that fundamental purpose in mind that I announced this principle in my address of January 8. To pervert this great principle for partisan play to threaten these men with political extinction. He could not if he would, and he would not if he could. "Does the sequel of the frightened boss mean that he proposes to the liquor dealers to betray their own interests, and that in return he will break his pledge to Bishop Berry and influence Senator Sprout to do the same? Senator Sprout will keep his pledges. Senator Sprout, if elected, will make Pennsylvania dry. "The day of my election as Governor marks the end of the Vares! There will be no legislator in Pennsylvania so lacking in self-respect as to take their orders. The Legislature while I am exclusive will receive due consideration. The voters of Pennsylvania can rest assured that the legislation which the Governor invites will be cheerfully granted. There will be no adoption of prohibition. "Favors Dismissing Smith "The people of Philadelphia—bankrupted by the outrageous mismanagement of this Vares organization, ridden by pestilence due to the shameful abuse of their contracts, blood-stained by their wanton misuse of the police—must either elect me or submit to four years more of this shameless misrule. The redemption of Philadelphia is at hand. I pledge my fellow citizens that I shall require of the General Assembly legislation immediately dismissing the incapable Smith, authorizing an administrator ad interim and providing for the installation of a commission in conjunction with a limited councilmanic body. "When my personal, political or official acts are publicly criticized by any person of real standing in this community, I will make prompt reply. A proper regard for the dignity of my position, however, demands that I pay no attention to political attacks of irresponsible persons." Senator Vares says: "I am busy as I can be, and will be until the polls close, to elect Senator Sprout and the entire Republican ticket by a large majority. I will not dignify Bonniwell with an answer. His every move shows that he is too small to be Governor of Pennsylvania." The saloonkeepers say: "We are for Bonniwell and will not him over."

Wilson & Co. FOOD PRODUCTS Quality Respect Carefulness Fairness Organ-ization Service Equipment Confidence Reputation

A good reputation is as vital to a business as to an individual

ANY successful business rests upon the good name it has with the public. Any business that endures must reflect the personality of its management which must be answerable to the public. The policy of Wilson & Co. from its inception has been to conduct its business on golden rule principles. There is a moral as well as a financial responsibility connected with the preparation of food products. The public is rightfully critical, and a company such as ours must at all times keep this moral responsibility in mind. Unless this is done there can be no permanent success. Our good name rests upon public opinion—upon your opinion. You form your opinion of this company and its products by the satisfaction you get from the products themselves. It is your right to know that your confidence in our good name and your dependence upon the Wilson label will always be appreciated to the fullest extent

The Wilson Label Protects Your Table

We adopted the above "slogan" because it tells in six words the full meaning of the Wilson W-shaped label. Too much importance cannot be attached to the value of a distinctive label to the consumer. It is a simple, sure means of identification. It guides the purchaser. It puts the manufacturer on record, to stand or fall on the quality of his products. The consumer will either accept or reject by the label, as he or she comes to know labels and their value. When you buy meats or other food products bearing our label you are certainly entitled to know that you are being treated fairly and squarely and that the goods you buy are what we have led you to expect them to be. The Wilson label is the symbol of our good name. It is our guarantee to you personally that Wilson products are clean, pure and wholesome and that these standards will be maintained. It is the keystone of our reputation—the finishing touch to every Wilson product. Whenever and wherever you buy anything bearing the Wilson label you may absolutely depend upon the wholesomeness and purity of that meat or food product. The Wilson label is our pledge and promise to you that Wilson products are selected, handled and prepared with respect equal to that shown by your own mother when she prepares the favorite dish for the family. It is our duty—in your interest as well as ours—to see to it that the meaning of the Wilson label is always the same.
