

HEALTH AUTHORITIES MAKE COLLEGE CHEER LEADERS THE "GOAT"

Yelling Blows Germs Around, Makes Throat Sore and Leaves Offenders Susceptible to Influenza—Thus Lid Is Nailed on Football in West

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL, Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger

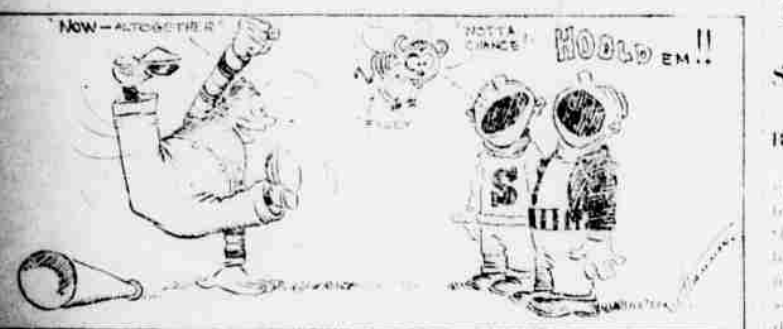

FOOTBALL has developed many great men, but no one has ever had the biography of a cheer leader. That brave guy who stands before the crowded grand stand and leads the loyal students to join their voices with a "Hold 'em!" when the goal line is threatened or joyfully count the score...

Here is the sad story, and if you have tears, prepare to shed them now. The flu epidemic had a visit to Chicago and the health authorities closed up the town...

ONLY one thing can be done. Cheer leaders could be used with deadly effect against the flu, but it would be a violation of the rules of civilized warfare.

Pitt Is Doing Lion's Share of the Benefit Work

WHEN the sports committee decided to hold championship football games for the benefit of the $170,000,000 "struck-out" fund, the best attractions only were considered. Two contests were arranged and the University of Pittsburgh appears in both...

Warner is a foxy coach. For years he has been one jump ahead of the field and discovered more new plays than all of the other football tutors put together.

It was Warner who introduced the spreading start in the backfield which now is universally used. In the older days the backfield men used to stand up, with hands on their knees, before the ball was snapped.

Another innovation was the famous "reverse play" which also is almost considered. After all of the coaches had discarded the old, moss-covered cross-roads, Warner resurrected it, made some improvements and sprang it on Harvard.

Canceling of Schedule Blow to By Dickson. THE calling off of the Marines' football schedule deprives Philadelphia of a good eleven and prevents By Dickson from demonstrating his ability as a high-class football coach.

Dickson is a good football coach, and proved it at Bucknell, Penn and Ohio High School. He never worked so hard, however, as this year, when he took charge of the sea-soldiers and selected a team from the husky men in uniform.

Tom Keady Has Real Football Problem. HERE'S a problem in mathematics," said Tom Keady, as he stood on the sidelines last Saturday and watched his Lehigh team finish off the Rutgers.

NO TAKING off his coat, the candidate solved the square, and was heard hard knocks, but stuck to it. He leaveded rapidly and was heard substitute when football was called off.

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELIN'?

TRAVERS EXPERT ON RUN-UP SHOT

John C. Anderson Considers Him the Best Exponent of Stroke in Country. STOPUM CLUB THE BEST

By CHARLES CHICK EVANS, JR. The run-up shot from ten to thirty yards off the green is a very important and frequently neglected stroke. It was the specialty of the particular shot, I believe, that lifted Jerome Travers to prominence in the game.

Another innovation was the famous "reverse play" which also is almost considered. After all of the coaches had discarded the old, moss-covered cross-roads, Warner resurrected it, made some improvements and sprang it on Harvard.
