

PHILADELPHIANS STAVE OFF RUSH OF 14,000 GERMANS

of "Iron Division" Brings From War Zone Thrilling Tale of Yankee Heroism by Two Companies of Old "First Pennsylvania"

The real story of how two companies of American soldiers, members of the famous 10th Infantry, formerly the First of Philadelphia, staved off the rush of 14,000 Germans across the Marne at Chateau Thierry early in July has just reached this city. This tale of typical Yankee heroism was narrated by an officer of the "Iron Division," who has just returned from the war zone.

PHILADELPHIA SOLDIERS WOUNDED ON BATTLEFIELDS OF FRANCE

At Camp Meade and attached to the 31st Infantry, one of the units ordered to be drafted from this city and State. The young officer is prominent socially along the Main Line. He is a member of the Merion Cricket Club and is a fine all-around athlete. He is a leading member of the Philadelphia bar.

Sketches of the Heroes

Private Arthur W. Trainer, wounded in action on August 21, makes no mention of having been drafted in several letters to his mother. He is a young man of 21, a member of the Philadelphia bar, and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Private James Ennis, wounded by a shell fragment in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Private Joseph Metzger, wounded in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Private John Costa, wounded in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Private James E. McHugh, wounded in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Private Anthony Giampietro, wounded in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Lieutenant Alexander H. Latta, son of Street Sergeant Samuel H. Latta, of the Thirty-second, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

War Department insists this officer is dead. The department has not received any word from the lieutenant since he was killed in action on August 21.

The Editor goes to France. Howard Wheeler, Editor of Everybody's, who went to Europe last year and landed the biggest story of the war—Brand Whitlock's—now running in Everybody's—again bound for France. He will establish headquarters in London, with able assistants and leaders of today as contributors.

Everybody's Magazine believes the impending climax of the war is so momentous to be edited in the farthest shore of an ocean. Therefore prepared to "cover" the war events right on the spot. So read Everybody's may look to features of unusual interest.

INScribed IN FREEDOM'S HALL OF FAME

A. GIAMPIETRO - Wounded, H.S. SMITH - Wounded, J.J. McHUGH - Wounded, CORR. J. BASKIN - Wounded, JAMES ENNIS - Wounded, J.F. DUNN - Wounded

A.W. TRAINER - Wounded, L.R. CRAIG - Wounded, JOHN S. COSTA - Wounded, J.F. WANSOM - Killed

organization composed of young men living in the southeastern section of the city. Nearly fifty of the members have enlisted in the 10th Infantry. One of the members, a young man named A. Giampietro, was wounded in the head by a shell fragment in the head. He was drafted in May of this year.

Private Joseph Metzger, wounded in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Private John Costa, wounded in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Private James E. McHugh, wounded in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Private Anthony Giampietro, wounded in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Lieutenant Alexander H. Latta, son of Street Sergeant Samuel H. Latta, of the Thirty-second, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

War Department insists this officer is dead. The department has not received any word from the lieutenant since he was killed in action on August 21.

The Editor goes to France. Howard Wheeler, Editor of Everybody's, who went to Europe last year and landed the biggest story of the war—Brand Whitlock's—now running in Everybody's—again bound for France.

Everybody's Magazine believes the impending climax of the war is so momentous to be edited in the farthest shore of an ocean. Therefore prepared to "cover" the war events right on the spot.

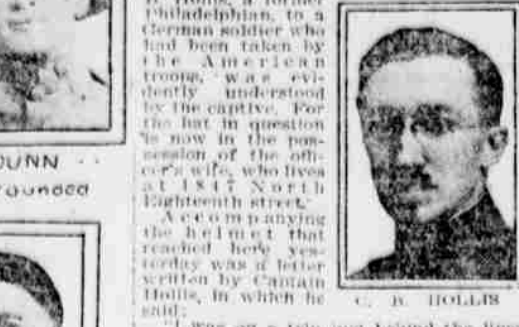

So read Everybody's may look to features of unusual interest.

So read Everybody's may look to features of unusual interest.

So read Everybody's may look to features of unusual interest.

BOCHE UNDERSTOOD REQUEST FINDS KISSES WORST OF WAR

Phila. Captain Asks for Helmet in German and Gets It. "Gib mir deinen Hut" (Give me your hat). This request, made just behind the battlements in France by Captain Charles H. Hollis, a former Philadelphia Philadelphian, to a German soldier who had been taken by the A. E. F. in a trench in France, was an evidently understood by the captive, but he was in question to now in the possession of the officer's hat, who lives at 184 North Eighth street.

C. H. HOLLIS

I was on a trip just behind the lines when I saw some prisoners just being brought in by our men. I asked the lieutenant in charge to get me one of their hats but he told me he could not find them. I asked him to get me one if I could. I told him I could not find any that I wanted.

C. R. CALHOUN, U. S. N., KILLED

Lieutenant Commander Charles Raymond Calhoun, U. S. N., R. P., died October 21 in a hospital in France as the result of an accident, and was buried there. A telegram containing this information has been received from the War Department by Mrs. Calhoun, whose home is at 1112 East Columbia avenue. No details of the casualty were given. At the time the naval officer was in command of the steamship Felix Tanguer, which sailed from this port for France on September 18. He received his commission in the naval reserve on September 2 last, and this was his first voyage overseas as a lieutenant commander.

Private James E. McHugh, wounded in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Private Anthony Giampietro, wounded in the head, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

Lieutenant Alexander H. Latta, son of Street Sergeant Samuel H. Latta, of the Thirty-second, was drafted in May of this year. He is a member of the Philadelphia bar and a member of the Merion Cricket Club.

War Department insists this officer is dead. The department has not received any word from the lieutenant since he was killed in action on August 21.

The Editor goes to France. Howard Wheeler, Editor of Everybody's, who went to Europe last year and landed the biggest story of the war—Brand Whitlock's—now running in Everybody's—again bound for France.

Everybody's Magazine believes the impending climax of the war is so momentous to be edited in the farthest shore of an ocean. Therefore prepared to "cover" the war events right on the spot.

So read Everybody's may look to features of unusual interest.

So read Everybody's may look to features of unusual interest.

So read Everybody's may look to features of unusual interest.

So read Everybody's may look to features of unusual interest.

So read Everybody's may look to features of unusual interest.

Philadelphia Ship Reported Lost

The motor-equipped wooden ship Ethel of the American Manganese Manufacturing Company, with offices in the Public Building, has been lost off Cuba, according to word received by E. E. Marshall, president of the company. The crew is safe. The ship carried 1100 tons of manganese ore from Santiago.

In keeping with the growing demand, we have replenished our stock with a varied assortment of appropriate black-enameled jewelry. Among the many serviceable articles are 14-kt. gold handy pins, neatly enameled in black of dull effect—per pair—$4.

S. Kind & Sons, 1110 Chestnut St. DIAMOND, MEED-HANTS—JEWELERS—SILVERSMITHS Business Hours Nine Until Five-Thirty

Hirsch's 923 MARKET STREET Share In Our Big Sample Sale Coats & Suits & Dresses At Positive Savings of One-Third and More! THE entire sample stocks from last season... Just for Friday Women's $2.00 Jap Silk, Lace & Voile Waists, $1.00 Women's $1.25 Voile WAISTS, 75c Women's $3 Cloth SKIRTS, $1.69 $1.00 Pink Envelope Chemise, 69c $2 & $3 House Dresses, $1.00 Women's 59c Bandos or Brassieres, 30c Clearance! Soiled Waists, 25c IN OUR BASEMENT FOR FRIDAY SPECIALS Women's and Misses' $16.50 NEW SERGE SUITS, $9.98 Women's Newest Serge Dresses, $4.75 Women's Fur Collar Coats at $13.75 Women's $12.50 Satin & Serge Dresses at $7.98 Girls' Chambray DRESSES, 47c Infants' 50c Dresses, Sacques or Petticoats, 25c ea. Girls' Winter COATS, $8.69

Hallahan's GOOD SHOES "Triumph" Shoe For Men Genuine $7.50 Value 6.00 Twenty good styles in cordo-tans, black and mahogany calf, with extra-weight, Goodyear welted, service soles, and guaranteed to give you thorough satisfaction. Come take a look at them. Men's Genuine Cordovan Shoes 7.95 Rich brown cordovan, with extra heavy welted sole. Regular $10.00 Value

1919-921 Market St. 60th and Chestnut Sts. 2746-48 Germantown Ave. 4028-30 Lancaster Ave. 5694-06 Germantown Ave. 100% Patriotism Continues at Hallahan's

ATTENTION! Cooks, Bakers, Kitchen Men The Men Who Are Working on the Ships at Hog Island Must Be Fed Will you help feed them? We want first-class experienced white bakers, cooks and kitchen men. Excellent wages at advanced rates and in the best kitchens in the country to work in. Will you help to feed the boys who are building the bridge of ships to France? Come, do your bit in your own line of work. You Are Needed at Once, Not Tomorrow Apply United States Employment Service 300 WALNUT STREET (See Mr. Scull) DO NOT APPLY AT HOG ISLAND

12 Good Healthy Male Cooks Wanted Apply Sergeant Stoner Motor Transport Corps, 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. Recruiting Office, Courtyard, City Hall, Philadelphia Uncle Sam's Gas Hounds Must Have Good Food Immediate Service Overseas Get on the Truck and Trailer Kitchens Before the War Is Over Space Donated by Troy Trailer Company, Philadelphia

To Users of Electricity in Philadelphia THE return to Sun time means the overlapping of already heavy lighting and power loads between the hours of 4 P. M. and 7 P. M.—the peak of the demand on our generating and distributing system—and a possible shortage of power at that time particularly. The co-operation of every business, every citizen and every household is required in order that war industries depending on this service shall have full consideration during this critical period. Practically speaking, this means eliminating the use of any unnecessary light, motor or heating appliance, particularly between the hours of 4 P. M. and 7 P. M. All customers of The Philadelphia Electric Company who have signed contracts for electric light and power are assured of continuous service in accordance with the terms of their contracts, unless an unforeseen contingency or emergency should arise. If it becomes necessary to restrict the use of power—and to the best of our belief and knowledge at the present time this necessity will not arise—such restrictions will be effective for the shortest possible period of time. A voluntary, intelligently restricted use of electricity on your part for any purpose whatever during the daytime will release capacity for important war work; while the elimination of anything but absolutely the most essential light and power use between the hours of 4 P. M. and 7 P. M. during the coming months will help avoid a serious crisis. If this "voluntary rationing" in the use of electric light and power is followed out by every individual, no matter how small the saving involved, it is hardly probable that official action of a more drastic nature will be necessary. The PHILADELPHIA ELECTRIC COMPANY JOS. B. McCALL, President